Housing Land Audit and Completions Programme 2022

Executive/routine Executive Wards All

Council Commitments

1. Recommendations

- 1.1 It is recommended that Planning Committee:
 - 1.1.1 Notes the findings of this report including Appendix 1, The Housing Land Audit and Completions Programme 2022;
 - 1.1.2 Agrees to refer this report to the Scottish Government for information; and
 - 1.1.3 Refers this report to the Housing, Homelessness and Fair Work Committee for information.

Report

Housing Land Audit and Completions Programme 2022

2. Executive Summary

- 2.1 The purpose of this report is to summarise the findings of the 2022 annual Housing Land Audit and Completions Programme (HLACP).
- 2.2 The HLACP is used to assess the supply of land for housing and the delivery of new homes within the City of Edinburgh Council area. It records the amount of land available for house building; identifies any constraints affecting development; and assesses the land supply against the housing supply target and housing land requirement set by the Strategic Development Plan (SDP) for South East Scotland.
- 2.3 The audit demonstrates that there is more than enough unconstrained housing land to meet the remaining housing land requirement in full and that the programmed completions up to 2026 is enough to meet the housing supply target for the remainder of the development plan period.
- 2.4 Delivery rates are the highest ever recorded and should these rates continue, there is enough effective land for housing to last for eight years.

3. Background

- 3.1 The SDP for Edinburgh and South East Scotland was approved by Scottish Ministers in June 2013. Supplementary guidance on housing land was approved in 2014 and sets the Housing Supply Target for the City of Edinburgh Council area for the period to 2024. The adopted Edinburgh Local Development Plan (2016) extended the target to 2026.
- 3.2 Scottish Planning Policy (SPP) requires local authorities to maintain a five year supply of effective housing land at all times to ensure that the housing land requirement is met. The annual HLACP is used to monitor the effective housing land supply. It will also be used to inform infrastructure decisions through the Local Development Plan (LDP) Action Programme.
- 3.3 On 6 October 2016, the Planning Committee considered a report on the Housing Land Audit and Delivery Programme 2016 that utilised a new approach to auditing land for housing and housing delivery. Previously, the housing land supply was measured in terms of the anticipated output or completions programme.

- 3.4 The conclusion was that, although there was sufficient effective housing land to meet the housing land requirement set by the SDP, the anticipated delivery of new homes was below the five year completions target. The report acknowledged that there was a need to increase delivery of new homes in the short term and set out several ways that the Council was seeking to do so.
- 3.5 On 12 October 2017, Planning Committee considered a report on the Housing Land Audit and Delivery Programme 2017 which further enhanced the audit process by identifying the steps needed to increase housing delivery on a site by site basis.
- 3.6 The approach to assessing the amount of land available for housing and the rate of delivery of new homes as separate issues has been consistently applied since Committee approval in 2016.

4. Main report

- 4.1 For a housing site to be considered 'effective', it must be free of all constraints that would prevent development. Sites are considered against a range of criteria set out in Planning Advice Note 2/2010 "Affordable Housing and Housing Land Audits" (PAN 2/2010). These include ownership, physical (e.g. slope, aspect, stability, flood risk, access), contamination, deficit funding, marketability, infrastructure and land use. PAN 2/2010 also states that "The contribution of any site to the effective land supply is that portion of the expected output from the site which can be completed within the five year period".
- 4.2 The alternative approach to measuring housing land supply and delivery, approved by Planning Committee, recognised that delivery of new homes can be affected by many economic and demand factors unrelated to the land supply. As well as the anticipated completions programme, the Council also considers the capacity of unconstrained land available for development.
- 4.3 The schedules within the 2022 HLACP have been discussed and agreed as reasonable with Homes for Scotland.

Housing Land Supply

- 4.4 As at 31 March 2022, there was enough land free of planning constraints and available for development for 22,679 houses. There was also land for a further 7,358 houses on sites where there was a constraint as set out in schedule 4 of Appendix 1.
- 4.5 The effective land supply is varied in type, size and location. It is spread over a range of locations and includes brownfield (52%) and greenfield (48%) sites as shown on the map attached as Appendix 2.

