Report

Edinburgh International Conference Centre – annual update for the year ending 31 December 2020

2. Executive Summary

- 2.1 This report provides an update on the performance of EICC in the year ending 31 December 2020. The performance reflects the difficulties that COVID-19 has created for the events and conferencing industry; notwithstanding these, EICC has managed to significantly mitigate the impact of COVID-19. Overall, EICC made a loss of £1,721,998, compared to a profit of £623,483 in the prior year. EICC's accounts for 31 December 2020 have been signed-off by its auditor. It is recommended that the results be referred to Governance Risk and Best Value Committee for consideration.

3. Background

- 3.1 On 13 December 2012 the Council approved arrangements for the governance of arms-length companies. The responsibility for overseeing the performance of EICC lies with the Housing, Homelessness and Fair Work Committee.
- 3.2 The principal remit of EICC, as detailed in the Shareholders' Agreement with the City of Edinburgh Council, is to:
- 3.2.1 Procure the successful and continued operation of the Centre as a venue for conferences, exhibitions, trade shows, annual general meetings, cultural and sporting events, award ceremonies and other such events in a global market place with international and national customers so as to maximise the economic benefit to the City of Edinburgh;
 - 3.2.2 Insure, maintain and upgrade the Centre from time to time as necessary to carry on its business; and
 - 3.2.3 Operate on a prudent commercial basis in accordance with the Business Plan.
- 3.3 The Centre opened on Morrison Street in 1995 as a joint undertaking between Edinburgh District Council and Lothian and Edinburgh Enterprise. It is now owned by the City of Edinburgh Council. A £30m expansion of the Centre completed in 2013, enabling it to accommodate conferences of up to 2,000 delegates.

- 3.4 EICC occupies the Conference Centre on a peppercorn rent. Loan stock of £61.6m is due to the Council/CEC Holdings, representing money and assets paid into the company since its inception (for example the cost of constructing and extending the Centre) but no call is being made on this at the current time. Since 2014, EICC has been charged by the Council with being financially self-sufficient.
- 3.5 On 7 June 2018, the Housing and Economy Committee agreed a motion calling for a report into the future capital expenditure requirements of EICC.
- 3.6 On 12 March 2020, the City of Edinburgh Council was presented with a business case proposing that the Council enter into a 25-year lease on a 365-bedroom hotel at The Haymarket Edinburgh, which would in turn be sub-let to EICC to operate as a hotel and hotel school under a franchise agreement with an international hotel brand, generating sufficient income to meet all EICC capital expenditure requirements over the duration of the lease along with surpluses for redistribution to the Council in later years. The Council agreed the business case and granted delegated authority to the Chief Executive to proceed with all agreements and actions required to commence the project. Subsequently, officers began detailed negotiations with the hotel developer around the lease terms.

4. Main report

EICC performance

- 4.1 Appendix 1 provides a summary of EICC's activities in financial year 2020 (1 January 2020 to 31 December 2020).
- 4.2 The paper summarises:
 - 4.2.1 The company's Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) set against previous years' performance;
 - 4.2.2 The key business developments achieved in the year;
 - 4.2.3 EICC's corporate and social responsibility, activity and its environmental focus; and
 - 4.2.4 The challenges EICC is facing and its focus and key objectives moving forward.
- 4.3 The contents of the paper reflect the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, which forced the closure of the Conference Centre on 18 March 2020. This had an adverse impact on the performance of EICC and its finances. The paper sets out the actions carried out by EICC to mitigate the impact of the pandemic, including securing new forward bookings; minimising operating costs; launching a virtual conferencing service; and making use of the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme.

These and other actions enabled a forecast operating deficit of £5m-£6m to be managed down significantly. This deficit has been financed from EICC's own reserves without any debt being taken on or any call on Council finances. Despite these challenges, EICC was able to avoid making any team members redundant.

- 4.4 It should be noted that Committee has previously agreed new KPI headings for the EICC but that these are not being reported upon at this stage. They will be reflected in the next performance report following the agreement of the SDA.
- 4.5 Appendix 2 sets out the financial position of the company for 2020. The performance reflects the significant challenges to the events and conferencing industry that COVID-19 has given rise to. The headline figure is a loss of £1,721,998, compared to £623,483 of profit in the prior year. EICC is currently forecasting an operating deficit of approximately £800,000 for the year ending 31 December 2021.
- 4.6 Appendix 3 provides the audit findings for the year ending 31 December 2020. The report concludes that the financial statements give a true and fair view and accord with applicable law; that no material issues affecting the company's ability to continue as a going concern have been identified (albeit COVID-19 is identified as an ongoing area of material uncertainty); and that no subsequent events necessitating amendments or disclosures to be made to the financial statements had been identified.
- 4.7 The auditor recommends that EICC reviews its current governance structure and considers whether supporting committees (e.g. an audit committee) would offer benefits to the Board; in response, EICC has noted that it anticipates making significant changes to its corporate and governance structure as part of the hotel and hotel school project.
- 4.8 This performance update should be referred to Governance Risk and Best Value Committee, in line with the Council's governance arrangements for arm's length companies.
- 4.9 It should also be noted that in accordance with Council policy on arms-length external organisations (ALEOs) that a service level agreement (SLA) needs to be agreed between the Council and the EICC. This work has been delayed due to the need to revise the document to reflect the hotel and hotel school project but a draft document (referred to as the Strategic Delivery Agreement) was considered by the City of Edinburgh Council on 28 October 2021, with a full document to be presented to Housing, Homelessness and Fair Work Committee at a future date.

Hotel and hotel school project

- 4.10 A separate report on the hotel and hotel school project was considered by the City of Edinburgh Council on 28 October 2021. A verbal update will be provided to the Committee.

5. Next Steps

- 5.1 The SDA for the Conference Centre and Hotel (if approved by Council) will be brought back to committee in January 2022 for consideration.
- 5.2 The next annual update on EICC's performance will be in Quarter 3 2022 and will reflect the new KPIs that will be set out in the SDA.

6. Financial impact

- 6.1 As noted above, while EICC sustained a loss in the year ending 31 December 2020, there has been no call on Council finances. The EICC Board has not recommended the payment of a dividend for 31 December 2020.

7. Stakeholder/Community Impact

- 7.1 There are no stakeholder or community impacts arising from this report.

APPENDIX 1 - EICC PERFORMANCE REVIEW 2020

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this paper is to update and inform the committee on the performance of the Edinburgh International Conference Centre during the year to 31 December 2020 and to highlight some of the achievements realised by the Company in the period under review.

