Executive summary

On 12 September 2017, Culture and Communities Committee agreed to continue consideration of the report on Locality Improvement Plans. This report provides an update on subsequent amendments made and presents the revised plans for each of the four localities for approval.

Update Report: Locality Improvement Plans – continued from Culture and Communities on 12 September 2017

Update on Amendments

- 1.1 Each of the Locality Improvement Plans covers outcomes relating to the whole locality, together with targeted small areas which experience the greatest levels of inequality.
- 1.2 Whilst recognising that the plans include maps of these areas, text has been added identifying the multi-member wards and community council areas which will be covered through the locality wide element of the proposed activity. It should be noted that community council boundaries are not co-terminus with the locality boundaries and as such may be referenced in more than one plan. The two level approach in the plans, recognises the requirement to tackle inequality and the needs of communities across the whole locality, not just in the target small areas.

For Decision/Action

- 2.1 To approve the North East Locality Improvement Plan as set out in appendix 1;
- 2.2 To approve the North West Locality Improvement Plan as set out in appendix 2;
- 2.3 To approve the South East Locality Improvement Plan as set out in appendix 3;
- 2.4 To approve the South West Locality Improvement Plan as set out in appendix 4;
- 2.5 To note the recommendations in the report of 12 September 2017.

Locality Improvement Plans

Item number	8.1
Report number
Executive/routine	Executive
Wards	All

Executive Summary

Locality Improvement Plans are a legislative requirement of the Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015 and provide a framework for supporting the delivery of improved locality working across the city.

This report provides summary details of the development process and presents the final plan for each of the four Localities for approval.

Locality Improvement Plans

1. Recommendations

It is recommended that the Culture and Communities Committee:

- 1.1 approves the Locality Improvement Plans as set out in appendices 1 to 4;
- 1.2 notes the elected member involvement in the process to date and continued role as the plans are reviewed and developed as detailed in paragraph 3.11;
- 1.3 notes the commitments of the Scottish Fire and Rescue Service and Police Scotland to the Locality Improvement Plans as outlined in paragraphs 3.14 and 3.15;
- 1.4 notes that the Locality Improvement Plans will be subject to separate approval by all partners including NHS Lothian and the Integration Joint Board; and
- 1.5 notes the plans will be subject to the endorsement of the Edinburgh Partnership on 28 September 2017 prior to publication on 1 October 2017.

2. Background

- 2.1 The production of Locality Improvement Plans (LIPs) is a requirement of the Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015. They are a key component of the Council and partners approach to localities working and provide a means of achieving more effective public sector integration and of strengthening the meaningful involvement of communities.
- 2.2 Under the legislation, locality planning is designed to achieve better outcomes for the individuals and communities, both of place and interest, experiencing the greatest inequality, based on an understanding of their needs, circumstances, and aspirations.
- 2.3 The arrangements for the LIP development were agreed by Council in September 2016 and the Edinburgh Partnership in December 2016. The approach aims to build on the work of the Neighbourhood Partnerships (NPs) which have provided the basis for co-ordinating community planning activity at a neighbourhood level since their establishment in 2007. Through the development and delivery of Local Community Plans (LCPs) NPs have provided a mechanism for joint service delivery on the priorities identified by local people and communities. These existing arrangements have informed the localities model and specifically the development approach for the LIP. With the current LCPs covering the period 2014-17, a key area of work has been incorporating outstanding priorities within these plans into the LIPs, to provide continuity and ensure existing commitments are met.

3. Main report

- 3.1 The LIPs aim to achieve better outcomes for those individuals and communities experiencing the greatest inequality through partnership working and the meaningful engagement of citizens and communities. The plans set out the priorities for improving outcomes over a five-year period (2017-22) at locality and small area levels based on community intelligence drawn from a range of sources.
- 3.2 The LIP development followed a phased process. The work was led by a Project Team in each locality. These comprised a range of partners, including the Lead Officers for each of the thematic Locality Partnership Groups, namely: Community Improvement Partnership; Children's Services Management Group; Health and Wellbeing Group; Team around the Place; and Economy and Employability. At a city-wide level the activity was supported by a multi-agency Team to ensure a consistent and co-ordinated approach.
- 3.3 Critical to the development process was the gathering of local intelligence. This included the production of locality and small area profiles, comprising a range of socio-economic and demographic data, and a two-phase engagement programme. This programme was designed to maximise the opportunities for citizens and communities to participate in the process. A variety of methods were used reflecting the diversity of the communities and areas represented. Phase 1 focused on locality wide engagement to identify the issues and priorities for the whole area. Phase 2 was designed to target the small geographic areas, and individuals and communities, experiencing the poorest outcomes.
- 3.4 In Phase 1, the engagement sought to identify and prioritise areas for action in relation to five key themes, reflecting the Partnership Groups, of place; health and social care and wellbeing; children, young people and families; community safety; and employability. The engagement methods used included surveys (on and offline), events and stakeholder workshops. This activity was supported by all partners who were also encouraged to contribute their views based on their knowledge and understanding of the area. Face to face contact was a key feature, including engagement with members of faith communities, the travelling community, children and young people and members of the black and minority ethnic community.
- 3.5 The phase 2 engagement programme was targeted in the small geographic areas which, through an analysis of the Scottish Index of Multiple Deprivation and additional poverty indicators, were identified as experiencing the poorest outcomes. The activity focused on face to face conversations with individuals, service users and service providers to understand better the issues and help identify tailored solutions.

- 3.6 This community intelligence provided the basis for the outcomes and actions set out in the plans included as appendices 1 to 4. An integrated approach will be taken to the delivery, recognising the interdependencies of the thematic outcomes.
- 3.7 Working drafts of the plans were tested with a broad range of stakeholders during August 2017. This included the NPs, Locality Leadership Teams and Locality Committee Working Groups, with feedback from this process informing the final version of the plans.
- 3.8 To support the development process an Integrated Impact Assessment (IIA) was carried out. Through this several positive impacts were identified including the use of community intelligence and locality profiles to target the engagement process to the promote participation of individuals who are less likely to get involved. Whilst this IIA focused on the process, a further assessment will be carried out on the individual plans' outcomes and actions.
- 3.9 The LIPs have also been screened under Schedule 2 of the Environmental (Scotland) Act 2005 to determine whether a Strategic Environmental Assessment is required. This self-assessment evidences that the public sector bodies have met their legal duties to consider the environment in the development of the plans. A report has now been submitted to Scottish National Heritage, Scottish Environmental Protection Agency and Historic Environment Scotland for approval.
- 3.10 In the next stage, the Partnership Groups will carry out work planning for each of the outcomes, defining the outputs, resources and delivery timescales. This will also allow for more detailed quantitative and qualitative measures to be identified. The performance approach adopted has been informed by the model established for NP LCPs. This sets out the principles for performance reporting and will provide the Localities with the tools to monitor and report on progress on an ongoing basis.
- 3.11 Elected members have been involved in the development process through dedicated member briefings, participation in stakeholder events and through their involvement in NPs. The process of ongoing development and review will enable this involvement to continue with the future Locality Committees providing a vehicle for leadership and oversight. This, together with community and other stakeholder engagement, will inform and shape the plans over the next five years ensuring they are responsive to changing needs and circumstances. Findings from the IIA will also inform this work, ensuring activity is responsive to the equality and rights of all population groups.
- 3.12 A key requirement of the legislation is for public sector bodies to be jointly and individually responsible for ensuring the delivery and actions in the plans. On this basis, the LIPs will require to be approved by partners including NHS Lothian and the Integration Joint Board. The LIPs will then be subject to the collective endorsement of the Edinburgh Partnership on 28 September 2017.
- 3.13 The commitments of the Scottish Fire and Rescue Service and Police Scotland are set out below.

The Scottish Fire and Rescue Service

- 3.14 The Scottish Fire and Rescue Service will continue to engage and work with partners, focusing our resources on identified LIP actions, contributing to a partnership approach that is fully committed to improving outcomes for people and communities across the four localities in Edinburgh.

Police Scotland

- 3.15 Police Scotland is committed to working with local partners and the voluntary sector to tackle inequality and address concerns over anti-social behaviour and crime. By working together to address local problems in coordinated way, LIPs will focus attention and resources upon protecting the most vulnerable and improving the quality of life for residents.

4. Measures of success

- 4.1 The LIPs identify outcomes, actions and high level performance indicators. Further detailed measures will be identified through the action planning process.

5. Financial impact

- 5.1 The costs associated with this report are contained within existing budgets.

6. Risk, policy, compliance and governance impact

- 6.1 There are no adverse risks or policy impacts associated with this report.

7. Equalities impact

- 7.1 Locality planning activity contributes to the delivery of the Equality Act 2010 general duties of advancing equality of opportunity and fostering good relations.
- 7.2 An IIA has been carried out on the development of the plans. No specific concerns have been identified. A further IIA of each of the LIPs will be carried out as part of the action planning process to ensure due regard is taken to equality and rights.

8. Sustainability impact

- 8.1 The LIPs have been screened under Schedule 2 of the Environmental (Scotland) Act 2005. This self-assessment has determined that there are no negative environmental impacts and a Strategic Environmental Assessment is not required.

9. Consultation and engagement

- 9.1 The development of the LIPs has been a collaborative process involving the community and partners. In addition to local research and data, the plans were informed by two dedicated engagement programmes. This commitment to partnership working will continue with the action planning and further development of the LIPs involving all relevant stakeholders and being informed by the ongoing engagement of local people.

Introduction

Welcome from the North East Locality Leadership Team.

We are delighted to present the first North East Edinburgh Locality Improvement Plan 2017 - 2022.

This plan builds on the past successes and good practice of Craigentinny & Duddingston Neighbourhood Partnership, Leith Neighbourhood Partnership, Portobello & Craigmillar Neighbourhood Partnership and their Local Community Plans.

This plan will help those people who are in greatest need, and focuses on how we can help prevent issues from taking place or getting involved to help resolve them.

It sets out:

- priorities for improving the area over the next five years

- actions that will be carried out in the short, medium and long-term
- our commitment to target our shared resources in the most effective way to tackle inequality.

In developing the plan, we spoke with people across the locality, as well as within smaller targeted areas, about what would make the area better and what we need to do to achieve this. This allowed us to identify the outcomes and priorities that will make a real difference to the lives of the people in the locality.

The plan brings our communities even closer together with local service providers, to plan and deliver better services which meet the needs of the people who use them.

We will continue to speak with local people and our partners and update this plan, and the priorities, as well as report on our progress.

Our partners in the North East Locality Leadership Team are:

- The City of Edinburgh Council
- Police Scotland
- NHS Lothian
- Health and Social Care Partnership
- Scottish Fire and Rescue Service
- Voluntary Sector Forums in the North East (Voluntary Organisations in Leith Together, Portobello and Craigmillar Voluntary Sector Forum and voluntary organisations in Craigentinny and Duddingston)
- Edinburgh College
- Edinburgh Voluntary Organisations' Council
- Skills Development Scotland.