Housing Supply Target and Housing Land Requirement

4.6 The housing supply target is the policy view of the number of homes that will be delivered over the LDP period. For the City of Edinburgh, this was set by the South East Scotland SDP and its supplementary guidance. To ensure that the housing supply target can be met, additional land must be made available to allow for flexibility of range and choice.

4.7 On 29 September 2021, Planning Committee approved a new proposed LDP, City Plan 2030, for its statutory period of representation. The plan includes new housing supply targets and housing land requirements along with proposals for a generous supply of land to meet the targets. Once adopted, the housing targets and land requirements will replace those in the LDP (2016) set by the SDP. New proposals in Proposed City Plan 2030 do not count towards the current targets and housing land requirements and are not contained in HLACP 2022. However, some of the sites that were allocated in LDP (2016), and have not yet been delivered, have been carried over as proposals into the new proposed plan.

Housing Delivery

- 4.8 Delivery of new homes is influenced by a range of factors including economic fluctuations, supply of skills and materials, movement in the local and national housing market and other commercial considerations.
- 4.9 Following the recession from 2008, the market recovered and completions increased from 1,191 in 2012/13 to 2,967 in 2019/20. The Covid-19 pandemic and national lockdown in the second quarter of 2020 caused a fall in completions to 1,700 for the year to April 2021. However, the fall in housebuilding activity was temporary and completions in 2021/22 increased again to 2,786 the second highest annual completion total recorded over the last 20 years. The programme of completions over the next five years is the highest ever recorded in over 30 years of housing land audits.
- 4.10 Emerging from the 2008 recession, the delivery of new housing was helped by an increase in the building of affordable homes. Prior to that, affordable tenures accounted for around 17% of all houses built in the city but nearly 50% for 2011-2015. Recovery in the mainstream housing market, along with continued high affordable completions, have resulted in the all-tenure completion rate now being above the pre-recession level. The rate of delivery of new homes will also be influenced by the impact of Build to Rent developments, where the pace of delivery seeks to meet strong rental demand and is not constrained by the mortgage market and potentially also by improvements in construction methods.
- 4.11 Table 1 compares the supply of available effective housing land against the remaining development plan housing land requirement and anticipated completions for the period up to 2026 against the remaining development plan housing supply target. Previous HLACPs have compared anticipated completions to a five year completions target but this is no longer possible as the development plan target only extends to 2026. The table also shows the number of years that the effective land supply will last at current rates of development.

Table 1. Housing Land Supply and Anticipated Completions Programme

Housing Supply Target 2009 to 2019	22,300
Housing supply Target 2019 to 2024	7,210
Housing Supply Target 2024 to 2026	2,884
Housing Supply Target 2009 to 2026	32,394
Average 5 year supply target 2009 to 2026	9,528
Housing Land Requirement 2009 to 2026	35,633
Completions 2009 to 2022	26,437
Housing Supply Target 2022 to 2026	5,957
Supply	Output
Remaining Housing Land Requirement 9,196	Supply Target 2022 to 2026 5,957
Effective Housing Land Supply 22,679	Completions Programme 2022 to 2026 11,683
Years Supply at current delivery rate 8.0	5 year completions programme* 14,202

^{*} Previously referred to as the five year effective land supply

4.12 Table 1 demonstrates that the capacity of effective housing land (22,679) is significantly above the remaining development plan housing land requirement (9,196) and programmed completions up to 2026 (11,683) is more than sufficient to meet the remaining development plan housing supply target (5,957). Anticipated completion rates in Edinburgh are at the highest level ever recorded and based upon these rates, there is enough effective housing land to last for a further eight years. The five year completions programme (14,202) is 50% higher than the average five year housing supply target set by the development plan for the entire plan period 2009 to 2026.