CONTEXT

As committee Members are aware businesses, and indeed industries, across the UK, and much further afield, have been decimated as a result of the coronavirus pandemic.

Most operators have seen their turnover slashed and have struggled to reduce their operating costs. As a result, the vast majority of businesses have made losses during the period of the pandemic.

Indeed, the pandemic has resulted in many companies going out of business and hundreds of thousands of people within the UK have been made redundant due to COVID-19.

However, the Executive believe that the Company performed much better, during 2020, than many would have expected at the outset of the pandemic. Indeed, it believes that since the Conference Centre was forced to close for business, on 18 March, the EICC has:

- maximised its revenue generating opportunities
- secured a strong, and improved, business pipeline for future years
- enhanced its technical capacity
- minimised the operating costs that it has incurred
- safeguarded and maintained the Conference Centre building, as appropriate
- improved the resilience of the business

PERFORMANCE REVIEW

This paper seeks to expand further on what the Executive consider to be the significant achievements, referred to above.

Financial Outturn

The Executive had forecast an operating surplus of £911,000 for the year to 31 December 2020. This was based on, amongst other things: the level of contracted bookings that had been secured for the year: an assessment of the conference market, which had been undertaken in the latter part of 2019; and the revenue shortfall that still had to be achieved to make the sales target for 2020.

The Executive believed that achieving this target would constitute a challenge but believed it would be achievable given the record level of business on the books and the success of previous years.

However, COVID-19 totally changed the business landscape and, as noted above, the Executive had to close the building only 11 weeks into the new year, on 18 March, as a result of the pandemic.

At this early stage in the financial year and with material uncertainty over the ability to hold conferences and events for the remainder of the year the business faced a potential operating deficit of £5-£6m.

The Executive quickly initiated a review of the Centre's operations and implemented substantial cost saving measures and initiatives to protect the business and mitigate expenditure and consequently losses. The result of these measures and initiatives was a saving in operating expenditure versus budget of £3.2m

With a robust sales contract in place for all events the Executive pursued a strategy of balancing the desire to maximise revenues, with the need to maintain customer loyalty and preserve customer relationships in order to optimise business potential for future years.

EICC's Sales Team were faced with an array of extremely challenging conversations and negotiations with clients as they requested that their bookings be postponed or cancelled. However, due to the professionalism of the sales team, supported by the Leadership team along with the robust sales contract which the company has in place for all events, we were able to successfully execute our agreed strategy.

In addition to this we also secured many event contracts for future years as part of their negotiations. Several of these contracts are on a multiyear basis. In fact, over £3m worth of revenues were generated in this way for future years, during 2020, from clients who had initially been looking to cancel their event.

The Executive believe this to be a tremendous achievement and a real declaration from clients that EICC wants to act in their best interests; and the strong customer relationship bonds that the team has with many of its clients.

Notwithstanding the level of sales that were generated during the year and the value of cost savings that were made the Company produced an operating deficit of £836,000 for the year to 31 December 2020.

The Executive believe that this should be viewed as a considerable achievement given that: the Conference Centre was unable to operate for 41 weeks of the year; the 11 weeks in which it was open for business are historically the worst performing months of the financial year; and the potential losses facing the business at the outset of the pandemic given we were unable to operate were between £5 and £6m.

Committee Members should note that the Company has financed this operating deficit entirely from its own reserves built up over the last 5 years and has not had to take on any debt or had any ask from the City of Edinburgh council or any other financial institution.

It should also be noted that notwithstanding the support received from Government, in respect of the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme, the Company operated throughout the shutdown period without making any team members redundant. We are encouraged and pleased to now have every team member back to work.

Minimising Operating Costs

Following the closure of the Conference Centre and the curtailment of the Company's events activities the Executive quickly initiated a review of the Centre's operations and implemented substantial cost saving measures and initiatives to protect the business and mitigate expenditure and consequently losses.

Committee members should note that from April 2020:

- a significant number of EICC's team members were placed on furlough which generated savings in the year
- the company was granted non-domestic rates relief for 2020/21 which generated savings in 2020
- EICC's cleaning staff were relocated to other Mitie sites ensuring job retention
- the security team was reduced due to the building being in shutdown mode and again most personnel were re-located to other Croma Vigilant security sites Ensuring jobs were retained.
- the building's air conditioning and boiler systems were only used on a limited basis giving rise to significant cost savings in gas and electricity
- contract holidays were negotiated with all maintenance contract providers

The Executive, more so than ever, placed great focus on containing all levels of expenditure incurred during the year and as a result of: a stringent focus on cost controls; the achievement of a number of operating efficiencies; negotiating with key partners and suppliers; and deferring expenditure where appropriate, outgoings for the year were significantly below budget.

The Executive believe that these savings, which amounted to £3.2m in comparison to budget, were crucial to it mitigating losses and preserving cash during 2020. It believes that without the decisive action that was taken in this regard the savings realised for the year would have been significantly lower than what was achieved as noted above.

Strong Business Pipeline

Notwithstanding the impact that coronavirus has had on bookings in the short term and the global uncertainty surrounding future business operations, caused by the pandemic, the sales team have continued to receive enquiries and contract new business for future years.

In total 60 new events, worth £4.83m, were contracted during 2020, for future years. The Executive believe that this is a remarkable achievement given the uncertainty that has been caused by the pandemic and a reduction in the sales team with many of the team being placed on furlough to mitigate cost.

Throughout 2020, the Marketing Team, continued to ensure that the EICC remained visible to clients, the industry and members of the public. Thus, in the course of last year: 28 marketing campaigns were launched; EICC was cited in almost 1,800 news articles; and there was an increase in 'hits' to and 'dwell' time on the EICC website.

These have all ensured that the Conference Centre has continued to attract reasonably high levels of booking enquiries, in the course of last year and into 2021. It is interesting to note that many of the client relationships that were initially created, and subsequently strengthened during the lockdown period, have been invaluable in attracting many of these enquiries.

Committee Members should note that the level of enquiries for events taking place in 2022, 2023 and beyond have begun to increase noticeably in the last 2 months when restrictions eased allowing events under 2,000 delegates to take place without government approval.

Committee Members may be aware, that many association events book their meetings years in advance and therefore the strength of the sales pipeline is crucial to the future business prospects of the EICC.

At 31 December 2020 the EICC had 150 confirmed future bookings, covering the period January 2021 to December 2028. This compares with: 179 confirmed bookings at the end of 2019; 155 confirmed bookings at the end of 2018; 160 confirmed bookings at the end of 2017; and 148 confirmed bookings at the end of 2016.