Context

Community planning

Community planning is the process by which councils and other public bodies work with local people, businesses and voluntary groups to plan and deliver better services to improve the lives of people who live in their community.

In Edinburgh, the city's community planning partnership where community, public and third sector come together is collectively known as the Edinburgh Partnership.

Over the last 10 years, communities have identified their own priorities through Local Community Plans and have worked with service providers to improve their communities.

The most recent Local Community Plans ran from 2014 – 2017.

During that time, many organisations changed to working across four localities in the city, to manage their services within the same boundaries.

The Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015 also changed community planning in Scotland.

The Act gives local people more say in how public services are planned, designed and delivered. The Act requires public bodies to:

- identify and improve outcomes in the geographical areas which experience the greatest inequality
- prepare and publish Locality Improvement Plans to deliver better outcomes on the agreed priorities
- review and report publicly on progress and revise and update the plans as appropriate.

North East locality

The North East locality is an extremely diverse community of different age groups, ethnic backgrounds, housing and living standards and varying levels of employment, health and income.

The locality has the highest number of residents who live in low income households compared to the other three localities in Edinburgh.

Population
110,905

The North East has the highest number of children (26%) in the city living in low income households. One in four children

By 2035 population

expected to be

161,341

compared to the city average of one in five. In addition, 27% of the city's total numbers of 'looked after children' live in the North East.

School attendance in North East primary and secondary schools is below both the citywide target and current average. For secondary schooling, the locality has the lowest attendance rates compared to the other localities.

The Portobello/Craigmillar ward has the highest number of adults in the city with no qualifications (28%) and only one sixth of all Edinburgh jobs are in the North East locality.

14,882
people over 65

16,038 children
under 16

Often a combination of these issues impacts on peoples' quality of life. This leads to increased levels of inequality. The plan will tackle this inequality by creating greater opportunities for all.

12,840
houses
planned

The North East locality will face a number of opportunities and challenges in the coming years.

Opportunities

Over the next five years, these will include:

- major regeneration/development projects, including the St James Quarter, the Waterfront, the Leith Community Hub and Edinburgh BioQuarter
- large student housing growth
- potential extension of the trams to Newhaven

- a diverse economy of health, retail, business, public and hospitality sectors
- an increase in the number of Community Link Workers to better support more people experiencing health inequalities

Challenges

Over the next five years these will include:

- large numbers of adults without qualifications, leading to higher levels of unemployment
- projected to be the second fastest growing locality with 9% growth by 2022 mainly focussed in Leith and Craigmillar
- lowest rate of owner-occupation (53%) combined with a high rate of tenement properties (75%)
- highest percentage of people with long-term health problems that limit day-to-day activity.

A key aim of this plan will be to realise and maximise the benefits from the range of opportunities that present themselves across the locality over the next five years, whilst being prepared to meet the challenges in partnership and with an integrated and prepared approach.

Engaging with our communities

We are continuing to build a better understanding of the needs and aspirations of our communities.

This plan aims to deliver the kind of area that everyone wants to live and work in.

We asked people what were the most important priorities to them. People told us that they want an area where:

- all our young people reach their full potential
- people have more opportunities for work and affordable leisure facilities
- people feel part of their community
- the most vulnerable are supported and protected
- loneliness and isolation are reduced
- the impact on children living in poverty will be reduced
- there is a vibrant and thriving community that is strong, clean, green, safe and healthy.

To do this, service providers and local people need to work together and focus on identifying issues earlier and delivering solutions in partnership.

To develop the plan, we asked local people for their views across five main themes: place, health and wellbeing, children, young people and families, community safety, and economy and employability.

We made it easy for people to have their say and spoke to people who would not normally get involved. We did this with an online survey, face to face conversations with people including on the street, in sheltered housing accommodation and in care homes. We also made extra effort to collect the views of young people, ethnic minority communities and other often under-represented groups by visiting mosques and the travelling people site.

We spoke with people living and working in smaller geographic areas identified as experiencing the greatest inequality.

Tackling the issues that will make a real difference in these specific areas will be a priority going forward.

Views from more than 2,000 individuals and groups were gathered and considered alongside other feedback such as the findings from the Police Scotland survey, 2050 City Vision, Edinburgh Children's Services Plan and the Edinburgh People Survey, and then used to develop the final plan.

We want local people to continue to be involved in shaping the development of this plan and will therefore continue to consult with communities to ensure that the actions delivered are successful.

For information on how to get involved, or to find out how to join a local community group, your community council or take part in local volunteering opportunities, please get in touch with us at northeast.locality@edinburgh.gov.uk

Locality wide outcomes

The outcomes are set out under the five themes of economy/employability, place, community safety, children, young people and families, and health and wellbeing. Under each theme, we have set out the outcomes, high level actions and possible measures below. The measures provide an indication of what may be possible in measuring progress. These measures, along with outputs, timescales and resources to deliver the actions and achieve better outcomes are set out in accompanying work plans, which are being developed and are described in the 'How we will measure success' section. In order to best realise success and meet the outcomes set out in the Plan, there will be crossover and close links between the five themes and the work plans. None will sit in isolation, but will be tackled in an integrated partnership approach.

Economy/employability

As the North East locality has a higher than average level of unemployment and a higher number of adults without qualifications, this leads to higher levels of poverty, inequality and disadvantage within communities and across vulnerable sections of society.

Organisations will work together to target, tailor and integrate support for these individuals. As a result, the plan will ensure that residents have the skills, aspirations and knowledge to secure sustainable employment whilst improving the general economic health of the area.

There are also many opportunities for growth in the North East locality including in particular the Bio Quarter and development of Business Parks in the area. We will work with business to create, promote, and unlock these opportunities for all sections of society, regardless of personal circumstances. By working in partnership, we will ensure that opportunities meet the needs of both businesses and the community in which they operate.

Partners include – The City of Edinburgh Council, Fort Kinnaird Recruitment and Skills Centre, Volunteer Centre Edinburgh, Jobcentre Plus (Department of Work and Pensions), Edinburgh College, schools, local businesses, Skills Development Scotland, NHS Lothian, Joined Up for Jobs network, representatives from Voluntary Sector Forums in the North East and other voluntary organisations, North East community.

Our priority outcomes for improving health and wellbeing in the North East locality will help to make sure that the right care is delivered in the right place at the right time for people. The work covers the support and services which help to maintain or improve physical and mental health and wellbeing, as well as to prevent poor health in the future. We all value good health and want to live in a place that provides a variety of activities and services in locations that can be accessed easily. A healthier community is a happier community.

Working in the locality model, we will focus on people and ensure that health and wellbeing is at the core of everything we do. By working with people who live and work in the area, we will build on local opportunities, activities, supports and services and current best practice. We will also work together to provide creative solutions so we can all maintain, improve or restore our health.

Community safety

We have spoken with communities, individuals and community safety service providers within the locality and identified these priorities.

The Police Scotland Edinburgh Division divisional priorities for 2017 are:

- acquisitive crime

- public safety
- anti-social behaviour
- serious and organised crime
- terrorism and domestic extremism.

These were identified through the local response to the Your View Counts survey, which empowered local communities to inform the Police of their concerns. These have been incorporated with the North East locality engagement to identify the priorities in this plan which makes the best use of joint working, prevention and intervention locally within the North East.

Children, young people and families

It is the vision of the Edinburgh and Young People Partnership that “Edinburgh’s children and young people enjoy their childhood and achieve their potential”. Aligned to this vision are five outcomes that sit at the heart of the Integrated Children’s Services Plan:

- every child will have the best start in life
- children and young people’s attainment and achievement gaps will be reduced

- every child and young person will have good health and wellbeing
- poverty and inequality amongst children and young people and their families will be reduced
- children and young people and their families and their communities will be empowered to improve their wellbeing.

Children, young people and their families are the heart of our community. In North East Edinburgh, we want to increase the opportunities for families so that their children enjoy their childhood and reach their full potential. We believe that improving outcomes for children and their families has a positive impact on the whole community, both now, and for the future. The Children’s Services Management Group will be responsible for coordinating and integrating services to children, young people and their families in the locality.

Place

We want people living in North East Edinburgh to feel proud of and connected to the place where they live and to feel invested in the future of their local area. This is especially important given the volume and scale of the new developments planned for the area and the projected increase in population which the regeneration will bring.

Through our provision of key environmental services such as housing, infrastructure development, roads, pavements, parks, planning, waste collection and street cleaning, we want to create a place where:

- people want to spend time to work and play
- there is a sense of community pride
- people are involved and feel ownership for the place they live
- it is well maintained with quality housing and pleasant public spaces
- there is a quality, safe, clean and green environment which is sustainable for the future

By working together in partnership, we can achieve this, and will be more able to influence and shape our neighbourhoods so that they better meet the needs of local people.

Partners include – The City of Edinburgh Council, community councils, third sector organisations, “Friends of” groups, residents’ and tenants’ associations, housing associations, schools, Voluntary Sector Forums in the North East, North East community.

Better and increased use of community assets

- improve the ways to support community ownership
- identify and maximise the opportunities for asset transfer under the Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015
- develop better joint working between service providers and environmental community groups such as friends of parks
- identify land suitable for community growing initiatives
- increase use and access of local facilities for the community and partners eg libraries, community centres

Local assets ownership by communities within the locality

Use of buildings for community activity

Small area priorities

In addition to the locality wide outcomes, it is recognised that there are communities that experience a higher level of inequality. Local data on deprivation and poverty rates were analysed and mapped to assist in identifying smaller geographical areas within the North East locality where people experience higher levels of disadvantage.

These small geographical areas include:

- Greater Craigmillar - Bingham, Magdalene, Niddrie and The Christians

- Restalrig/Lochend/Loganlea
- Areas within Leith

To improve the lives of those most at risk and furthest removed from positive outcomes, the plan must identify ways to work with these communities, partners and service providers to create long term change. This includes shifting from managing crises to early intervention, targeting key issues and developing and delivering actions which help to reverse the trends which contribute to negative outcomes.

The plans below describe the high level actions separated into five themes for these small areas. As part of the next steps, detailed work plans are being developed which will support the delivery of actions in each small area. These will detail further actions, timescales and measures to track progress. The approach to measuring success is described in the 'How we will measure success' section.

Greater Craigmillar - Bingham, Magdalene, Niddrie and The Christians

The communities within Greater Craigmillar that have been identified in the small area plan, include Craigmillar, Bingham, Magdalene, Niddrie and The Christians.

The area lies to the east of the locality and sits in the Portobello/Craigmillar Ward.