Windfall sites

4.13 These are sites that are not specifically allocated for housing in the LDP but come through the planning system as planning applications. The LDP assumed that a certain amount of development would occur on windfall sites (4,656 units) contributing to meeting the housing supply target. Since April 2015, 10,448 homes have been granted planning permission on such sites and of those, 2,842 are for affordable homes. Some 76% are on brownfield land.

National Planning Framework 4

4.14 Scottish Government is currently preparing National Planning Framework 4 (NPF4)
 – the long-term plan for development and investment across Scotland which will set out national planning policies, national developments and strategy. In November

- 2020, Scottish Government published a position statement which detailed potential changes that are being considered to national planning policies.
- 4.15 A key change being considered is to replace the current focus on maintaining a five year supply of effective housing land with a longer term perspective to enable future plans to promote immediate deliverability and viability, and steer development to appropriate locations in line with LDP spatial strategy, informed by an infrastructure-first approach. Land take-up would be monitored through completions with additional land releases triggered in line with the development plan, when the need for additional capacity is demonstrated.
- 4.16 The Council's approach to monitoring land supply and delivery of homes is closely aligned with the Scottish Government's considered policy change with a focus on the factors that are affecting delivery on individual sites alongside the anticipated rates of delivery. This helps to identify where there is potential to increase delivery of homes on the current land supply and when additional land releases may be required to maintain current rates of delivery.
- 4.17 Homes for Scotland are consulted during the preparation of the HLACP and advise on the likely delivery rates for each site. The 2017 HLACP was the first audit to include an assessment of factors that could accelerate delivery and this approach has been continued. Twelve different actions were identified and applied on an individual site by site basis broadly grouped as relating to ownership or control of a site, the planning system and other regulatory processes and the development industry. Details of these are on pages 12 to 14 of Appendix 1.

Increasing Housing Delivery

- 4.18 On 24 August 2017, Council approved its five year business plan including an objective to build 20,000 new affordable homes over the next ten years. The Strategic Housing Investment Plan (SHIP) sets out the delivery plan for new affordable homes and is reported to the Housing, Homelessness and Fair Work Committee each year. The latest SHIP, covering the period 2022/27, was approved by Housing, Homelessness and Fair Work Committee on 4 November 2021. It identifies a pipeline of 11,188 affordable homes that could be approved for site start and 10,124 potential completions delivered over the next five years through a through a mix of grant funding, Registered Social Landlords (RSLs) own finance, finance raised by private developers, institutional investment, developer contributions and Housing Revenue Account (HRA) funding. The report identifies the challenges to delivering affordable housing at scale as construction industry capacity, availability of grant funding for social rented homes and control of sites for development.
- 4.19 In March 2018, a report was presented to the then Housing and Economy Committee on Delivering Land for Affordable Housing. This report set out a series of actions that should be taken to secure land and increase control over the pace of housing development. The actions include increased engagement with private land owners, exploring the potential for re-provisioning industrial estates, a review of the

- Affordable Housing Policy (AHP) and establishing a public sector land and property group.
- 4.20 In January 2021, the Housing, Homelessness and Fair Work Committee considered a report on the land strategy to support delivery of affordable housing and brownfield regeneration. The report recognised that building on brownfield land maximises the use of existing infrastructure and mitigates the sizeable financial impact on the Council of delivering infrastructure. Council owned land supply is becoming increasingly limited as is the potential to acquire sites on the open market. Therefore, alternative models to deliver regeneration and affordable housing on private sector sites needs to be explored. The strategy set out in the report is intended to support the delivery of place-based area regeneration in partnership with local communities with the Council acting as enabling developer, de-risking Planning and infrastructure requirements. A strategy that prioritises brownfield land for development will require significant and active intervention by the Council, potentially using compulsory purchase powers. Private and public sector partnerships are identified as key mechanisms for securing investment and developing sites that cannot be acquired and developed by the Council. The HRA Business Plan includes £125m for land acquisition over the next ten years.