As can be seen from the figures shown above the level of future bookings at the end of 2020 compares very favourably with previous years, considering the impact of the pandemic, and the Executive believes that the Company's future prospects are much better than could have been imagined 11 months ago.

Enhancing Technical Capacity

Given the huge negative impact of the coronavirus pandemic on the Company's traditional client base and in order to retain as much business as possible in 2020 the Executive sought to develop alternative event platforms which it could offer to clients.

As the EICC has an excellent reputation for technical facilities and infrastructure as well as for producing high quality and creative technical events for clients, the Executive believed that this would provide a perfect platform for developing a hybrid/virtual event solution for clients.

EICC's message to clients was therefore "Whether it takes place online, in-person, or a combination of both, our hybrid event solutions provide real experiences".

Make it Edinburgh Live is a series of hybrid event solutions which translate the non-tangible elements of an event to an online format. The online element runs as it would if the event were taking place within the EICC - starting with a plenary and flowing into breakout sessions.

There is also the opportunity for one or more speakers, or event hosts, to present from the EICC to the client's audience of delegates, who are viewing remotely. In this scenario the EICC provides the controlled space and the audio-visual support for the event speakers or hosts to deliver their presentation, or to compere the event, in a relaxed and professional environment.

EICC's Technical Team also created e-Exhibition and e-Poster functionality which gives clients a virtual experience through an exhibition hall. Whether onsite or online delegates can enjoy the same experience and visit multiple stands viewing documents, videos and have live face to face meetings with exhibitors and other delegates.

A polling and Q&A app is also integrated into the software and enables delegates to: interact with the event sessions; vote on questions that are presented; and ask questions.

Finally, in addition to the above the Executive in conjunction with Leith's have also developed a dinner package which provides for corporate dining at home on a large scale with our largest dine at home event to date catering for over 2,000 people.

The Executive believe that, over a short space of time, the EICC Team developed an excellent set of online proposals to offer to clients as an alternative to hosting traditional style events.

It is important to note that these offerings came at very little cost to the business. There was no capital investment, and the only operational cost was the time invested by the technical and operational team who had not been furloughed.

These virtual options proved to be very successful in the second half of 2020. In total 14 virtual conferences and awards ceremonies for a range of both new and existing clients were held with excellent feedback from both clients and delegates.

Clearly the EICC continue to offer online and hybrid events to clients and the Executive believe that these event options will continue to generate revenues in the future albeit the industry feedback suggests a real desire to get back to face to face live events.

Safeguarding the Conference Centre

As the building remained closed for 10 out of 12 months in 2020, a key priority of the Executive was to ensure that the Conference Centre was safeguarded and maintained, to the appropriate level, during the pandemic, due to the fact that:

- it is a large, complex building which contains a lot of valuable plant, equipment and furniture
- it generally attracts a lot of interest from a wide cross section of the public
- it needed to be ready to resume operations as quickly as possible once authority to host events is granted by Government

As such the Executive determined that from the time the building was placed in shutdown mode a number of protocols should be put in place. These included:

- a 24-hour security presence should remain in place
- essential building maintenance should continue to be undertaken.
- a limited number of team members could be granted access to the building from time to time, to undertake necessary building related work or where this is deemed essential to facilitate their working from home.
- any team member accessing the building had to have pre-authorised permission to do so, such authorisations being granted by the Leadership Team. Security Control were instructed to record the names of anyone entering the building.
- for security reasons, the staff entrance on Morrison Street was locked down and remained so until the building was operating normally again. All access to the building was therefore restricted to the Loading Bay staff entrance and Security Control must be contacted by intercom or telephone prior to anyone entering the Conference Centre.
- all necessary measures aimed at preventing the spread of coronavirus were and continues to be undertaken by all people entering the building
- an enhanced cleaning and hygiene regime was put in place
- the updating of crisis management documents, which include a new EICC pandemic policy
- the introduction of Covid-19 control measures such as: awareness signage; safety screens; people flow measures; and temperature screening

The Executive believes that the maintenance and introduction of these measures was crucial in protecting the EICC's assets; keeping the building in 'nearly ready' mode; and protecting team members and others entering the building.

This has been borne out by the fact that: there have been no break-ins to what is ostensibly an empty building; as far as EICC is aware no contractors or students attending the Napier University classes contracted coronavirus.

Improved Business Resilience

The information contained within this paper demonstrates that COVID-19 has had a significant negative impact on the Company and its business.

However, the Executive believe that it has managed the situation and the Company has performed extremely well, in relative terms, throughout the period of the pandemic.

Whilst the Company made an operating loss for the first time since 2016, this was in extenuating circumstances. The financial outturn for the year was also much better than might have been expected when the Company closed for business and when compared to a number of the forecasts that were made in the course of the year.

The Sales Team performed admirably under very difficult circumstances and have developed, improved and strengthened relationships with many clients, which in turn offers EICC increased levels of security due to the heightened loyalty of clients for future years.

The Company has maintained its marketing activities throughout the shutdown and enquiry levels for future years have picked up markedly in recent months. In addition to this, 60 new events worth £4.83m were contracted, for future years, during 2020. Furthermore, the company, following early and proactive engagement, secured a contract with NHS Lothian to become the principal vaccination centre for the health board from January 2021.

Indeed, the number of events booked for future years, as at the end of 2020, was not markedly different from the figure achieved in the previous 4 years albeit restriction continued to impact events throughout 2021.

The Technical Team has demonstrated its prowess and developed a range of online events and features, in very quick time, which retained and/or secured 14 virtual conferences and award ceremonies in the second half of 2020.

The Executive sought to make expenditure reductions across a wide area of the business's operations. It believes that these savings, which amounted to £3.2m in comparison to budget, were crucial to it mitigating losses and preserving cash.

The Executive acted to safeguard the Conference Centre building, its contents and all of the people who enter it, which entailed the introduction of new measures and protocols.

The Executive believe that all of the above contributed, in their own way, to ensuring the significant achievements that have been attained during 2020. All of the different parts of the business have contributed to this success and the Executive believes that the EICC Team has grown stronger as a result of this.

Indeed, the Executive believes that much of what has been achieved would not have been possible without the hard work, commitment and enthusiasm of the team members who have worked through this period.

In the course of last year, the Executive believe that the Company has: adapted very well to the circumstances it found itself in; been extremely proactive in its approach to the problems it faced; and performed as well as could have been expected given the conditions that it faced.