The small area plan aims to improve employability opportunities, housing conditions and transport links for local residents. Partners will work to better identify and support those at risk of social isolation, as well as seek to improve access to health and well-being services for young people and other targeted groups within the identified communities. Improved community safety will also be a focus for the area.

Restalrig/Lochend/Loganlea

The communities of Restalrig, Lochend and Loganlea have been identified in the small area plan. The area sits in the middle of the locality within the Craightinny/ Duddingston Ward.

Local residents have asked for services that will improve outcomes for children and young people including activity programmes, and increased provision of targeted health, well-being and youth employability support services. The key priorities within the small area plan aim to create improved learning and training opportunities, with specific focus on digital skills, volunteering and English for Speakers of Other Languages classes. Better transport links and cleaner, greener and safer aspirations are also top priorities for these communities and are highlighted in the plan.

Leith

The communities identified in Leith within the small area plan are highlighted in the small area map and sit close to the main arterial routes of Great Junction Street and Constitution Street. The area lies to the north of the locality, in the Leith Ward.

The small area plan will deliver specific early interventions for vulnerable groups living in the community, whilst also developing preventative approaches to reduce alcohol-related harm and assist those in recovery from substance misuse. Key priorities for local people also focussed on the need to improve outcomes for children, young people and families through improved activity provision, and developments in health and well-being support services for those groups. A focus on improving the local environment to minimise littering, reduce air pollution and combat anti-social behaviour will also be central to the aims of the plan and will contribute towards ensuring a better quality of life for local residents.

How we will measure success

The locality wide and small area plans in sections 5 and 6 contain a strategic description of high level actions and possible measures. This will be underpinned by workplans which set out detailed actions, timescales and the key measures that will demonstrate how change is taking place in each locality, forming the basis of the performance framework. These more detailed workplans will form the basis of monitoring progress allowing scrutiny of areas of success and areas of improvement that will be subject to regular review.

An Annual Progress Report will also be produced evidencing progress on delivering the outcomes in the plan, based on the output of the continuous monitoring and scrutiny, and will be presented to Council committee and partner governance bodies for further scrutiny and approval.

The core principles and methods for monitoring progress and performance reporting are:

Principles

- 1 Easy to access and understand
Information on how each outcome is progressing needs to be readily available, regularly maintained, clearly laid out and free of jargon.
- 2 Focused on outcomes as well as outputs
The aim of monitoring information is to measure the difference made to local people and communities and not just changes made to services.
- 3 Alignment with other strategic aims
The partners' progress towards achieving the outcomes must be consistent with their own established strategic aims. This is to ensure that the services are working towards clearly aligned goals and are monitoring their work in a consistent way.

Methods

- 1 Workplans
A set of more detailed plans relating to the outcomes and associated actions will allow monitoring of the partners' activity and progress towards achieving our shared goals.
- 2 Regular performance reports
These will detail progress towards achieving the outcomes. They could include actions, key performance indicators, case studies and customer research to give a balanced view on progress. These reports will form the basis for the Annual Progress Report.
- 3 Annual Progress Report
Progress in achieving the outcomes for the locality and small areas will be reported annually to Council committee and partner governance bodies.

Equalities statement

Locality Improvement Plans set out our commitment to promoting equality and diversity. An Integrated Impact Assessment (IIA) and Strategic Environmental Assessment (SEA) have been carried out, enabling all partners to meet their legal duties to consider equality, human rights, sustainability and the environment. The assessments ensure that the planned services and policies promote equality of opportunity, eliminate discrimination and harassment, and promote good relations between those with protected characteristics and those with none. They also allow broader inequalities to be addressed, ensuring that the needs of all people are met.

Introduction

We are delighted to present the first North West Locality Improvement Plan 2017 - 2022.

The key aim of this plan is to achieve better outcomes for communities and individuals in North West Edinburgh and to reduce the gap for those experiencing the greatest inequality. This plan will help those people who are in greatest need, and focuses on early intervention and prevention approaches, which over time, will help address an imbalance of equality in some of our local areas.

To develop this plan, we built on Edinburgh's existing community planning arrangements (Neighbourhood Partnerships). Public sector reform is also key to ensuring more effective partnership working across a range of agencies, and further involving communities when we make decisions.

We carried out a programme of community engagement in 2016/17. We spoke with communities across the locality, asking what would make the area better and looked at ways that we can strengthen the communities' voice in the decisions that matter across the locality.

We are mindful that some areas within North West Edinburgh experience greater levels of disadvantage and therefore carried out more targeted engagement in these communities. More information on these areas, the engagement and the outcomes is included later in the plan.

By speaking with local people, we identified outcomes and priorities that will make a real difference to the lives of the people in our communities.

The involvement of our communities will drive the development of this plan and build on local community planning approaches to date. This has created solution focussed actions that will help make real change across all sectors of our communities. The plan brings our communities even closer together with our local service providers, to plan and deliver better services which meet the needs of the people who use them.

This plan is a commitment to communities within the North West locality of how we will work with you to target our resources in the most effective way across the length and breadth of the locality, and to address the known inequalities amongst our communities. We will continue to listen to what you tell us over the lifetime of the plan, review and report on progress annually, and realign priorities as needed.

Partners in the North West Locality Leadership Team are:

- The City of Edinburgh Council
- Police Scotland
- NHS Lothian
- Health and Social Care Partnership
- Scottish Fire and Rescue Service
- Edinburgh College
- Edinburgh Voluntary Organisations' Council
- Third sector representatives from the Forth & Inverleith Voluntary Sector Forum and from the Western and Almond Voluntary Sector Forum
- Skills Development Scotland.

Context

Why create a Locality Improvement Plan

Locality development builds on previous work linked to community planning. Community planning is the process by which councils and other public bodies work with local people, businesses and voluntary groups to plan and deliver better services to improve the lives of people who live in Scotland.

The Local Government (Scotland) Act 2003 provided the initial statutory basis for community planning. It was introduced to:

- enable public bodies to work together to deal with complex, long-term challenges that a single organisation cannot deal with, for example inequalities in health, employability and levels of crime
- involve local communities more in the decisions that affect people's lives.

All local authority areas established Community Planning Partnerships. In Edinburgh, the city's community planning partnership, where community, public and third sector come together, is collectively known as the Edinburgh Partnership.

In addition, 12 Neighbourhood Partnerships were introduced and each created Local Community Plans to build partnership approaches to tackle and support local issues.

The Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015 reinforces many of the Community Planning practices and gives local people more say in how public services are planned and run. In doing so, the act requires Community Planning Partnerships to:

- produce a local improvement plan (LIP)
- identify which geographical areas have communities that experience the poorest outcomes
- prepare and publish locality plans to improve outcomes on agreed priorities for these communities
- review and report publicly on the progress towards their LIP and locality plans, and revise and update the plans as appropriate.

All partners aim to build on a culture in which community empowerment is the right thing to do. The establishment of the four localities in Edinburgh recognises that effective services must be designed with and for people and communities - not delivered 'top down' for administrative convenience.

The range of benefits from a more involved and engaged population include: local democratic participation boosted, increased confidence and skills among local people, higher numbers of people volunteering in their communities, and more satisfaction with quality of life in a local neighbourhood. Better community engagement and participation leads to the delivery of better, more responsive services and better outcomes for communities.

The creation of the LIPs is the starting point and over time will identify and create more opportunities for our communities to engage in the processes available.

North West locality

The locality – geography and people

The locality stretches east from South Queensferry along the shoreline through Cramond, Barnton, Granton and Trinity and moves south to Warriston, then west along the northern reaches of the new town including Stockbridge, and continues through Roseburn, Murrayfield, Corstorphine and past the Airport to Ratho Station and onto Kirkliston (and all communities in between).

Across the locality, there are areas of high affluence as well as, primarily in the Forth ward, those which are amongst the most deprived in the city.

The North West locality faces a number of key challenges in the coming years. It is expected to see the largest population growth in Edinburgh by 2022 by as much as 10% (around 14,000). This will put additional pressure on primary and secondary schools as well as housing and other key services such as NHS primary care.

Alongside wider housing developments, the North West will see the greatest level of social and affordable housing investment across the city, with around 870 expected to be completed during the life of the LIP.

Currently, 61% of all Council homes across the North West locality are located in the Forth ward and Muirhouse.

Health services also face significant challenges with an ageing population. The North West has more people aged over 65 years than any other locality. Lifestyle choices also place increasing demands on all services. In the Edinburgh People Survey 2016, almost 42% of people in the North West indicated that they have not engaged in any exercise. This alone will impact longer term on services.

The areas of Muirhouse, Wester Drylaw, West Pilton, Granton, Royston and Wardieburn (collectively known as the North small area) also have significant social and economic challenges. The North small area has the second lowest average household income in Edinburgh, 30% of children live in households in relative poverty. Of those deemed 'economically inactive' across the locality, 26% live here and Muirhouse is currently ranked as one of the top ten most deprived areas in Scotland. It also has the highest concentrations of benefits dependency.

The North Edinburgh small area will benefit from more focused work to reduce inequality and disadvantage, along with other small areas in Kirkliston (Gateside estate), South Queensferry (Walker estate), parts of Clermiston, and parts of East Craigs.

The LIP, whilst serving the wider locality, also has a specific focus on these smaller geographical areas, to get a better understanding of the needs and aspirations of individual communities.

A key aim of the locality approach to achieving better outcomes for people, is to shift the focus from tackling crisis to early intervention and prevention.

To achieve this, there needs to be a greater understanding of the root causes and related trigger points for individuals and families in reaching 'crisis'.

Engaging with our communities

People living in, working in or simply visiting the North West locality have a crucial role in helping to shape the future of the areas in many different ways. People from all backgrounds engage with community life through community councils, school parent/teacher associations, community centres, volunteering, carers, uniformed children and young people's services, tenants' groups, residents' groups, friends of parks, organisation committees and boards, even those simply attending events or activities or taking the time to get involved with surveys or online feedback. It is vital that we build on this and find more ways to engage with more people throughout the life of the plan to help shape the future of the locality.

All the partners involved with shaping and delivering the plan are fully committed to putting people at the heart of the overall process and we will:

- work together with the community and partners
- involve everyone in an open discussion that meets the needs of all

- listen to and act on needs, issues and ideas
- develop new and better ways of doing things, especially to grow opportunities for more people to engage and influence outcomes.

We are committed to creating a culture and focus that builds relationships, communities and places through real discussion, involvement and doing things with people.

In developing this plan, we are continuing a conversation to find out what matters most to individuals, families and communities and in doing so have identified areas for action.

We started with two phases of engagement. The first phase focussed on working with our existing Neighbourhood Partnership structures and known groups to have real discussions about what affects our communities. We asked people 'what the locality would look/feel like in five years time'. Over 900 responses were received and examined to identify where there were common issues or suggestions. Then they were merged into key themes around health, safety, children young people and families, employment, and our place – the physical part of our locality.