Conclusions

- 4.21 There is more than enough effective land available for development in the city for Edinburgh to meet the current housing land requirement set by the Strategic Development Plan for South East Scotland.
- 4.22 Programmed completions over the next four years is more than sufficient to meet the remainder of the development plan housing supply target to 2026.
- 4.23 Current rates of delivery are the highest ever recorded and at these rates of delivery, there is enough effective land in Edinburgh to last for a further eight years.

5. Next Steps

5.1 The next annual Housing Land Audit and Completions Programme will be carried out in Spring 2023 and reported to Planning Committee in Autumn 2023.

6. Financial impact

6.1 This report and its recommendations have no financial impact on service or Council budgets.

7. Stakeholder/Community Impact

7.1 No formal consultation is required in connection with this report. However, the contents of the schedules within the housing land audit and completions programme were agreed as reasonable with the representative body of the private house building industry, Homes for Scotland.

- 7.2 There is no equalities impact arising as a result of this report's analysis and recommendations. Therefore, it was not considered necessary to carry out a full Integrated Impact Assessment.
- 7.3 There are no direct sustainability impacts arising from this report.

1. INTRODUCTION

The Housing Land Audit and Completions Programme (HLACP) 2022 is an assessment of the housing land supply in the City of Edinburgh Council area as at 31 March 2022. The audit attempts to programme expected housing completions over the audit period, April 2022 to March 2027 and details completions that took place over the year April 2021 to March 2022.

Sites included in the HLACP are housing sites under construction, sites with planning consent for housing, sites in adopted or finalised Local development plans and, as appropriate, other buildings and land with agreed potential for housing development. The audit does not include new proposals from the proposed City Plan 2030. All new development, redevelopment, conversion and subdivision of both houses and flats are included but rehabilitation of existing housing is excluded. The HLACP gives a detailed picture of the supply of housing land in terms of the number of housing units that the land can accommodate. It also sets out a programme of expected completions over the next 5 years and in the longer term.

The HLACP comprises schedules for each housing site with four or more units. Smaller sites are not detailed individually but are included as an aggregate figure only. Based upon past completion rates, the audit assumes that 75% of small sites will be developed over the five year period but does not attempt to identify which ones. The estimates of programmed completions are prepared by the City of Edinburgh Council in consultation with Homes for Scotland and other house builders. A summary of the housing land supply, site details including completions programme, details of units completed over the previous 12 months and a list of constrained sites are contained in schedules 1 to 4 at the end of this report.

2. HOUSING LAND SUPPLY

Established Land Supply

The established land supply is all land identified for housing including sites allocated in the local development plan, sites which have been granted planning consent for housing and other land with agreed potential for new house building. The established land supply is made up of "effective housing land" - land free of all constraints that would prevent development taking place and "constrained" sites - sites which cannot be developed without some form of remedial action.

On 31 March 2022, the established land supply in the City of Edinburgh Council area was 30,037. This included land free of all planning constraints for 22,679 dwellings and land for a further 7,358 dwellings on sites that are currently considered constrained.

Effective land supply

For a housing site to be considered effective, it must be free of all constraints that would prevent development. Sites are considered against a range of criteria set out in Planning Advice Note 2/2010 "Affordable Housing and Housing Land Audits" (PAN 2/2010). These criteria include ownership, physical (e.g. slope, aspect, stability, flood risk, access), contamination, deficit funding, marketability, infrastructure and land use.

When assessed against the criteria contained in PAN 2/2010, there is land free of planning constraints for 22,679 dwellings in the City of Edinburgh Council. This includes 7,051 dwellings on sites currently under construction, 12,154 dwellings on sites with planning consent but where development has not yet started and a further 3,181 dwellings on sites that have not yet received planning consent – mostly sites allocated in the Local Development Plan. The remaining 293 dwellings are on small sites that are not listed separately within the audit.