HOTEL DEVELOPMENT

Considerable progress was also made with regard to the Hotel and Hotel School project in the course of last year.

Representatives from EICC/CEC finalised a business case for the project, a series of briefing meetings for Councillors took place and a data room facility was set up. This culminated in the project being approved by Full Council in March 2020.

Since then, the Executive believe that significant progress has been made in respect of: franchise agreement negotiations with Hyatt International; the layout and internal design of the hotel; the development of the hotel's operating systems and processes; the formulation and development of a wide range of matters relating to the Hotel School with Edinburgh College; lease negotiations with QMile Group; and the establishment of governance documentation with CEC.

The Executive believes that the progress that has been made in all of these areas means that a number of the key agreements, relating to the project, will soon be in a position to be signed off.

STRATEGIC REPORT

Principal activities

The principal activities that the Company undertook during the year were in respect of the operation of an international conference centre.

Results and review of the business

The results for the year are shown on the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income on page 11.

The loss from continuing operations before tax for the year amounted to £1,721,998 (2019 – profit of £630,202). The Company has, after taxation adjustments, a total comprehensive loss for the year of £1,721,998 (2019 – profit of £623,483). The Directors do not recommend the payment of a dividend for the year ended 31 December 2020.

The year to December 2020 saw the Company report an operating loss, before adjustments for depreciation and the release of capital grants, as a result of having to close the conference and exhibition centre in March 2020 due to government-imposed restrictions relating to coronavirus.

At the outset of 2020 the company had anticipated a strong financial year and a continuation of the growth shown in the preceding five years which had led to a marked increase in the number of enquiries, volume of events and consequently revenues and gross profits derived from the Conference Centre's association, corporate, banqueting and other business. Future business on the books was at its highest ever level coming into 2020, both for the current year and for each of the succeeding years until 2024.

Notwithstanding this, the Conference Centre and the Company's administrative offices were closed on Wednesday the 18th March in line with government guidance, this decision was coupled with the introduction of a working from home policy, which was put into place with immediate effect.

This proved to be a very challenging time which created a dynamic environment with constantly changing client situations and scenarios given the uncertainty on the timescale of restrictions within the events sector and the impact on international travel. The company dealt with the situation in a measured and professional way, dealing with client's requests for their bookings to be postponed, cancelled, or moved to EICC's newly developed virtual platform.

Given the negative impact of the coronavirus pandemic on the Company's traditional client base and in order to retain as much business as possible in 2020 the Company developed an alternative virtual event platform. "Make it Edinburgh Live" delivered 15 virtual events in 2020 and will prove crucial in the months and years ahead with many events potentially being delivered on a hybrid basis with delegates both, in the venue and online.

The cumulative effect of the company's activities and negotiations in conjunction with the robust client contract which EICC has in place had a significant impact on the Company's revenues for the year which amounted to £3.188m. Whilst this was a significant decrease on the previous year's figure of £9.359m, the revenues generated were significantly greater than could have been expected given the Conference Centre was not permitted to host business events for 41 weeks of the financial year.

Expenditure in respect of cost of sales and administration expenses totalled £4.557m in 2020, which was a decrease of £3.860m on the previous year's expenditure which had amounted to £8.417m. This represented a decrease of 46% compared to the expenditure recorded during the previous year. This was achieved as a result of the reductions in gross revenues, the benefit from government initiatives such as the Job Retention Scheme and Non-Domestic Rates relief, stringent focus on cost reduction management and negotiation of contract holidays with suppliers and third-party providers.

The delegates who did attend events at the EICC during the year generated an economic impact of £4.2m in the first quarter of 2020. The economic impact that is produced as a result of the EICC's activities helps to create and sustain employment within Edinburgh and further afield.

The Company continues to align its operations with the business excellence model, and it is accredited to several quality standards. These standards cover systems management, human resources and environmental practices and the EICC continues to achieve very positive results from assessments in respect of its re-accreditation to these standards.

The Company made continued and significant progress towards its aim of operating an hotel, in close proximity to the Conference Centre, during the year. It is believed that this is essential in order to provide the necessary funding for the Conference Centre's long-term capital expenditure programme. The City of Edinburgh Council, the Company's parent organisation, approved the project on 12 March 2020. Activities aimed at securing an agreement for lease with the developer and a franchise agreement with the hotel brand have taken place since then and at this point in time these negotiations are nearing completion and will soon be in a position to sign off before construction commences later in the year.

Future business on the books remained strong coming into 2021, both for the current year and for each of the succeeding years until 2025. The coronavirus pandemic has however had a significant impact on business event bookings for the period from January until the end of July this year as government restrictions prevented events from taking place. Though, at this point in time it is difficult to ascertain how great the effect of the crisis will be on the Company from August until the end of the year as there is still uncertainty surrounding restrictions and the ability for international delegates to travel without requirement to quarantine.

Notwithstanding the restrictions in the first half of 2021 the Conference Centre secured a large contract with NHS Lothian to use the Conference Centre as a covid mass vaccination centre between January and July. The company are pleased to be part of the solution in the country's vaccination rollout whilst allowing the Centre to be operational in a covid secure manner.

The principal risk to the business from the pandemic is the cancellation of business, or the rescheduling of events to subsequent years, resulting in a significant loss of revenues with a corresponding reduction in operating profits for 2021. Whilst the easing of restrictions within the United Kingdom from May 2021 and proposed roadmap gives the company real optimism for 2021 there is uncertainty around the timeline on international travel and consequently international delegates attending events in Edinburgh.

The company has negotiated the retention and rescheduling of a significant amount of client business since the crisis began and this has been aided by the client relationships that have been developed over many years and by the loyalty of many of the Company's customers. It is believed that many of these customer relationships have been strengthened further as a result of the flexible approach that the Company has adopted during the crisis.

The Company has held the view for many years that its team members are its principal asset. It is therefore keen to protect and retain the experience and expertise that they have with regard to the operation of the Conference Centre. The support of the Job Retention Scheme throughout 2020 and in to 2021 has been crucial in achieving that objective.

The Company has budgeted an operating deficit of £1.2m for 2021, however, as a result of the extension of government initiatives this has been upgraded and the Company is now forecasting producing an operating deficit of £0.8m for the year. The full year outcome will, however, be affected by: how long the crisis lasts; the success of the vaccine rollout both nationally and internationally; when the further easing of restrictions will apply to the Conference Centre's business; the restrictions on international travel; and the social distancing measures that will need to be put in place and how these will affect the Conference Centre's operations.