Within each theme, the 900 responses were used to create statements and these were then made available using online and printed surveys in community buildings such as community centres and libraries where everyone was invited to rank what they felt was the most important. This formed the priority outcomes for the wider North West locality, included in this plan.

Other inputs and those statements not included will also be useful. We will contact those who contributed and left an email address to form a reference group that will help monitor our progress in delivering the priorities.

Phase 2 involved the smaller areas where we used a different approach. Local people were involved through pop up stalls in areas such as Clermiston, Walkers or Gateside. In some areas, we knocked on doors to encourage people to get involved. A key outcome of the engagement was a focus on quality of life issues.

Further work is still ongoing to identify whether there are issues which can be addressed in a similar way, with service providers and residents in East Craigs.

Community Action North (CAN) provided dedicated support in the neighbourhoods of Granton, Muirhouse, West Pilton, Royston, Wardieburn and Wester Drylaw. CAN specifically targeted groups and individuals at the heart of the issues in the North Edinburgh small area. The outcomes have been developed using co-production techniques, whereby the lead from each theme is engaging with key community representatives to develop a work plan with agreed actions.

In the other small areas, community councils and other key groups and individuals, such as elected members, were asked to endorse the suggested outcomes and actions.

Both phases involved over 1,000 people but importantly, the key emphasis of the engagement was about the quality of discussion and reaching an understanding of what many of the key issues are that affect people.

We are committed to keeping an open discussion, listening and helping communities come together to decide what they want to achieve and find ways to do this. The designing of this plan is not an end in itself, but the start of an ongoing process, so we can build and co-create solutions with communities through time, experience and presence. Every member of the community is encouraged to have their say, be actively involved and play their part.

Communities will be supported to work with the locality team in the following ways:

- come together with services, decide what they want to achieve and find ways of achieving this
- address social concerns and exclusion, ensuring all groups can be heard
- build effective and representative community organisations
- focus on strengths and assets in the community, providing opportunities to lead change, volunteer and be entrepreneurial to help create the things needed

- grow the financial, legal and organisational capacity to achieve results
- empower participation and involvement in decision making forums, place making, service design and priorities for spending.

Partnership working must change how we deliver services, listen to and work with communities. The aim is to establish a mutually beneficial relationship with the community to clarify our commitment to them, and theirs to us.

In addition to the locality-wide consultation and engagement described in this section, the views of community representatives and elected members have been sought and incorporated into the LIP at meetings of each of the North West Neighbourhood Partnerships – Almond, Forth, Inverleith and Western – as well as at specific briefings to elected members and community councillors.

Locality wide outcomes

The outcomes are set out under the five themes of economy/employability, place, community safety, children, young people and families, and health and wellbeing.

Under each theme, we have set out the outcomes, high level actions and possible measures below. It is recognised that the actions and measures are at a high level, and do not provide the level of detail which allows communities to identify actions specific to their area. This level of detail, along with more specific measures, outputs, timescales and resources to deliver the actions and achieve better outcomes are set out in accompanying work plans, which are being developed and are described in the 'How we will measure success' section. These workplans will provide a dynamic mechanism to regularly review progress with partners, and will provide a list of tangible deliverables to report progress against. As such, the workplans will facilitate ongoing engagement with community councils and other community groups in relation to the issues and actions which are of most concern to them in their immediate neighbourhood.

Employment, training and education

Whilst the majority of the North West locality celebrates relative affluence, for some, becoming economically stable with access to careers remains a significant challenge. Many individuals experience high levels of complex needs and associated issues as a result of living in poverty such as poor mental health, equality issues and stigma. Led by Edinburgh College, the Employment Training and Education group will focus on creating improved opportunities for all wishing to improve their own personal circumstances through improved access to further education, developing upskilling opportunities and good employment. Early intervention will be a key focus too with young people being better equipped to enter the world of work and life in general. With large scale developments planned across the locality, the group will seek to access as many benefits as possible with links to apprenticeships and other training placements.

With advances in technology and changes to traditional career paths, we must think differently about how we engage employers and create better connectivity to those that can essentially act as a skilled, educated, motivated and able work force. Another focus will be to enable those often left behind because of equality issues to access the same opportunities as anyone else and we will work with the community to challenge inequality at all levels.

Partners include – The City of Edinburgh Council, Skills Development Scotland, DWP Jobcentre Plus, NHS Lothian, high schools, employability providers, Edinburgh College, Edinburgh Volunteer Centre, third sector representatives from the Forth & Inverleith Voluntary Sector Forum and from the Western and Almond Voluntary Sector Forum, Joined up for Jobs network and large employers eg RBS, Edinburgh Airport and Leonardo.

Health and wellbeing

The integration of Health and Social Care services in Edinburgh has been a significant step towards creating a more responsive, joined up approach to meeting the evolving demands across the city. The Health and Wellbeing outcomes will be led by the Health and Social Care Locality Manager through a group that involves a wide range of related disciplines. All involved are aware of the challenges faced across the locality in terms of increasing population, ageing population and areas of deprivation and poverty. Working together and using resources more effectively, the group will aim to ensure health based services and activities can meet not only the growing demands but also where existing services need to adapt to better support community needs. Early intervention is at the heart of the Health and Social Care agenda and the outcomes identified by the community reflect this.

Community safety

Led by Police Scotland’s North West Locality Commander, two distinct approaches will be taken to support the development of the outcomes as identified by our wider North West Edinburgh communities and those at small area level, especially in the North Edinburgh small area. The North West Community Improvement Partnership will co-ordinate actions across the whole locality, and StrongerNorth will focus on the North Edinburgh small area. Integrated into both approaches is contribution from the Scottish Fire and Rescue Service (SFRS) led by the Locality Lead Station Manager based at Crewe Toll Community Fire

Station, and following the principles expressed in the SFRS Local Fire and Rescue Plan for Edinburgh, available at www.firescotland.gov.uk

Local Policing is central to the effectiveness of Police Scotland and is core to our statutory role. Partnerships are at the heart of what we do in Edinburgh and we aim to deliver excellence in service and protection, with the consent of our local communities. You can expect us to deliver that service with fairness, integrity and respect.

In April 2017, following consultation with our communities, we drafted the local Police Plan for Edinburgh which sets out the local policing priorities and objectives for Edinburgh Division of Police Scotland for 2017-2018.

Place

How we plan, use and look after the places we live in has a huge bearing on everything else we do, and will be particularly important in the North West given the volume and scale of proposed new developments as expressed in the Local Development Plan. As important as planning new development is, how well we use and look after the physical environment and this is also addressed in the LIP priorities.

The Place sub group is led by the North West Locality Manager and is currently focussed on creating a Council “Team Around the Place”, bringing together a range of Council services to deliver an integrated locality approach. The sub group will then be widened out to include other partners and engage the community in working up and delivering the detail of the Action Plan

Council services involved are – Planning, Housing Operations, Housing Property, Housing Strategy and Investment, Waste, Parks, Greenspace and Cemeteries, Roads, Communities and Families.

Small area outcomes

No individual living in the locality is immune from issues that link to poverty, health or crime. For some communities, these issues are more visible when associated with physical space, housing conditions and wider deprivation.

When developing the LIP, we used local community intelligence and additional data and research to identify specific geographical small areas within the North West. This helped those responsible for developing the LIP to work closer with these communities to reach a better understanding of why some individuals and families, often over many generations, continue to find it difficult to gain and sustain employment, leave school with poor attainment levels, suffer from poor health or may be linked with high levels of crime and anti-social behaviour. In some cases, all of these issues can be present.

When engaging with people in these areas, it is clear that the wider community want to work with key agencies to reverse this trend.

Even at this small area level, there are still significant differences experienced by the people living within them around poverty and quality of life, as well as wider issues as identified in the Scottish Index of Multiple Deprivation (SIMD), which include health, crime, education, income, housing, and employment.

To improve the lives of those most at risk and furthest removed from positive outcomes, the LIP must identify ways to work with these communities to create long-term change. This must include shifting from managing crises to early intervention and improved support at grassroots level. It is recognised that for many issues, interventions must break down generational barriers and will be difficult. Their inclusion in the LIP is to ensure all relevant agencies and individuals recognise the importance of how we can all make better use of existing resource and to develop initiatives aimed at lifting these communities, and over time, bring them more in line with the wider locality.

The areas identified across North West are:

- South Queensferry (Walker Drive)
- Kirkliston (Gateside)
- Clermiston and East Craigs.
- Wester Drylaw, Granton, Muirhouse, Wardieburn and West Pilton (North Edinburgh small area).

The plans below describe the high level actions separated into five themes for these small areas. As part of the next steps, detailed work plans are being developed which will support the delivery of actions in each small area. These will detail further actions, timescales and measures to track progress. The approach to measuring success is described in the 'How we will measure success' section.

Small areas - Walker Drive, South Queensferry

Working with Queensferry and District Community Council, we engaged with local residents in a series of pop up surgeries. These established the priorities for mainly physical improvements of the areas, as highlighted in the map.

Small areas – North Edinburgh

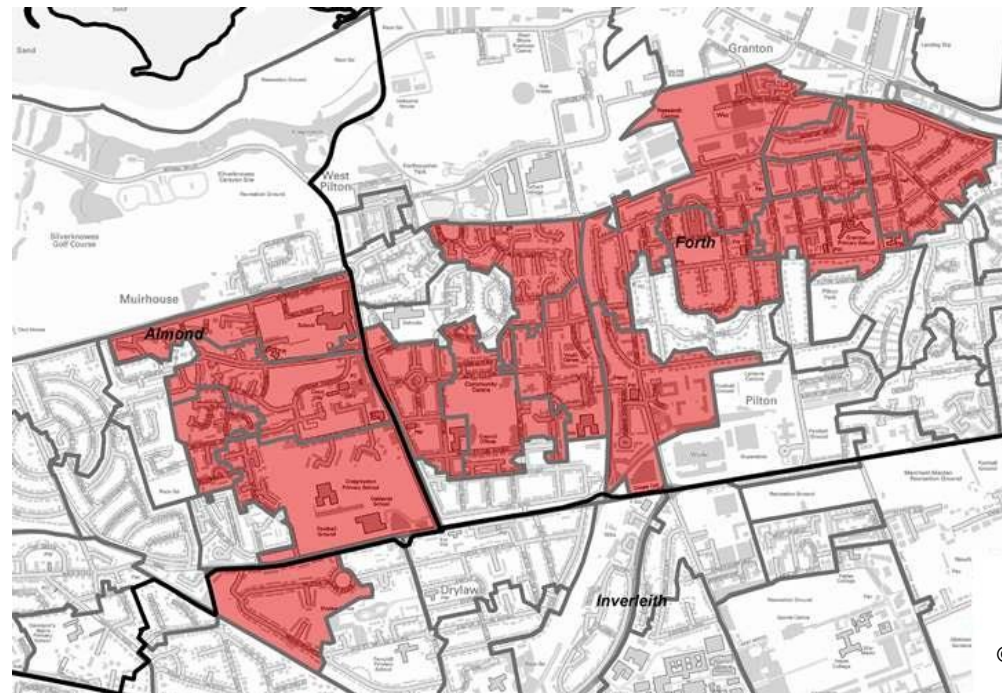

The North Edinburgh small area is by some margin the largest and has the most long-standing and endemic issues to be addressed within the North West. It also has a proud and long standing history of community activism, stemming from tenants' and residents' groups in playing a key partnership role in regeneration initiatives and the Pilton Social Inclusion Partnership. This rich history provides the perfect basis for continuing the active engagement of the community in defining issues and co-producing solutions. Community Action North (CAN), a local SCIO (Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation) has been commissioned by the North West LIP project team to canvas the views and aspirations of North Edinburgh residents, community groups and activists for design and delivery of the North Edinburgh Small Area Action Plan.