Figure 1 below shows how the established land supply in Edinburgh has changed over the last seventeen years. Prior to 2016, only units programmed for development over the first 5 years were considered to represent the effective land supply. Since 2016, the HLACP considers the supply of land separately from programmed delivery and defines land as either:

'Effective'. Land free of development constraints and available for the construction of housing; and

'Constrained.' Land on which development cannot currently take place without remedial action.

The chart, therefore, shows three categories of land up to 2015 - the effective land supply programmed for development over the next five years, effective land supply programmed in the longer term and constrained land. From 2016, only two categories of land are shown – effective and constrained.

The five year effective land supply fell dramatically following the credit crunch and subsequent recession in 2008/09. As reduced credit availability affected both the development industry and house buyers, the rate of development slowed, reducing the five-year programme of development intentions. Fewer new applications were submitted on windfall land, resulting in the reduction of the overall land supply as completions on land already partially developed outstripped new land entering the supply. Between 2009 and 2012, the five-year effective supply fell to around 5,200 (1,050 per year) – around half the level of the previous three years. Following the adoption of the current Local Development Plan in 2016, the effective land supply increased to over 25,000 units - the highest it has been since the early 2000s. The exception to this was of 2010 where there was a spike in effective eland supply caused by a local plan allocation and an application for around 18,000 units at Leith Docks. As consent was not issued, the site was moved from the long-term effective supply into constrained in 2011. Following a change in Forth Ports' intentions to concentrate on port-related activities and changes to the national and local planning policy context, a large part of the area around Leith Docks was removed from the housing land supply entirely in 2014, reducing the capacity from 18,000 to around 5,600. This has been reduced further in 2016 to 2,700 following the publication of the LDP report of examination. Over the last 5 years the effective and established land supply have remained stable suggesting that new land coming forward as windfall is at a similar rate to the number of units completed each year.

Constrained Land

Constrained sites are those on which development cannot take place without some form of remedial action. Such constraints include:

- Ownership: the site is in the ownership or control of a party which can be expected to develop it or to release it for development. Where a site is in the ownership of a local authority or other public body, it should be included only where it is part of a programme of land disposal;
- Physical: the site, or relevant part of it, is free from constraints related to slope, aspect, flood risk, ground stability or vehicular access which would preclude its development.
 Where there is a solid commitment to removing the constraints in time to allow development in the period under consideration, or the market is strong enough to fund the remedial work required, the site can be included in the effective land supply;
- Contamination: previous use has not resulted in contamination of the site or, if it has, commitments have been made which would allow it to be developed to provide marketable housing;
- Deficit funding: any public funding required to make residential development economically viable is committed by the public bodies concerned;
- Marketability: the site, or a relevant part of it, can be developed in the period under consideration;
- infrastructure: the site is either free of infrastructure constraints, or any required infrastructure can be provided realistically by the developer or is committed to by another party to allow development;
- Land use: housing is the preferred use of the land in planning terms, or if housing is one of a range of possible uses, other factors such as ownership and marketability point to housing being a realistic option.

Map 1 below shows the land supply in terms of effective and constrained sites. A schedule of constrained sites, including the nature of constraint, is included as schedule 4.

Greenfield / Brownfield analysis

Excluding small sites, 10,922 units of the remaining capacity of effective sites (22,386) are categorised as being on greenfield land. This represents 49% of the total. In the early 2000s, less than 10% of the effective land supply was greenfield. The Local Development Plan allocated over 8,500 units on greenfield land and this has been a major factor in increasing the overall proportion of greenfield sites in the city. It is expected that the proportion of greenfield land will decrease in future years as the current greenfield sites are built out and future windfall sites are likely to be mainly brownfield land.