Notwithstanding the above the Conference Centre has an extensive list of bookings for future years and the Company's business outlook for the medium and long term remains very positive. The level of future bookings at the end of 2020 compares very favourably with previous years. Considering the impact of the pandemic, we believe that the Company's prospects look extremely healthy

This is reinforced by the fact that even during the current pandemic the company has continued to receive a steady stream of enquiries for 2021 and subsequent years. Indeed, within 2020 the company contracted new events for 2021 and beyond worth in excess of £4.8m.

Key performance indicators

The Company's performance with regard to its key financial and other performance indicators during the year was as follows:-

	2020 £'000	2019 £'000	% Change
Turnover	3,188	9,359	(293.6)%
Cost of sales and administration expenses	4,557	8,417	(84.7)%
Customer delight	90%	89%
Economic impact	4,158	56,713

Risks and uncertainties

In common with many other businesses the Company is exposed to a range of risks. The principal risks and uncertainties facing the Company are associated with market forces and the behaviour of competition as well as the risks associated with catastrophic events.

As noted above, the coronavirus pandemic will undoubtedly have a significant impact on the Company's business results for 2021. Whilst the extent of the risk posed by the crisis remains uncertain, the Directors believe that the business outlook for the medium and long term remains very positive.

The Directors recognise that the Company has lost business, and will lose business in the future, as a result of Brexit and the uncertainty surrounding its implementation. However, they believe that such losses will be compensated for by securing increased levels of business from the UK, America and the Far East.

Future developments

The Directors intend to maintain the objectives and aims of the Company, which have resulted in many notable achievements and successes to date.

Going concern

In line with the FRC guidance on Going Concern issued in November 2009, the directors have undertaken an exercise to review the appropriateness of the continued use of the Going Concern basis.

The Company's business activities, together with the factors likely to affect its future development, its financial position, financial risk management objectives and its exposure to interest rate, credit and liquidity risk are described in note 22 to the financial statements.

The Company's ultimate parent entity, the City of Edinburgh Council, has committed to providing continued funding, sufficient to meet all liabilities as and when they fall due.

After making suitable enquiries, the Directors have a reasonable expectation that the Company has adequate resources to remain in operation for the foreseeable future and have therefore continued to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements, as described in note 2 to the financial statements.

Directors' responsibilities for the Financial Statements

The Directors are responsible for preparing the Directors' Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the Directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the Directors have prepared the company financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS's) as adopted by the European Union. Under Company law the Directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Company and of the profit or loss for that period. In preparing these financial statements the Directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- state whether applicable IFRS's, as adopted by the European Union have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- make judgments and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Company will continue in business.

The Directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the Company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the Company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and Article 4 of the IAS Regulation. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Disclosure of information to the auditor

So far as each person who was a Director at the date of approving this report is aware, there is no relevant audit information of which the Company auditor is unaware and each Director has taken all the steps that they ought to have taken to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the auditor is aware of that information.

Auditor

A resolution to re-appoint Azets Audit Services as the Company's auditor will be put to the forthcoming Annual General Meeting.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF EDINBURGH INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE CENTRE LTD

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Edinburgh International Conference Centre Limited (the 'company') for the year ended 31 December 2020 which comprises the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income, the Statement of Changes in Equity, the Statement of Financial Position, the Cashflow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) as adopted by the European Union.

In our opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 December 2020 and of its loss for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with IFRSs as adopted by the European Union; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Material uncertainty related to going concern

We draw attention to the Directors Report and note 2 in the financial statements, which indicate that Edinburgh International Conference Centre Ltd is reliant on the continued support of the City of Edinburgh Council to continue as a going concern. As stated in note 2, these events or conditions, indicate that a material uncertainty exists that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Other information

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit:

- the information given in the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the strategic report or the directors' report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the directors' responsibilities Statement set out on pages 6 and 7, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above and on the Financial Reporting Council's website, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud.

We obtain and update our understanding of the entity, its activities, its control environment, and likely future developments, including in relation to the legal and regulatory framework applicable and how the entity is complying with that framework. Based on this understanding, we identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. This includes consideration of the risk of acts by the entity that were contrary to applicable laws and regulations, including fraud.

In response to the risk of irregularities and non-compliance with laws and regulations, including fraud, we designed procedures which included:

- Enquiry of management and those charged with governance around actual and potential litigation and claims as well as actual, suspected and alleged fraud;
- Reviewing minutes of meetings of those charged with governance;
- Assessing the extent of compliance with the laws and regulations considered to have a direct material effect on the financial statements or the operations of the company through enquiry and inspection;
- Reviewing financial statement disclosures and testing to supporting documentation to assess compliance with applicable laws and regulations;
- Performing audit work over the risk of management bias and override of controls, including testing of journal entries and other adjustments for appropriateness, evaluating the business rationale of significant transactions outside the normal course of business and reviewing accounting estimates for indicators of potential bias.

Because of the inherent limitations of an audit, there is a risk that we will not detect all irregularities, including those leading to a material misstatement in the financial statements or non-compliance with regulation. This risk increases the more that compliance with a law or regulation is removed from the events and transactions reflected in the financial statements, as we will be less likely to become aware of instances of non-compliance. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Authorisation of financial statements and statement of compliance with IFRS's

The financial statements of Edinburgh International Conference Centre Limited for the year ended 31 December 2020 were approved by the Board of Directors on 25 May 2021 and signed on its behalf by the Directors noted on the Statement of Financial Position. Edinburgh International Conference Centre Limited is a company incorporated and domiciled in Scotland. The principal activities of the Company are described in Note 3 and information regarding its ultimate parent company is presented in Note 21.

2. Accounting policies

The following accounting policies have been applied consistently in dealing with items which are considered material in relation to the Company's financial statements.

Basis of preparation

The Company's financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union as they apply to the financial statements of the Company for the year ended 31 December 2020 and applied in accordance with the Companies Act 2006.

The accounting policies which follow set out those policies which apply, in preparing the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2020. The Company has used the "cost of sales" method of presenting income and expenditure and the Company's financial statements are presented in Sterling.

Adoption of new and revised standards

The following standards and interpretations are mandatory for the first time for the year ended 31 December 2020 but are either not applicable or have no material impact on the company's financial statements; IFRS 3, Amendments to IFRS 3 – definition of a business, IAS 1 and IAS 8, Amendments to IAS 1 and IAS 8 on the definition of material and Conceptual Framework, Revised Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting.