CAN has produced a report, People Powered Community outlining their initial findings, both against the themes already identified in the LIP and a number of cross-cutting issues which they feel are vital to address genuine joint working as a partnership of equals. Initial discussion with CAN and a steering group of residents has focussed on the cross-cutting issues, and a number of early actions have been identified as detailed in the early draft of the action plan below.

Given this commitment to co-production, the North Edinburgh Small Area Action Plan is therefore at the earliest stages of production, and the version included below is presented as an early draft of the work in progress which will be updated in future versions of the LIP. By its nature, it will be a dynamic document, reflecting the commitment of all parties to working co-operatively to make sustainable changes on the ground, to meaningfully improve North Edinburgh residents' lives.

How we will measure success

The locality wide and small area plans in sections 5 and 6 contain a strategic description of high level actions and possible measures. This will be underpinned by workplans which set out detailed actions, timescales and the key measures that will demonstrate how change is taking place in each locality, forming the basis of the performance framework. These more detailed workplans will form the basis of monitoring progress allowing scrutiny of areas of success and areas of improvement and will be subject to regular review.

An Annual Progress Report will also be produced evidencing progress on delivering the outcomes in the plan, based on the output of the continuous monitoring and scrutiny, and will be presented to Council Committee and partner governance bodies for further scrutiny and approval.

The core principles and methods for monitoring progress and performance reporting are set out as follows:

Principles

- 1 Easy to access and understand
Information on how each outcome is progressing needs to be readily available, regularly maintained, clearly laid out and free of jargon.
- 2 Focused on outcomes as well as outputs
The aim of monitoring information is to measure the difference made to local people and communities and not just changes made to services.
- 3 Alignment with other strategic aims
The partners' progress towards achieving the outcomes must be consistent with their own established strategic aims. This is to ensure that the services are working towards clearly aligned goals and are monitoring their work in a consistent way.

Methods

- 1 Workplans
A set of more detailed plans relating to the outcomes and associated actions will allow monitoring of the partners' activity and progress towards achieving our shared goals.
- 2 Regular performance reports
These will detail progress towards achieving the outcomes. They could include actions, key performance indicators, case studies and customer research to give a balanced view on progress. These reports will form the basis for the Annual Progress Report.
- 3 Annual Progress Report
Progress in achieving the outcomes for the locality and small areas will be reported annually to Council Committee and partner governance bodies.

Equalities statement

Locality Improvement Plans set out our commitment to promoting equality and diversity. An Integrated Impact Assessment (IIA) and Strategic Environmental Assessment (SEA) have been carried out, enabling all partners to meet their legal duties to consider equality, human rights, sustainability and the environment. The assessments ensure that the planned services and policies promote equality of opportunity, eliminate discrimination and harassment, and promote good relations between those with protected characteristics and those with none. They also allow broader inequalities to be addressed, ensuring that the needs of all people are met.

Introduction

Welcome from the South East Locality Leadership Team.

We are delighted to present the first South East Edinburgh Locality Improvement Plan 2017-2022. This builds on the past successes and good practice of the Neighbourhood Partnerships and their Local Community Plans.

This plan will help those people who are in greatest need, and focuses on what action can be taken to improve the quality of life of those who live in the South East.

It sets out:

- the priorities for improving the area over the next five years

- the actions that will be carried out in the short, medium and long term
- our commitment to target our shared resources in the most effective way to tackle inequality.

In developing the plan, we asked local people across the locality, as well as within smaller targeted areas, what would make the area better and what would we need to do to achieve this.

This allowed us to identify the outcomes and priorities that will make a real difference to the lives of the people in the locality.

The plan brings our communities even closer together with local service providers to plan and deliver better services which meet the needs of the people who use them.

Partners in the South East Locality Leadership Team are:

- The City of Edinburgh Council
- Police Scotland
- NHS Lothian
- Health and Social Care Partnership
- Scottish Fire and Rescue Service
- South East Edinburgh Voluntary Sector Forum
- Edinburgh College
- Skills Development Scotland
- The University of Edinburgh
- Edinburgh Voluntary Organisations' Council

Context

Community planning

Community planning is the process by which councils and other public bodies work with local people, businesses and voluntary groups to plan and deliver better services to improve the lives of people who live in their community.

In Edinburgh, the city's community planning partnership where community, public and the third sector come together is collectively known as the Edinburgh Partnership.

Over the last 10 years, communities have identified their own priorities through Local Community Plans and worked with service providers to achieve improvements in their communities.

The most recent Local Community Plans ran from 2014-2017. During that time, many organisations changed to working across four localities in the city, to manage their services with the same boundaries.

The Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015 also changed community planning in Scotland.

The Act gives local people more say in how public services are planned, designed and delivered. The Act requires public bodies to:

- identify and improve outcomes in the geographical areas which experience the greatest inequality
- prepare and publish Locality Improvement Plans to deliver better outcomes on the agreed priorities
- review and report publicly on progress and revise and update the plans as appropriate.

South East locality

The South East locality has areas with high levels of affluence, as well as areas which are amongst the most socially and economically disadvantaged.

The current population of the South East is 125,975 and is expected to increase by around 5% in the next 15 years. Whilst this is a lower rate of increase than the other localities, this will still put additional pressure on housing and schools in the area and access to local amenities.

The South East locality has the highest rate of private rented housing and an owner occupier rate of 54%.

It also has the second highest rate of child poverty, and most children that are in the lowest income households live in the Liberton/Gilmerton area.

There are distinct geographical areas within the locality where levels of affluence and inequality vary. For example, despite its affluence, the City Centre faces many challenges with higher than average:

- crime rates
- incidents of anti-social behaviour
- numbers of people begging and sleeping rough.

Just fewer than 50% of all serious assaults take place in the South East locality and over 70% of these reported are in the city centre area.

Liberton/Gilmerton is diverse and includes areas where we need to focus on reducing inequality and disadvantage, including Southhouse, Burdiehouse, Moredun and Gracemount. Poor standards of health and low levels of professional and educational qualifications are amongst the greatest challenges in these areas.

A key aim of the locality approach to achieving better outcomes for people, is to shift the focus from tackling crisis to early intervention and prevention. To achieve this, there needs to be a greater understanding of the root causes and related trigger points for individuals and families in reaching 'crisis'.

The Locality Improvement Plan identifies locality wide outcomes, but also has a specific focus on smaller geographical areas within the wider locality.

Engaging with our communities

We are committed to having meaningful conversations with the diverse communities and groups that make up the South East locality about the services that are important to them.

In developing this Plan, we've spoken with a wide range of people so far and have taken the conversations to where people are in the locality, and recognised the importance of engaging with people who would not normally take part. This has included at fayres, libraries and community centres, through community events, and during foot patrols and home visits carried out by local officers from Police Scotland and the Scottish Fire and Rescue Service.

Going forward, we will continue to build on our understanding of the needs and aspirations of our communities and a vital part of this will be effective and ongoing engagement and communication with local people.

To ensure that people can take part in a way that suits them, we will continue to create opportunities for individuals to talk to us informally face to face, complete a survey in the comfort of their home or take part online. This will enable as many people as possible to be involved.

It was also clear when developing this Plan that many local people had already had conversations about what was important to them and what they wanted to see happen in their locality. So we will keep using feedback that has been collected through various engagement and consultation exercises to help shape the Plan. This has already included feedback gathered through the Police Scotland survey, City Vision 2050, Edinburgh Children's Services Plan and the Edinburgh People Survey.

This Locality Improvement Plan will have an impact on our communities and so input and feedback from you is vital to ensure the Plan is shaped to deliver what it can for the benefit of the people in our community. We want local people to get involved and feel part of the delivery of the actions in the Plan.

What contribution could you make to your local community to make it a better place to live? For information on how to get involved, or to find out how to join a local community group, your community council or to take part in local volunteering opportunities, please get in touch with us at southeast.locality@edinburgh.gov.uk.

The outcomes are set out under the five themes of place making; children, young people and families; economy/ employability; health and wellbeing; and community safety.

Under each theme, we have set out the outcomes, high level actions and possible measures below. The measures provide an indication of what may be possible in measuring progress. These measures, along with outputs, timescales and resources to deliver the actions and achieve better outcomes are set out in accompanying work plans, which are being developed and are described in the 'How we will measure success' section.

Place making

Places that are safe, welcoming, clean and easy to move around play a critical role in helping people to lead healthy lifestyles. We want our communities in South East Edinburgh to feel proud of, and connected to, the place where they live and to feel invested in the future of their local area, whether they intend it to become their long-term home or it's just home for now. We will work together in partnership with local people to tackle the issues that impact on the quality of the environment, and to make our environment more sustainable for the future.

Children, young people and families

The Edinburgh Integrated Plan for Children and Young Person's Services sets out an ambition to make Edinburgh a truly child friendly city. All partners will work together to achieve this. The Children's Partnership aims to embed a culture where services are delivered 'with' children and young people, their families and their communities, rather than 'for' or 'to' them.

The Partnerships' aims for children and young people are that:

- 1 Every child will have the best start in life.
- 2 Children and young people's attendance, engagement and achievement will be improved and the poverty related attainment gap will be reduced.
- 3 Every child and young person will have good wellbeing and achieve the best possible health.

- 4 Equity amongst children and young people and their families will be advanced.

Economy/employability

The South East locality has a slightly higher than average level of youth unemployment and suffers from small pockets of worklessness, poverty, inequality and disadvantage within communities and across vulnerable sections of society.

Organisations will work together to target, tailor and integrate support for people who need it. The Locality

Improvement Plan will ensure that residents have the skills, aspirations and knowledge to secure sustainable employment whilst improving the general economic health of the area.

By getting involved earlier in senior phase high school, providing life skills and a planned career progression route, in addition to the development of more local jobs by working better with employers, we can help to deliver people's career aspirations in the locality.