3. HOUSING DELIVERY

Completions

Mirroring the situation with the changes to the effective land supply, the effect of the credit crunch and subsequent recession was followed by a steep decline in the annual number of completed dwellings. Completions have been increasing since 2013 with the number of completions in 2019/20 being the highest recorded since 1998. The national lockdown in response to the Covid-19 pandemic in March 2020 has resulted in a considerable reduction in completions over the year to March 2021. Development activity quickly returned to prepandemic levels and the number of completions over the last year increased to 2,786.

The actual number of completions in the future could be higher than programmed as it is likely that some additional housing completions will take place on windfall sites that are not yet in the land supply. Figure 2 below charts historic housing completions and programmed completions for the next 5 years.

Factors Effecting Housing Delivery

Delivery of new homes is not solely dependent on the supply of effective land. The housing market will react to both local and national changes in the economy causing completions rates to increase and decrease. This was particularly noticeable following the credit crunch in the late 2000s and again, for a shorter period in 2020, when the national lockdown in response to the Covid-19 pandemic caused development to temporarily halt resulting in a reduction of completions from nearly 3,000 in 2019/20 to 1,700 over the year to March 2021. Figure 3 below shows the effective land supply, the five year completions programme (previously referred to as the five year effective land supply) and the number of completions that actually took place over the period 2003 to 2021. As the land supply and five year completions programme relate to a period of five years and the number of completions refers to a single year, they are shown against different scales on the chart.

Affordable Housing

Affordable housing tenures account for around 25% of the current effective land supply (5,783 units). Between 2001 and 2011, affordable tenures accounted for 19% of all dwellings completed in Edinburgh. Over the last few years, affordable completions have accounted for a much higher proportion, averaging over 38% of all dwellings completed since 2011. Numerically, affordable housing completions have increased in recent years but the large proportional shift is more a consequence of a reduction in market completions following the credit crunch. The number of market completions has increased again markedly over the last few years, from 890 in 2014/15 to an average of 1,630 per year since.

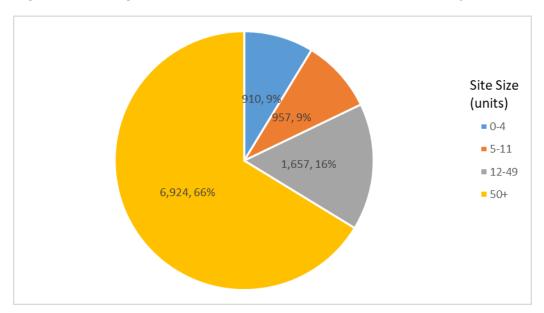

Windfall Development

To avoid over allocating housing land, the Local Development Plan assumed a certain amount of development would occur on unplanned sites that would come through the planning system. Development on these unallocated sites would still contribute to meeting the housing supply target set by the Strategic Development Plan. The adopted LDP assumed a contribution of 4,656 units from windfall sites – 1,694 to be delivered by 2019 with the remaining 2,962 between 2019 and 2026.

Since April 2015, 10,448 homes have received planning consent on windfall sites. Of these 2,842 units will be affordable.

The windfall sites cover a range of sizes with over half the consented units being major developments (sites of over 50 units). The size distribution of windfall sites is show in figure 4 below.

Between 2015 and 2019, there were 1,621 units completed on windfall sites – slightly below the target of 1,690. There has been a further 2,387 windfall homes completed since 2019 meaning the remaining target set by the LDP is 648 units over the next 4 year. With 3,751 windfall homes programmed over the next 4 years the remaining LDP target is likely to be significantly surpassed. The actual number of windfall completions is likely to be higher still as additional windfall sites receive planning consent. The number of units completed since 2015 and units programmed over the next four years (to the end of the development plan period) are shown in Figure 5. The number of units completed starts very low and rises each year. This is to be expected as there is a lead in time between consent and completions and only sites gaining consent after 2015 are regarded as windfall.

Accuracy of Completions Programme

Estimating future completions for the delivery programme is not an exact science – some sites will be built out faster than anticipated and some slower. Further, some sites may not be developed at all or be developed for uses other than housing and additional windfall sites will provide completions not anticipated at the base date of the audit. Figure 6 below compares the number of completions programmed over a five period to the number of completions that actually occurred over the same five year period for each housing audit since 1995.