The company has adopted, where applicable, the following new and amended IFRSs as of 1 January 2020:

- IFRS 3, Amendments to IFRS 3 – definition of a business

- Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting (Revised)
- IBOR Reform and its Effects on Financial Reporting – Phase 1
- IFRS 16, Amendment – Covid-19 Related Rent Concessions

Other new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations that are mandatory for the first time in 2020 are considered to have no significant or material effect on the company's financial statements.

The Directors have reviewed the requirements of the new standards and interpretations listed above and they are either not applicable or not expected to have a material impact on the company's financial statements in the period of initial application.

Going concern

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis which assumes that the company will continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. The validity of this assumption depends on the continuing support of the Company's ultimate parent undertaking, The City of Edinburgh Council. Notwithstanding the impacts COVID-19 has had on the business, having taken into account the Company's cash balances at the year end it is the directors' opinion that the financial statements should be prepared on a going concern basis.

Judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported for assets and liabilities at the end of the reporting period and the amounts reported for revenues and expenses during the year. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could, however, result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of the asset or liability affected in future periods.

The areas impacted by such judgements and estimation uncertainties, within these accounts, relate primarily to the depreciation policy used, assumptions used in undertaking impairment reviews and the basis of determining whether or not to capitalise equipment purchases in respect of fixed assets, the recoverability of items contained within trade and other receivables and the discount interest rates to fair value loan stock and right-of-use assets.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Cost comprises the aggregate amount paid and the fair value of any other consideration given to acquire the asset and includes costs directly attributable to making the asset capable of operating as intended.

Depreciation is provided on all property, plant and equipment on a straight-line basis over its expected useful life as follows: Infrastructural works - 20 years; Leasehold Land and Buildings - 10 to 50 years; Office Equipment and Furniture - 3 to 10 years.

Management use judgement in arriving at the Company's depreciation policy by taking account of the residual value of the assets concerned and their useful economic life. The Company expects that items of property, plant and equipment will be used for their entire life and as a result it is expected that these items will have no residual value. An assets useful economic life is based on past experience and general expectations.

The carrying values of property, plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment if events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying value may not be recoverable, and are written down immediately to their recoverable amount. Useful lives and residual values are reviewed annually and where adjustments are required these are made prospectively.

An item of property, plant or equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the derecognition of the asset is included in the statement of comprehensive income in the period of derecognition.

The capitalisation of infrastructural works and assets under construction is based on management's judgement of when a projects future economic benefit can be determined. Initial project development costs in respect of feasibility studies, design team fees and pre construction activities are expensed via the statement of comprehensive income. However, once a project's feasibility has been determined and a future benefit is expected to arise from it the costs of that project are capitalised.

Foreign currency translation

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded in the Company's functional currency by applying the spot exchange rate ruling at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the functional currency rate of exchange ruling at the reporting date. All differences are taken to the statement of comprehensive income.

Capital grants

Grants in respect of capital expenditure are credited to deferred income and are released to income in equal amounts over the expected useful lives of the relevant assets by equal annual instalments.

Leasing and hire purchase commitments

Assets held under finance leases, which are leases where substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset have passed to the company, and hire purchase contracts are capitalised in the statement of financial position and are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and the asset's useful lives. The capital elements of future obligations under leases and hire purchase contracts are included as liabilities in the statement of financial position.

The interest elements of the rental obligations are charged in the statement of comprehensive income over the periods of the leases and hire purchase contracts and represent a constant proportion of the balance of capital repayments outstanding.

The lease of the Conference Centre was treated as a finance lease until 8 December 1999 when the option to enter into a new lease was exercised. From this date the assets have been depreciated over their useful lives, rather than the period of the lease, as the substance of the transaction is effectively that of financing. The leaseholders hold no rights to impose restrictions on or reclaim the title of the Conference Centre.

Leased assets

For all contracts in existence on 1 January 2020 and any new contracts entered into on or after 1 January 2020, the Company considers whether a contract is, or contains a lease. A lease is defined as 'a contract, or part of a contract, that conveys the right to use an asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration'.

Where it is determined that: the contract contains an identified asset; the Company has the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of that asset throughout the period of use; and it has the right to direct the use of that asset throughout the period of use, the contract will be deemed to include a right-of-use-asset.

At lease commencement date, a right-of-use asset and a lease liability are recognised on the balance sheet. The right-of-use asset is measured at cost, which is made up of the initial measurement of the lease liability, any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of any costs required to dismantle and remove the asset at the end of the lease.

The right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis from the lease commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term.

The lease term for each category of assets are: Office accommodation - 10 years; Office Equipment and Furniture – 5 years; Motor Vehicles – 3 years.

The lease liability is measured at the commencement of the lease as the present value of the lease payments unpaid at that date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease if that rate is readily available or an incremental borrowing rate.

The lease liability is subsequently reduced by the value of lease rentals paid and increased by a charge for interest, based on the value of the outstanding lease liability.

Within the statement of financial position, right-of-use assets have been included in property, plant and equipment and lease liabilities have been included in financial liabilities.

Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables which generally have 30 day terms are recognised and carried at their original invoiced value, less an allowance for impairment of doubtful debt. An allowance for doubtful debt is estimated by management, taking into account future cashflows, based on past experience and an assessment of the current economic climate in which the company operates.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial position comprise cash at banks and on hand.

Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are recognised at fair value and subsequently held at amortised cost.

Loans

Loans are initially recognised at fair value and then held at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method of calculation. The effective interest rate charge for the year is included in finance costs in the statement of comprehensive income.

Taxation

The charge for taxation is based on the results for the period and takes into account taxation deferred because of timing differences between the treatment of certain items for taxation and accounting purposes.

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the reporting date where transactions or events that result in an obligation to pay more, or right to pay less, tax in future have occurred at the reporting date. This is subject to deferred tax assets only being recognised if it is considered more likely than not that there will be suitable taxable profits from which the future reversal of the underlying differences can be deducted. Timing differences are differences arising between the Company's taxable profits and its results as stated in the financial statements which are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods.

Deferred tax is measured on a non-discounted basis at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the periods in which the timing differences are expected to reverse, based on the tax rates and laws enacted or substantially enacted at the reporting date.

The Company does not recognise amounts which may be recoverable under group relief until the tax computations for the companies in the tax group have been agreed.

Revenue recognition

EICC contracts with a range of customers to provide meeting and conference facilities for the events that they wish to hold. Under the terms of these contracts the Company usually receives a number of stage payments from clients prior to and post their event taking place. The Company however does not finish performing its obligations until the end point of the contract and that is when revenue is recognised.