Health and wellbeing

Our priority outcomes for improving Health and Wellbeing in the South East locality will help to make sure that the right care is delivered in the right place, at the right time for each individual. The South East locality has a slightly higher than average number of people with mental health problems when compared to other parts of Edinburgh and also has a high concentration of people aged over 85. Through working together, we want to deliver outcomes that will help individuals to achieve their full potential and encourage people to make choices that promote good health and wellbeing.

Community safety

A key element of ensuring a thriving community in the South East is through improving community safety, tackling anti-social behaviour and keeping people safe who live, work or visit the area. It is essential that residents and visitors feel safe and have the confidence to report crime and problems that affect them.

We will build on existing partnership arrangements to find longer-term solutions to persistent problems, quickly identify and tackle emerging crime trends and ensure that residents are involved in creating the solutions to problems.

We will also ensure that vulnerable members of our community are protected from harm, and victims of crime are fully supported.

Small areas

Within our locality there are communities that experience a higher level of inequality or there are social issues that significantly affect residents' quality of life. Small area plans are designed to target the key issues within these communities and, in South East Edinburgh, plans have been developed for:

- Dumbiedykes
- several communities within the Liberton Gilmerton ward – Southhouse, Burdiehouse, Gracemount, Moredun, Hyvots, Ferniehill and Fernieside
- Southside Corridor
- City Centre.

The plans below describe the high level actions separated into five themes for these small areas. As part of the next steps, detailed work plans are being developed which will support the delivery of actions in each small area. These will detail further actions, timescales and measures to track progress. The approach to measuring success is described in the 'How we will measure success' section.

Small area plan – Dumbiedykes

Dumbiedykes is a residential area in the city centre adjacent to Holyrood Park. It’s home to people who have grown up and raised their own families in Dumbiedykes, to students who are undertaking studies in Edinburgh and to people from different backgrounds and walks of life who have moved into the area more recently. The small area plan aims to improve the local environment to make it an even better place to live. It will develop the services available to local residents to ensure they meet the needs of those who need them the most, including providing more opportunities to learn about digital skills, learn new languages and get access to money and career advice. It will also aim to increase the number of activities available to children and young people who live in the area.

Outcome theme	Action
Place making	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • create local campaigns to address environmental issues that are identified by the community as being a concern in their area such as littering, fly tipping, recycling and dog fouling.
Children, young people and families	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • increase the use of the Braidwood Centre by local people through provision of more services, activities and social events • establish a local money advice drop in service • provide relevant and affordable activities for young people.
Economy/employability	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • develop a programme of learning opportunities for local people on subjects such as literacy, numeracy, digital inclusion, languages, cooking • increase employment and training support for the local community through the promotion of local jobs, volunteering opportunities and providing access to career advice.
Health and wellbeing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • explore opportunities to improve access for local people where there are currently barriers to essential services, such as lack of public transport options to dentists and GPs etc.

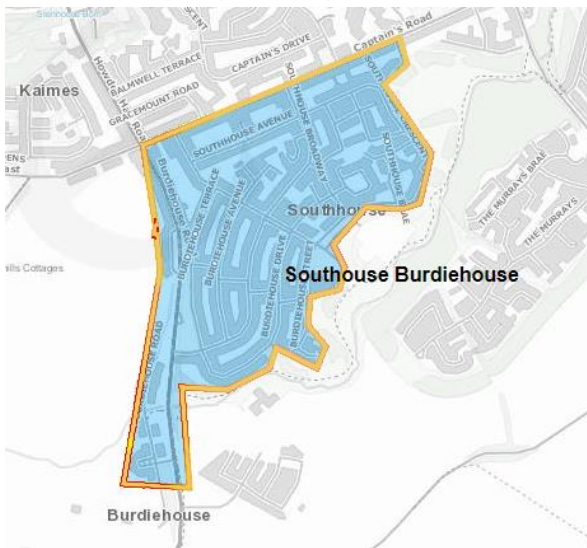

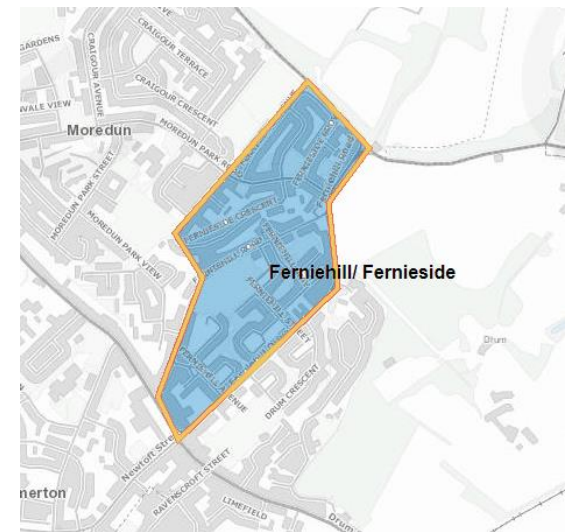

Outcome theme	Action
Community safety	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• work with the community to tackle issues of anti-social behaviour that are affecting the quality of life of residents in the area, such as drug and alcohol misuse, street drinking and vandalism.

Small area plan - Southhouse, Burdiehouse, Gracemount, Moredun, Hyvots, Ferniehill and Fernieside

The communities of Southhouse, Burdiehouse, Gracemount, Moredun, Hyvots, Ferniehill and Fernieside are all located within the Liberton Gilmerton ward of the city. Local residents have asked for services that will improve outcomes for children and families and enhance the quality of the environment in which they live. The key priorities within the small area plan aim to create employment, training and learning opportunities for local people, support the development of people’s digital skills, promote the English for Speakers of Other Languages programme, as well as create affordable activities for young people. It will also ensure the community realises benefits from local development in the area.

Outcome theme	Action
Place making	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • create local campaigns with community groups to address environmental issues that are identified as being a concern in their area such as littering, fly tipping, recycling and dog fouling.
Children, young people and families	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • provide affordable activities for young people that they want to participate in • improve communication between local residents, the Council and partner organisations about what services are available in the area, how they are accessed and explore how services can be promoted in a consistent and cohesive way at a local level.
Economy/employability	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • increase employment and training opportunities for 16-20 year olds • work with BioQuarter partners to identify opportunities to bring benefits from the development into the local community • support and develop digital inclusion in the local community to reduce social isolation, help people search for jobs and find out about services in the local area. • develop and promote the English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) programme, ensuring that the right service is provided in the right place.
Health and wellbeing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • establish local outreach information points in places that people regularly access, such as libraries, community centres, GP surgeries and shopping areas to improve access to advice, information and support.
Community safety	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • engage with young people in areas where anti-social behaviour is identified as being an issue to involve them in identifying ways to address it effectively, through diversionary activities, development of the local youth work programme and access to support and advice services.

Small area plan – Southside Corridor

The Southside Corridor is the area that runs from Newington towards the City Centre. It is a vibrant community with a high volume of both residential and commercial property, and is also home to many of the students who are studying in the city. It is a key access route into the city centre from the south with high volumes of traffic travelling through the area.

The small area plan has been created with input from the community, and it aims to enhance the area and to provide a more pleasant, healthy, safe and welcoming environment for people who live and spend time there.

Outcome theme	Action
Place making	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • reduce street clutter and create a clearway for pedestrians • improve conditions for cyclists such as road condition, bike parking, and driver/cyclist relationships • improve public spaces for people
Children, young people and families	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • increase youth work provision and activities for young people.
Economy/employability	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identify opportunities for students to contribute to the local community through volunteering and more active involvement in community groups / activities.
Health and wellbeing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • work with the community to identify what information they would like to see about local services in the area, and how access to this information can be improved locally.

Community safety

- address crime and anti-social behaviour through working in partnership with the community to gather information, provide support and engagement and, where necessary, take appropriate enforcement action
- establish walkabouts with the community to identify and deliver actions that can be taken to improve the local environment
- co-ordinate the partnership approach to addressing the needs of those street drinking, begging and sleeping rough in the area in a way that has a sustained impact.

Small area plan – City Centre

Edinburgh's City Centre is home to around 22,000 people. It is also the heart of the capital city of Scotland, a world heritage site and host to a thriving business and tourist economy. This brings some challenges as well as opportunities for the local community. The small area plan will deliver specific interventions and improvements to the way aspects of the city centre are managed. It aims to ensure local people can experience a great quality of life, make use of their public spaces and benefit from the city's attractions and festivals.

How we will measure success

The locality wide and small area plans in sections 5 and 6 contain a strategic description of high level actions and possible measures. This will be underpinned by workplans which set out detailed actions, timescales and the key measures that will demonstrate how change is taking place in each locality, forming the basis of the performance framework. These more detailed workplans will form the basis of monitoring progress allowing scrutiny of areas of success and areas of improvement, and will be subject to regular review.

An Annual Progress Report will also be produced evidencing progress on delivering the outcomes in the plan, based on the output of the continuous monitoring and scrutiny, and will be presented to Council Committee and partner governance bodies for further scrutiny and approval. The core principles and methods for monitoring progress and performance reporting are set out below:

Principles

- 1 Easy to access and understand
Information on how each outcome is progressing needs to be readily available, regularly maintained, clearly laid out and free of jargon.
- 2 Focused on outcomes as well as outputs
The aim of monitoring information is to measure the difference made to local people and communities and not just changes made to services.
- 3 Alignment with other strategic aims
The partners' progress towards achieving the outcomes must be consistent with their own established strategic aims. This is to ensure that the services are working towards clearly aligned goals and are monitoring their work in a consistent way.

Methods

- 1 Workplans
A set of more detailed plans relating to the outcomes and associated actions will allow monitoring of the partners' activity and progress towards achieving our shared goals.
- 2 Regular performance reports
These will detail progress towards achieving the outcomes. They could include actions, key performance indicators, case studies and customer research to give a balanced view on progress. These reports will form the basis for the Annual Progress Report.
- 3 Annual Progress Report
Progress in achieving the outcomes for the locality and small areas will be reported annually to Council Committee and partner governance bodies.

Equalities statement

Locality Improvement Plans set out our commitment to promoting equality and diversity. An Integrated Impact Assessment (IIA) and Strategic Environmental Assessment (SEA) have been carried out, enabling all partners to meet their legal duties to consider equality, human rights, sustainability and the environment. The assessments ensure that the planned services and policies promote equality of opportunity eliminate discrimination and harassment, and promote good relations between those with protected characteristics and those with none. They also allow broader inequalities to be addressed, ensuring that the needs of all people are met.

Introduction

Welcome from the South West Locality Leadership Team

The South West Locality Improvement Plan sets out the rationale for community planning arrangements in South West Edinburgh: who we are, how we work together, the key priorities and why they are important.