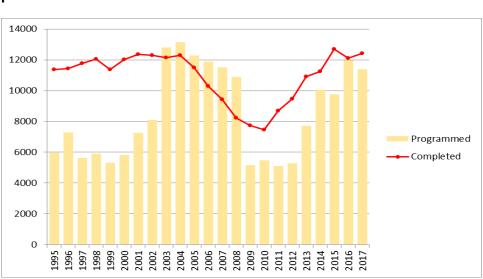

Figure 6: 5 Year completions programme and actual completions over the five year period

During the mid 1990s to early 2000s, far fewer units were programmed than the number of completions that actually took place. This may be due to development taking place at a faster pace with many windfall sites gaining consent and being built out in the five year period in question. From 2003 until 2008, the audit programme was much closer to actual completions. The programme was actually slightly higher than actual completions, the difference increasing up to 2008. This period of time included the credit crunch which caused a steep decline in completions which wasn't anticipated when the audits were programmed. The opposite effect can be seen for 2009 to 2012 when anticipated completions were low, but as recent completion rates have started to increase once more, the five year completions count has been higher than was anticipated at the base date of the audits. It should also be noted that only land allocated for housing at any given year is programmed in the above figures – the actual completions figures will include additional windfall sites that come forward in future years.

4. HOUSING SUPPLY TARGET AND HOUSING LAND REQUIREMENT

SPP defines the Housing Supply Target as "a policy view of the number of homes the authority has agreed will be delivered in each housing market area over the periods of the development plan and local housing strategy, taking into account wider economic, social and environmental factors, issues of capacity, resource and deliverability, and other important requirements ..."

The housing supply target for the City of Edinburgh is set by the approved 2013 Strategic Development Plan (SDP) and its supplementary guidance on housing land (SG). The SG sets the housing supply target for the city at 22,300 units for the period to 2019 and a further 7,210 for the period to 2024. The LDP Report of Examination recommended extending the supply target by an additional 2,884 for the two years to 2026. To ensure that the target can be met, additional land must be made available to allow for flexibility of range and choice. An additional 10% is added to the target to obtain the housing land requirement.

The annual average supply target for the period up to 2019 is considerably higher than for the periods beyond 2019. This is due to two factors:

- The Housing Needs and Demand Study identified a significant backlog of households currently in need of affordable housing which should be addressed early. This backlog is on top of newly arising need and demand and is all added to the housing land requirement of the first period.
- House building during the first period has been affected by the credit crunch and subsequent recession resulting in lower completion rates than required. The shortfall is added to the remaining requirement of the first period raising the annual average needed even further, to a level nearly 15% above the highs achieved in the early 2000s.

Table 1 below compares the supply of effective land available for housing in the City of Edinburgh to the remaining housing land requirement. The table also shows the programme of completions for the next four years compared to the remaining development plan housing supply target. As there are only 4 years remaining in the development plan period, it is not possible to show the five year completions programme against a five year completions target accounting for completions to date. However the table shows the average five year completions target for the entire development plan period. Finally, the table shows the number of years that the effective land supply will last at current rates of development.

Table 1: Effective housing land supply against requirement by period

Housing Supply Target 2009 to 2019	22,300
Housing supply Target 2019 to 2024	7,210
Housing Supply Target 2024 to 2026	2,884
Housing Supply Target 2009 to 2026	32,394
Average 5 year Supply Target 2009 to 2026	9,528
Housing Land Requirement 2009 to 2026	35,633
Completions 2009 to 2022	26,437
Housing Supply Target 2022 to 2026	5,957
Supply	Output
Remaining Housing Land Requirement 9,196	Supply Target 2022 to 2026 5,957
Effective Housing Land Supply 22,679	Completions Programme 2022 to 2026 11,683
Years Supply at current delivery rate 8.0	5 year completions programme 14,202

^{*} Previously referred to as the 5 year effective land supply

The table demonstrates that there is more than enough land, free from development constraints, to meet the remaining development plan housing land requirement. The table further demonstrates that programmed delivery to 2026 will result in the entire development plan housing supply target being exceeded. Whilst there is no longer a 5 year supply target, the current 5 year completions programme is almost 50% above the average 5 year target for the entire development plan period (2009 – 2026). At current rates of delivery, there is enough effective land for housing to last for eight years.