Revenue is recognised to the extent that the Company obtains the right to consideration in exchange for its performance and that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, excluding VAT.

Pensions

The Company operates a defined contribution pension scheme. Contributions are charged to the statement of comprehensive income as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the scheme.

Government grants

Grants from government bodies and similar organisations are recognised where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received, and the company will comply with all attached conditions. Government support in the form of the Job Retention Scheme (JRS) was received and in line with accounting standards have chosen the accounting policy to offset the income against the wages costs to which they relate.

The tax assessed on the profit on ordinary activities for the period is different from the standard rate of corporation tax in the UK of 19.00% (2019: 19.00%). A number of factors affect the tax charge, and these are shown/reconciled below:

Profit from continuing operations before tax	(1,721,998)	630,202

Deferred tax not recognised	427,938	(162,223)
Tax charge for the period	0	6,719

As at 31 December 2020 there was an unrecognised deferred tax asset amounting to £(1,827,032) (2019: £1,399,094) of which £364,069 (2019: £290,780) was in respect of accelerated capital allowances and other timing differences and £1,462,963 (2019: £1,108,314) was in respect of trading losses. The directors have elected not to recognise a deferred tax asset due to uncertainty surrounding future profitability from which any reversal of timing differences could be deducted.

No other factors that may affect future tax charges have been identified.

The Company has entered into a number of leases in relation to office accommodation, office equipment and motor vehicles. These leases have a duration of between 2 and 14 years. The leases are in respect of identified assets and under the terms of the agreements the Company has the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the assets throughout the period of their use. It also has the right to direct the use of the assets throughout their period of use.

The lease liability, in respect of these assets, is measured at the commencement of the lease as the present value of the lease payments unpaid at that date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease if that rate is readily available or an incremental borrowing rate.

The lease liability is subsequently reduced by the value of lease rentals paid and increased by a charge for interest, based on the value of the outstanding lease liability.

The company has issued convertible and non-convertible loan stock to the City of Edinburgh Council and CEC Holdings Limited, as shown below. These loan stocks, which amount to a face value of £62,313,737 (31 December 2019: £62,283,069) either bear no interest or the interest on them has been waived by the stockholder.

The loans have been recognised at fair value by discounting the future cash flows using market interest rates. Loan stocks are then held at amortised cost by applying an effective interest rate, to increase the loan stock to its face value over the term of the loan stock's issue. These loans have been received from the parent company and the Company relies on these loans as an ongoing source of funding.

The special shareholder ranks after all other members of the Company in respect of distribution of capital on the winding up of the Company. The special share confers no right to participate in the profits of the Company.

The Articles of Association entitle the holder of the special share to appoint one person as a Director of the Company. This right is effected by a notice in writing either being lodged at the Company's registered office or delivered to a meeting of the directors.

The preference shares carry no voting rights, but have the right to a fixed cumulative preferential dividend at the rate of 6% (net of associated tax credit) per annum, on the amount paid up, to be paid annually on 31 December each year.

The RBL ordinary shares, which were issued on 29 November 1995, carry no voting rights and are entitled to a dividend of £0.01 for every full amount of £100 worth of assets paid. This is payable after payment of the fixed dividend to holders of the preference shares.

The ordinary and preferred ordinary shares carry one vote per share and participate in profits available for dividend pro rata.

In the event of a capital distribution the shares rank in the following order: £1 for each Preference Share; £1 for each Preferred Ordinary Share; £1 for each Ordinary Share; £1 for each RBL Ordinary Share; £1 for each Special Share. Thereafter pro rata.

Capital management and risk management objectives

The company aims to manage its overall capital structure to ensure it continues to operate as a going concern. The company's capital structure represents the equity attributable to the shareholders of the company together with cash equivalents.

The Board is charged with the overall responsibility of establishing and monitoring the company's risk management policies and processes in order to identify, analyse and monitor the risks that are faced by the company. The company does not enter into or trade financial instruments for speculative purposes.

The main risks that the company is exposed to through its financial instruments are market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. These are managed as follows:

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates, interest rates and equity prices will affect the company's income. The company monitors this risk but it is very unlikely to affect the company's overall liquidity. The company's debt is primarily non-interest bearing.

Credit risk

Exposure to credit risk relating to financial assets arises from the potential non-performance by counterparties of contract obligations that could lead to a financial loss to the company. It arises from exposure to customers and amounts owed by group undertakings.

The maximum exposure to credit risk to recognised financial assets is the carrying amount, net of any provisions for impairment of those assets, as disclosed in the balance sheet and notes to the financial statements.

Credit risk is reviewed regularly by the directors and monitored by actively assessing the rating quality and liquidity of counterparties as follows:

22. Financial instruments and risk management (cont.)

- Only banks and institutions with an acceptable credit rating are utilised;
- All customers are rated for credit worthiness, where practical, taking into account their size, market position and financial standing;

Over 85% of the company's gross profits are derived from room hire fees which are paid in advance and from catering commission which is paid by the catering concessionaire.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk arises from the possibility that the company might encounter difficulty in settling its debts or otherwise meeting its obligations related to financial liabilities. The company manages that risk as follows:

- Preparing forward looking cash flow analysis; and
- Managing cash generated by its operations and retaining surplus cash in readily accessible bank deposit accounts.

Fair values

The directors consider that the carrying values of all the company's financial assets and liabilities approximate to their fair values at the balance sheet date.

Dear Sirs

Edinburgh International Conference Centre Limited Audit findings for the year ended 31 December 2020

This Audit Findings letter highlights the significant findings arising from the audit for the benefit of those charged with governance. We appreciate that you may be aware of some of the matters contained in this report, however as required by International Standard on Auditing (UK) 260 we are communicating them to you formally.

As auditors we are responsible for performing the audit, in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)), which is directed towards forming and expressing an opinion on the financial statements that have been prepared by management with the oversight of those charged with governance. The audit of the financial statements does not relieve management or those charged with governance of their responsibilities for the preparation of the financial statements.

This letter has been provided on the basis that it is for the information of the Board and management of Edinburgh International Conference Centre Limited only and that it will not be distributed to others, quoted or referred to, in whole or in part, without our prior written consent.

We are an accounting, tax, audit, advisory and business services group that delivers a personal experience both digitally and at your door.