The plan will help to achieve better outcomes for our communities by addressing local priorities. It focuses on people's needs and promotes our work to reduce social and economic inequalities. This plan is an agreement between the communities of the South West and local service providers that sets out how we work together to target our resources in the most effective way and highlights how we will review and report on progress, allowing us to realign priorities as needed.

The plan considers the entire locality, setting out the most important issues across South West Edinburgh, while also focusing on smaller areas where there is a higher rate of people experiencing disadvantage.

The community is at the heart of this plan, and through 2016/17 we have worked to develop existing community plans. We have attempted to ensure more effective partnership working, so we involve communities in a greater range of participation.

The implementation of the Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015 has placed new legal duties on community planning partnerships and all public services delivered in Edinburgh. We want to build on these duties to improve how we deliver community plans, more effective community engagement, and greater community participation.

The plan brings communities closer together with local service providers to plan and deliver better services which meet the needs of the people who use them.

Partners in the South West Locality Leadership Team are:

- The City of Edinburgh Council
- Police Scotland
- NHS Lothian
- Health and Social Care Partnership
- Scottish Fire and Rescue Service
- Edinburgh College
- Edinburgh Chamber of Commerce
- Edinburgh Voluntary Organisations' Council
- Scottish Enterprise
- Skills Development Scotland
- Members of the South West and Pentlands Voluntary Forum

Context

Community planning is the process by which councils and other public bodies work with local people, businesses and voluntary groups. By doing so, partners aim to plan and deliver better services, improving the lives of people who live in the local community.

In Edinburgh the community planning partnership brings together public service providers, third sector organisations and the community, collectively known as the Edinburgh Partnership.

Over the last ten years, communities have identified their own priorities through Local Community Plans working with service providers to improve their communities. The most recent Local Community Plans ran from 2014 – 2017. During that time, organisations changed to working in four localities in the city, to manage their services within the same boundaries.

The Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015 also changed community planning in Scotland.

The Act gives local people more say in how public services are planned, designed and delivered. The Act requires public bodies to:

- identify and improve outcomes in the geographical areas which experience the greatest inequality
- prepare and publish Locality Improvement Plans to deliver better outcomes on the agreed priorities
- review and report publicly on progress and revise and update the plans as appropriate.

The South West accounts for 22% of Edinburgh's overall population. It is a very diverse area, comprising a range of housing types and a mixture of commercial, industrial, retail and leisure facilities and green spaces.

South West has areas with high levels of affluence as well as areas which are amongst the most economically and socially disadvantaged in the city.

Around 90% of residents in South West Edinburgh are satisfied with their neighbourhood as a place to live, which is slightly higher than the city average.

Satisfaction is particularly high (89-98%) for three out of the four wards with Sighthill/Gorgie lower at 80%.

It has a high proportion of council tenants and a lower than average rate of private sector renting. Owner occupancy rates remain similar to the city average, though they vary across the locality.

Challenges

In the next 20 years, South West Edinburgh is expected to see the number of older people grow, larger than Edinburgh as a whole. The population is set to increase by 18% by 2037 (+21,000

South West Edinburgh also has some of the densest and most sparsely populated areas within Edinburgh.

In 2015 the Pentland Hills Ward had less than 400 people per km², mostly concentrated in the villages of Balerno, Currie, Ratho and Juniper Green. By comparison Sighthill/Gorgie had a population density of over 4500 people per km², much of it concentrated in flats closer to the city centre.

2,650 houses currently planned

2037 expected population 135,917 people), lower than the Edinburgh-wide rate (+22%).

In particular, the number of people aged over 85 is expected to increase by almost 120% in the next twenty years. This equates to a rise from roughly 2,300 in 2017 to a projected 5,000 in 2037.

The level of economic deprivation also provides a challenge. The South West, as a whole, has a slightly higher rate of income deprivation than Edinburgh as a whole, with 9.8% of people in the South West deemed income deprived according to the 2016 Scottish Index of Multiple Deprivation (SIMD).

Amongst areas of the highest deprivation¹ in the South West, the rate of income deprivation is 19.8%, compared to 5.2% of the South West population that do not live in one of these areas. Child poverty in South West Edinburgh is the second highest of all four localities in Edinburgh, with one in five children living in low income households.

The proportion of people claiming work related benefits varies between the four South West wards, from a low of 4.9% of working age residents in Colinton/ Fairmilehead to a high of 12.0% in Sighthill/Gorgie. The overall rate for the locality is 8.1%, which is the second highest amongst the four localities and compares to a city rate of 7.7%.

Engaging with our communities

In Edinburgh, community planning partners have realigned their operations to four localities. Each locality has a leadership team that brings together senior officers from the Council, Police Scotland, NHS Lothian, Edinburgh College and the third sector.

Their role is to deliver services in a coordinated way, and to ensure the community is at the heart of how we develop local services.

Services have been divided into five workstreams reporting to the leadership team. Each workstream groups together operational managers from different organisations, allowing them to build relationships and use local data to deliver on locality priorities.

The main aim is to make sure services are delivered in a coordinated way between relevant partners in line with community priorities. Crucial to achieving this is ensuring partnerships are effective and the public participate in service development. In developing the plan for the South West locality, local people were consulted in two phases.

Phase 1

To develop a set of South West priorities the community were consulted at Neighbourhood Partnership meetings and other events throughout the locality. Participants were asked what changes they hoped to see in the future and the initial steps they thought were necessary to achieve this.

We also issued a community wide questionnaire online and through libraries asking people what they would like to see South West Edinburgh look like in the future. There was also a specific questionnaire designed for local young people.

Phase 2

This was focused on developing priorities for specific communities experiencing higher levels of deprivation. Once these areas were identified partners agreed to speak with service users and local people from these areas to understand their needs in more detail. In addition, detailed community research was commissioned to engage residents in these areas.

The results of the two phases were presented to workstream leads in summer 2017. We then developed locality and small area priorities using the responses, along with findings from other recent partner consultations and socio-economic data analysis.

Implementation

The resulting priorities are set out under five workstreams and four small areas. In both cases outcomes and actions are grouped by their workstream:

- Employability
- Health and Social Care
- Safer Communities
- Children and Young People
- Team Around Place

These include actions and possible measures. These measures, along with timescales and resources to deliver the actions are set out in accompanying work plans. An overview of this is described in the 'How we will measure success' section.

Locality-wide priorities

Employability

The South West locality is a vibrant community which suffers from small pockets of poverty and inequality. This is most visible in the communities Oxfangs, Wester Hailes, Broomhouse, and Dalry.

However, individuals with complex needs such as those with a disability are not limited to certain areas. This means we need to targeted employment support across the locality.

Learning and career opportunities may not always be available within the locality, so it is important that residents have the, knowledge and aspirations to access sustainable employment support.

We also need to address digital technologies that are rapidly changing the world of work, creating both new opportunities and barriers for jobseekers.

By drawing together community and business stakeholders with employability, and other practitioners, we will create a network to improve services which is locally focused as well as connected to partners across the city.

Partners include – The City of Edinburgh Council, Skills Development Scotland, Department for Work and Pensions Jobcentre Plus, NHS Lothian, South West high schools and libraries, employability providers, Edinburgh College and universities, Volunteer Centre and third sector representative from South West and Pentlands Voluntary Sector Forum, Joined up for Jobs network.

Health and Social Care

This theme includes support and services aimed at maintaining or improving physical and mental health and wellbeing, as well as work to prevent future ill health or intervene early on to avoid deterioration. We will focus actions on preventing individuals and communities from experiencing the effects of inequality using targeted health improvement activities, community development initiatives and improvements to the physical environment. We will make sure that people who are disadvantaged, vulnerable and have higher health needs receive a level of support that reflects their needs.

We will also work together on strengthening existing networks and building trust with our local communities to ensure we address issues that matter to people, identify gaps and seek solutions together based on best practice. We will build in ways to listen to people's experiences and hear about their needs and to take action on what people have said works well at present and what would improve their lives in the future. We will also work in partnership to raise awareness of local opportunities and activities and ensure these are accessible to as many people as possible.

Safer communities

Partners have spoken with the communities, individuals and community safety service providers within the locality and identified these priorities.

The priorities for Police Scotland’s Edinburgh Division for 2017 are:

- acquisitive crime

- public safety
- anti-social behaviour
- serious and organised crime
- terrorism and domestic extremism

These were identified through the local response to the ‘Your View Counts’ survey, which empowered local communities to inform the Police of their concerns. These have been incorporated with the South West locality engagement and developed to form the above priorities to make the best use of joint working, prevention and intervention locally within the South West.

Children and young people

Local children's services managers have met regularly as part of a multi-agency group (Children's Services Management Group) for the past five years. The group has developed good working relationships across services allowing effective partnership working, such as sharing information, pulling resources together and co-delivering activities/programmes. This partnership group is committed to improving outcomes for children and young people in South West Edinburgh and is directed by the city-wide Integrated Children's Services Plan (ICSP). The group also regularly interrogates both local and city-wide data to understand current need and identify issues requiring to be addressed.

Edinburgh is passionate about developing services that meet the needs of our children. We want to make sure that we work with parents and carers, children and young people, to do things with them, not to them or for them. Relationships between our staff and children and their families and carers are crucial in achieving that. We will work hard to build the type of relationships that allow us to regularly hear children's views about the community they live in and the kind of supports that encourage positive outcomes and assist them to meet their potential.

In preparation for this plan, we spoke to members of the community to gain their views. We want to develop that approach so that we actively gain the views of children and their families regularly. This will allow us to reflect on what we do, how we do it and whether what we are doing continues to meet the needs of the children and young people who live in the South West of Edinburgh.

The key partners will work together with children and young people to achieve the outcomes laid out in this plan. We will celebrate the achievements of children and young people, however small or large. We will work with parents, carers and young people to ensure they have the right support at the right time.

Team Around Place

Edinburgh needs more housing for an increasing population and to support economic growth. More housing increases the need for community facilities such as schools and health care facilities in easily accessible locations.

An improved, integrated transport system based on sustainable alternatives to the car is a high priority. This will help ensure that the citizens of Edinburgh can get around easily to access jobs and services. Future growth of the city will have serious consequences in terms of congestion and deteriorating air quality if current car dependency is maintained. The Climate Change (Scotland) Act 2009 and other legislation establish a duty reduce emissions and adapt to climate change.

The current planning system needs to focus on delivering great places, now and for future generations. Whilst this has been an aspiration for some time, the current public sector finance, low market confidence, complex inter-agency relationships, land reform and community empowerment all demand that there is a renewed and collective drive towards achieving this goal. Public space is all around us and is a vital part of everyday life. Good quality civic spaces contribute to the health and wellbeing of communities, the physical and mental health of individuals through passive and active recreation, including relaxation and children’s play. High quality environments help to drive economic growth, reduce crime and vandalism, and help develop a sense of community by increasing social contact and integration.

