

CONSULTATIVE COMMITTEE WITH PARENTS - 12/5/09.

Making Partnership Work

How parents can make a difference in their children's learning

Hosted by Schools Division of the Scottish Government in Partnership with Learning and Teaching Scotland

This conference gives the opportunity for parents to come together to discuss and exchange views on supporting children's learning and find out how schools and Parent Councils can take forward Curriculum for Excellence

SATURDAY 13 JUNE 2009

AIM OF THE DAY

The purpose of this one-day conference is to let parents and Parent Councils know about developments in learning and to encourage them to consider how they can take things forward in relation to their own children, within their own school and community.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

FIONA HYSLOP

Cabinet Secretary for Education and Lifelong Learning

CAROL CRAIG

Centre for Confidence and Well-being

There will be a series of workshops around Curriculum for Excellence and other aspects of parental involvement in schools and children's learning.

Delegates will also be able to share their experiences of Parent Councils and discuss the findings of the survey of parents and Parent Councils which the Cabinet Secretary commissioned after last June's conference. They will also be able to consider the next steps towards a national parent body.

Further details and workshop choices will be sent to delegates once attendance is confirmed.