Accounting | Tax | Audit | Advisory | Technology

We do not propose any modifications to our audit opinion which is unqualified. Other than as described in the emphasis of matter paragraph of our audit report, we confirm that our audit testing did not identify any material issues affecting the company's ability to continue as a going concern. The letter of comfort provided received from City of Edinburgh Council (the Council) confirms that the Council will continue to provide financial support to EICC Limited, directly or via CEC holdings until June 2022. We are therefore satisfied with the disclosures in the financial statements.

2 Significant findings

Findings related to significant risks

Significant risks are defined by professional standards as risks that, in the judgement of the auditor, require special audit consideration. In identifying risks, we consider the nature of the risk, the potential magnitude of misstatement, and its likelihood. Significant risks are those risks that have a higher risk of material misstatement.

Risk	Results and conclusions
Fraud in revenue recognition Under ISA (UK) 240 there is a presumed risk of fraud in relation to revenue recognition. The presumption is that the company could adopt accounting policies or recognise sales in such a way as to lead to a material misstatement in the reported revenue position.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We have reviewed the systems and controls underpinning debtors and sales, performed sample tests over sales completeness, and carried out analytical review procedures. • Sales-cut off testing was also completed by sample testing invoices directly before and after the year end to ensure they were accounted for in the correct period. • We are satisfied over the completeness of revenue and no issues arose as a result of our work that we consider should be brought to your attention.
Management override of controls Under ISA (UK) 240 there is a presumed risk that management and directors have the ability to process transactions or make adjustments to financial records outside of the normal financial control processes. Such transactions could lead to a material misstatement in the financial statements.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We have tested journal entries both throughout the year, and around the year end to ensure journals are in line with our expectations and standard accounting adjustments. We have also reviewed nominal analysis and performed analytical review to ensure there are no unusual abnormalities throughout the financial statements. • Our testing performed did not identify instances of management override in the financial records in the period. No issues arose to be drawn to the attention of management.
Going concern including consideration of the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We concur with management's assessment that it is appropriate to continue to adopt the going concern basis and appropriate disclosure relating to the material uncertainties are included in note 2 to the financial statements and the Report of the Directors and Strategic report. Our audit report refers to the material uncertainty although our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

There were no changes to our audit plan previously communicated to you.

3 Going concern

As auditors, we are required to “obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence about the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern assumption in the preparation and presentation of the financial statements and to conclude whether there is a material uncertainty about the entity's ability to continue as a going concern” (ISA (UK) 570).

We have reviewed the current and future financial position of the company and liquidity position from the information provided by management, specifically in respect of the current COVID-19 pandemic and the potential disruption to the business due to a prolonged period of lockdown. In conjunction with the letter of support provided by City of Edinburgh Council, we are satisfied that the financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis.

4 Accounting policies, presentation and disclosures

The accounting policies used in preparing the financial statements are unchanged from the prior year.

Our work included a review of the adequacy of disclosures in the financial statements and consideration of the appropriateness of the accounting policies adopted by the entity.

Overall we found the disclosed accounting policies, and the overall disclosures and presentation to be appropriate.

5 Other communication requirements

Fraud or suspected fraud

We have not been made aware of any incidents in the period and no other issues have been identified during the course of our audit.

Our work as auditor is not intended to identify any instances of fraud of a non- material nature and should not be relied upon for this purpose. In the event that the members wish to obtain enhanced assurance with regard to the effectiveness of internal control in preventing and detecting fraud we should be happy to provide additional services.

Non-compliance with laws and regulations

As part of our standard audit testing, we have reviewed the laws and regulations impacting the business. There are no indications from this work of any significant incidences of non-compliance or material breaches of laws and regulations stopping the business from continuing as a going concern or that would necessitate a provision or contingent liability.

There are also many other laws and regulations relating to health and safety as well as human resources generally and industry specific requirements. We are not aware of any significant incidences of non- compliance.

Related parties

We are not aware of any related party transactions which have not been disclosed.

6 Misstatements

We are required to inform you of any significant misstatements within the financial statements presented for audit that have been discovered during the course of our audit. We have not identified any misstatements during the course of the audit.

7 Internal controls

The purpose of an audit is to express an opinion on the financial statements. As part of our work we considered internal controls relevant to the preparation of the financial statements such that we were able to design appropriate audit procedures. However, this work was not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal controls.

We are required to report to you in writing, significant deficiencies in internal controls that we have identified during the audit. These matters are limited to those which we have concluded are of sufficient importance to merit being reported to you.

The scope of our work is not designed to be an extensive review of all internal controls. Areas identified are reported in Appendix II below. The item in Appendix II has been carried over from the previous year.

8 Independence

In accordance with our profession's ethical guidance and further to our planning letter to you dated 25 March 2021, confirming audit planning arrangements there are no further matters to bring to your attention in relation to Integrity, Objectivity and Independence.

We confirm that Azets Audit Services and the engagement team complied with the FRC's Ethical Standards. We confirm that all threats to our independence have been properly addressed through appropriate safeguards and that we are independent and able to express an objective opinion on the financial statements.

A summary of our services provided and related fees is attached at Appendix I.

The contents of this report relate only to those matters which came to our attention during the conduct of our normal audit procedures which are designed primarily for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements. We do not accept any responsibility for any loss occasioned to any third party acting or refraining from acting on the basis of the content of this report, as this report was not prepared for, nor intended for, any other purpose.

Internal controls

Control points arising from our current year work and our recommendations are summarised below. The recommendations are categorised into three risk ratings as shown in the key.

Key: Significant deficiency in internal control, Other deficiency in internal control, Other observations from the audit

Area	Observation	Implication	Recommendation	Management response
Governance arrangements	EICC is governed by a Board of Directors and the Board is responsible for the overall strategic direction and fulfilment of the legislative duties of the organisation. We have noted that the scale of operations of EICC has been expanding in recent years but the governance structure has remained the same with the Board supported by the senior leadership team.	There is a risk that the Board is not adequately supported by appropriate governance structure and there is insufficient capacity within the current governance structure for appropriate scrutiny and challenge. We noted that EICC will look to make potential changes once the Company's corporate structure has been revised.	We recommend EICC reviews the current governance structure and considers whether supporting committees (e.g. audit committee) would offer benefits to the Board.	The Company is currently involved with a major development project regarding the operation of a hotel and hotel school. A business case for the project was approved by the Council in March 2020 and it is expected that the formal sign off this year will lead to significant changes in the Company's corporate and governance structure. The EICC Board do not believe that it is appropriate to look at these matters on a piecemeal basis and they will therefore be examined in detail and the necessary changes made in due course, when the Board believes that the time is right to do so.