Small area priorities

It is recognised that within the locality there are communities that experience higher levels of social and economic inequality. In order to address this specific priorities and actions have been identified for these communities to improve outcomes for people living there.

By analysing measures of poverty including the Scottish Index of Multiple Deprivation (SIMD), four clusters of deprivation were identified in South West Edinburgh. These are: Oxgangs; Wester Hailes, Broomhouse/Saughton, and Dalry/Fountainbridge. As with all communities across the City, these four have their own character and how we address negative outcomes may be different in each.

South West Edinburgh –
Small area deprivation (SIMD 2016)

Oxgangs

An area largely of farmland until the early 1950s, Oxgangs was mainly a Council-built development. However, following significant regeneration the mix of tenure has changed resulting in larger proportions of privately owned properties or those managed by housing associations.

Oxgangs is bounded to the south and east by Fairmilehead, with Morningside to the North, and Colinton to the West. The area borders Colinton Mains, Fairmilehead, and Braid Valley Parks.

The closest hospital is the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary which can be reached in 25 minutes by bus. The closest Edinburgh leisure facilities are less than two miles away on Colinton Road.

There are three GP surgeries within or very close to the area.

There are multiple bus routes to the city centre, taking around 20-30 minutes. The area is well-served by shops, with small shops, supermarkets, and post offices close by.

The local Jobcentre is in Wester Hailes.

Current population is approximately 3,600, with higher than average proportion of children and older residents. The under 16 population has risen in recent years, while the number of over 65s has stayed steady.

Oxgangs is an area of deprivation surrounded by some of the most affluent communities in Edinburgh. It has an income deprivation rate of 20.4%, over twice the city average.

Wester Hailes

Although the Calders area has had housing since the 1940s, the modern Wester Hailes was not built until the early 1970s as an authority built new town style development. Significant numbers of properties are in high-rise blocks with the majority of properties managed by the Council.

Wester Hailes is bounded to the west by the Edinburgh bypass, to the south by Colinton, the north by Sighthill, with Longstone and Kingsknowe to the east. Hailes Quarry Park is the main green space for the area.

It is five miles from the Western General Hospital and seven miles from the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary.

The area is served by the Wester Hailes Education Centre housing the secondary school and community sport and leisure facilities.

There is one GP surgery in the area, and there are multiple bus routes to the city centre taking around 30 minutes.

The area has a central shopping centre containing a supermarket, Post Office, and commercial gym. Next to this is the local Council office, local library and Job Centre.

Current population is approximately 11,500. It has a higher proportion of children than Edinburgh as a whole, and lower proportions of elderly and working age adults. The level of income deprivation across the area is 28.7%.

The majority of Wester Hailes population live in areas ranked in the 10% most deprived in Scotland. With areas in Barn Park, Hailesland, Murrayburn and Calders rank among the top 5% most deprived nationally.

Broomhouse/Saughton

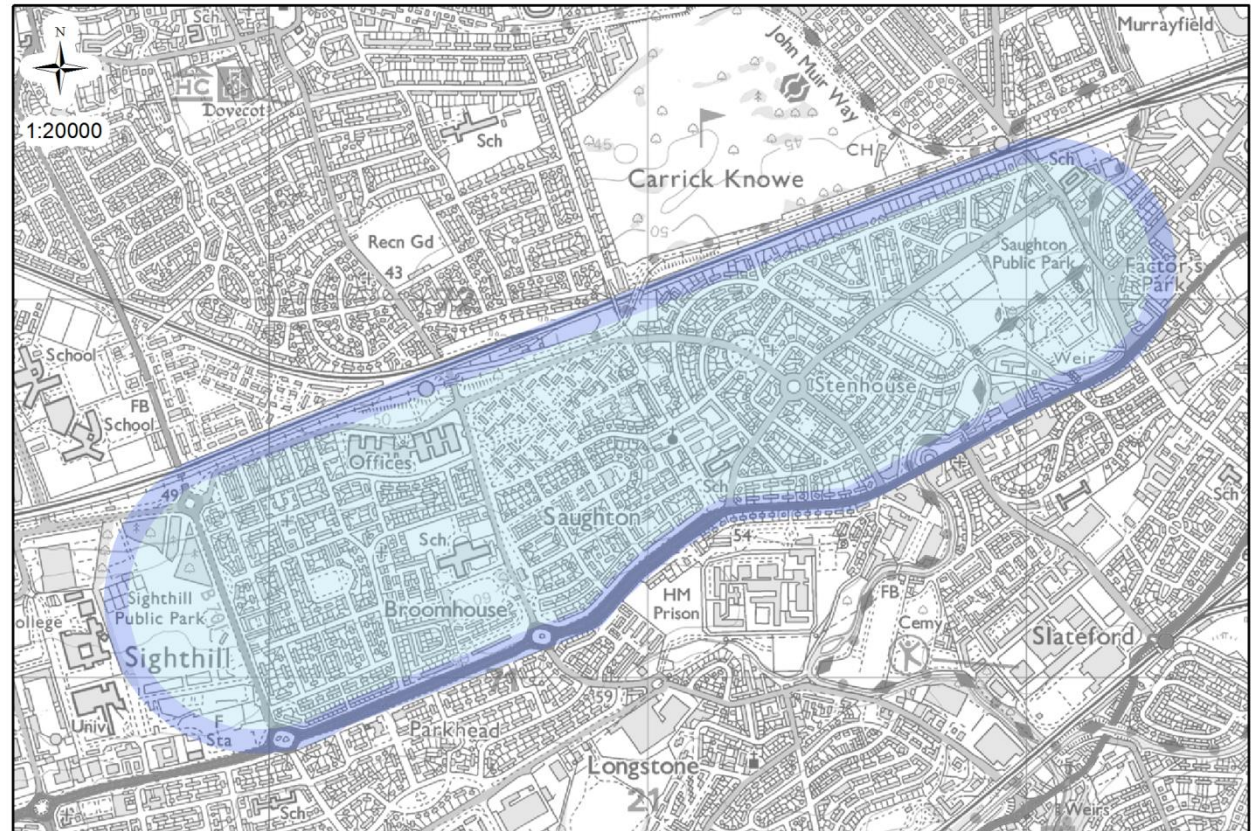

The majority of housing in the area is post-war low rise developments, including both flats and houses. The area covers a number of small communities including Broomhouse, Stenhouse, Whitson and Saughton Mains.

The area forms a corridor between the Edinburgh-Glasgow railway line to the north and Calder Road to the South, bounded by Sighthill Park to the west and Saughton Park to the east.

Calder Road is a main arterial transport route to the city centre and as such the area has access to multiple main bus routes. It also has access to the Edinburgh Trams line, providing quick access to the airport and city centre.

It is six miles from the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary and four miles to the Western General with travel to either from most of the area requiring a bus change.

The Saughton Sports complex in the east of the area houses a range of facilities, with the shared Napier University/Edinburgh College site to the west also offering some public access facilities.

There are two GP surgeries in the area, with closest Post Offices in Sighthill or Carrick Knowe. The local Jobcentre for the area is High Riggs in the city centre.

The current population is approximately 9,000, with a higher proportion of under 16s than Edinburgh as a whole.

The area has seen a rise in the under 16 population in recent years, and a slight fall in the numbers over 65.

The area forms part of larger region of deprivation that stretches from Dalry to Wester Hailes. This section includes the hotspots around Broomhouse, Saughton Mains, Stenhouse Avenue and Whitson.

Team Around Place	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • deliver the 21st Century Homes project • support a replacement Broomhouse community hub • deliver Saughton Park regeneration project • develop an improved approach to mixed tenure management.

Dalry/Fountainbridge

For most of the last century Dalry has had a mix of industrial, commercial and residential buildings. Residential properties are a mix of Victorian flats and colonies, along with newer builds on former industrial areas. The development of former brewery sites at Fountainbridge have resulted in high value flats, student accommodation and the new the Boroughmuir High School.

The area directly borders the city centre, with most amenities in walking distance. The small Murieston Park and Dalry Cemetery are the only green spaces in the area, although Harrison Park is less than a mile away.

The Royal Infirmary is less than five miles from the area, and the western General is less than two miles away.

The Dalry Swim Centre houses a swimming pool and gym, with other commercial facilities close by.

The area has two post offices, a medium sized supermarket, and a GP. The local Jobcentre is at High Riggs approximately a mile away. The area also contains a major entertainment centre at Fountain Park.

The current population is approximately 11,000, with a significantly higher proportion of working age adults compared to Edinburgh as a whole. The proportion of under 16s is less than half of the city-wide average, and the proportion of over 65s is around a third.

The SIMD highlights small pockets of deprivation particularly around Duff Street, but also in the area around Caledonian Crescent and Dundee Street.

However these are pockets within a city-centre community that also has a high number of affluent residents.

How we will measure success

The locality wide and small area plans in sections 5 and 6 contain a strategic description of high level actions and possible measures. This will be underpinned by workplans which set out detailed actions, timescales and the key measures that will demonstrate how change is taking place in each locality, forming the basis of the performance framework. These more detailed workplans will form the basis of monitoring progress allowing scrutiny of areas of success and areas of improvement and will be subject to regular review.

An Annual Progress Report will also be produced evidencing progress on delivering the outcomes in the plan, based on the output of the continuous monitoring and scrutiny. This will be presented to Council Committee and partner governance bodies for further scrutiny and approval.

There are three core principles for monitoring progress and three key methods by which performance is reported.

Principles

- 1 Easy to access and understand
Information on how each outcome is progressing needs to be readily available, regularly maintained, clearly laid out and free of jargon.
- 2 Focused on outcomes as well as outputs
The aim of monitoring information is to measure the difference made to local people and communities and not just changes made to services.
- 3 Alignment with other strategic aims
Partners' progress towards achieving outcomes must be consistent with their own established strategic aims. This is to ensure that the services are working towards clearly aligned goals and are monitoring their work in a consistent way.

Methods

- 1 Workplans
A set of detailed plans relating to the outcomes and associated actions allows monitoring of partner activity and progress towards achieving shared goals.
- 2 Regular performance reports
These detail progress towards achieving outcomes for the Locality Leadership Team. They can include actions, key performance indicators, case studies and customer research to give a balanced view on progress. These reports form the basis for the Annual Progress Report.
- 3 Annual Progress Report
Progress in achieving outcomes for the locality and small areas will be reported annually to Council Committee and partner governance bodies.

Equalities statement

Locality Improvement Plans set out our commitment to promoting equality and diversity. An Integrated Impact Assessment (IIA) and Strategic Environmental Assessment (SEA) have been carried out, enabling all partners to meet their legal duties to consider equality, human rights, sustainability and the environment. The assessments ensure that the planned services and policies promote equality of opportunity, eliminate discrimination and harassment; and promote good relations between those with protected characteristics and those with none. They also allow broader inequalities to be addressed, ensuring that the needs of all people are met.