Increasing Housing Delivery

Further to identifying constraints that prevent delivery of new homes, HLACP2021 also attempts to identify the actions required to increase the delivery rates on effective sites. These factors affecting delivery were discussed and agreed with Homes for Scotland alongside the programmed delivery rate. These factors are not intended to be viewed as solutions in themselves to increasing delivery, rather they should be viewed as identifying the steps that would need to be taken in order for the agreed delivery rates to be accelerated. In many cases, the site may already be being developed at an acceptable rate. Twelve different actions were identified and applied on an individual site by site basis. The twelve factors can be broadly grouped as;

- factors relating to ownership or control of a site
- factors related to the planning system
- factors related to the development industry

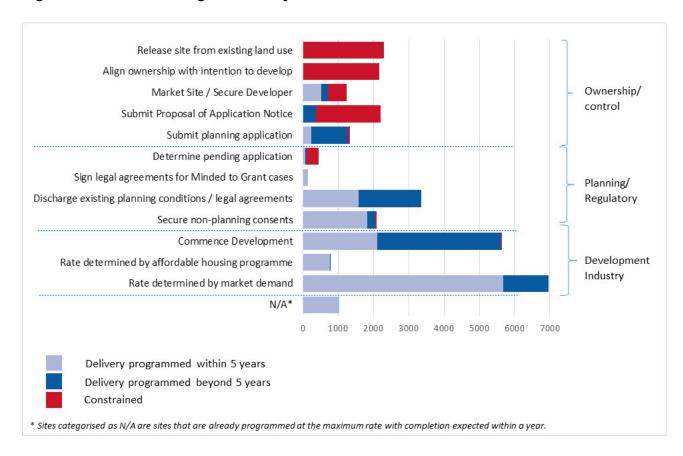

Figure 7 below shows the numbers of units (excluding small sites) affected by each of the 12 delivery factors. For each factor, the graph shows the number of units programmed for completion within 5 years as a lighter shade and units programmed beyond 5 years as a darker shade.

Sites categorised as affected by factors related to the development industry have a greater proportion of units programmed within the next 5 years than sites affected by other factors. These sites are already in the control of house builders with planning consent secured and in many cases are already under construction.

Sites affected by factors related to the planning system are fewer in number than those affected by development industry factors but, due to uncertainty around the issuing of planning permission/legal agreements, have a higher proportion of units programmed beyond the five year period. In total, there are 2,028 units programmed beyond the five year period on effective sites affected by factors related to the planning system.

Finally, there are 1,625 units programmed beyond the five year period on effective sites affected by factors related to ownership or control. These are largely allocated sites that are not yet in the control of a house builder or sites for which a planning application has yet to be submitted. The majority of constrained sites are constrained by factors relating to ownership or control of the site, especially sites that are still in use for other purposes and sites that are not being promoted for housing development by the land owner.

5. SCHEDULES

The following schedules give further details of the housing land supply in the City of Edinburgh Council area including:

- 1. Summary of the housing land supply and completions programme
- 2. Completions programme on site by site basis
- 3. Actual housing completions 2021/22 by site
- 4. Schedule of constrained sites
- 5. Housing sites broken down by factors affecting delivery rates
- 6. List of sites removed from the audit since HLACP 2021. This list includes all sites that are no longer regarded as housing sites. It does not include sites which have been completed. These sites will be included in Schedule 3 Housing Completions.
