Report

Draft Council Business Plan 2023-27

2. Executive Summary

- 2.1 This report provides an updated draft Council Business Plan for consideration and discussion by Committee. The draft has been developed as an evolution of the existing Council Business Plan, updated to incorporate new cross party strategic objectives agreed by Council, alongside officer assessment of approaches needed to meet budgetary and other pressures facing the Council.
- 2.2 An officer led process of engagement with all political groups was undertaken to inform further this officer draft for public cross party consideration and debate.
- 2.3 The report sets out three long term strategic priorities for the Council create good places to live and work, end poverty in Edinburgh, and become a net zero city alongside the specific outcomes, objectives, and key actions needed to deliver those priorities.
- 2.4 This Business Plan is designed to align to, guide, and inform resource allocation through the Council Budget process and Medium Term Financial Plan.
- 2.5 In doing so, it is recommended that any proposals or additions to this business plan identified by elected members should be made with a due consideration of their budget implications given the financial context of the Council. This should include consideration of officer capacity, wider resources, and any opportunity costs associated with new priorities.
- 2.6 It is proposed that progress against delivery of this business plan will be considered through an annual report to committee, following approval of an updated Council Planning and Performance Framework in February 2023.

3. Background

- 3.1 In February 2021, the City of Edinburgh Council approved a Council Business Plan for the three year period 2021/22 to 2023/24.
- 3.2 In June 2022, following a motion by Councillor Day, Council agreed to ask the Chief Executive to draft a refreshed Council Business Plan for consideration by elected members. This refreshed plan, the motion agreed, should provide a five year programme of strategic objectives for the Council, including:

- 3.2.1 "Prioritise investment in our people, in our services and in our communities to deliver a high standard of basic services and amenities. To do this, we need fair funding for Edinburgh and fair pay for our workers.
- 3.2.2 Build on the work of the cross-party Poverty Commission to address the deprivation that exist within our city.
- 3.2.3 Tackle the climate emergency by taking practical steps towards meeting Edinburgh's aim of being a net zero city by 2030.
- 3.2.4 Increase the number of homes for affordable rent, with a target to build 25,000 council owned homes over the next 10 years.
- 3.2.5 Put a framework in place to verify that Edinburgh's children are safe, supported and well educated.
- 3.2.6 Support the introduction of a Transient Visitor Levy (Tourist Tax).
- 3.2.7 Work with residents, civic society, and employers to rebuild Edinburgh's economy as we come out of the pandemic."
- 3.3 In parallel with the development of this plan, a report on the Council's Revenue Budget Framework for 2023/27 was considered by the Finance and Resources Committee on 10th November.
- 3.4 The report provided updates to financial planning assumptions for the Council resulting in increased overall estimated savings requirements before mitigations of £76.5m in 2023/24 and £158.6m over the period to 2026/27 respectively.
- 3.5 The report also gave an update on the development of a Medium Term Financial Plan and Change Programme needed to deliver a balanced Council budget.

4. Main report

- 4.1 Appendix 1 to this report provides a draft of a refreshed Council Business Plan for discussion by Committee.
- 4.2 Development of this draft plan has been led by the Chief Executive, in collaboration with Executive Directors and senior officers.
- 4.3 This committee session provides an opportunity to publicly debate the officer draft presented, with the intention of developing a final draft to Full Council for decision. Officers will again offer to attend and respond to any group requests for information or briefing to support political consideration of the plan during this time.
- 4.4 The new draft represents an evolution of the existing Council Business Plan, updated to take account of:
  - 4.4.1 Shared political priorities agreed at Council,
  - 4.4.2 Priority areas for service improvement relating to the Council's statutory duties, and wider organisational culture reform
  - 4.4.3 Budgetary, resource, and service demand pressures expected to face the Council over the next few years, including pressures arising from implementation of planned Scottish Government legislation during this administration.

Policy and Sustainability Committee - 17 November 2022

- 4.5 The new council business plan aims to be:
  - 4.5.1 Outcome driven, with clearer prioritisation for the Council
  - 4.5.2 Focused on the key Council activities which will have most impact on meeting our strategic priorities and supporting outcomes
  - 4.5.3 Designed to prioritise delivery within long term Council strategies and commitments (on areas such as climate, poverty, city mobility, city planning and others)
  - 4.5.4 Supported by a delivery plan highlighting specific actions to be taken forward within the first 2 years of the plan period 2023/24 to 2024/25,
  - 4.5.5 Deliverable within expected budgets, and which highlights clearly where delivery is dependent on external funding or other investments not yet agreed, and
  - 4.5.6 Designed to support effective scrutiny through specific, measurable targets and milestones for each action
- 4.6 Following these principles, the draft plan sets out three strategic priorities that will be the focus for all Council teams over the next phase of the city's development and for the way the Council will reform its services. These three strategic priorities are to:

4.6.1 Create good places to live and work

4.6.2 End poverty in Edinburgh

4.6.3 Become a net zero city

- 4.7 To meet these three strategic priorities, the business plan also identifies the specific outcomes, objectives, and actions that Council services will deliver during 2023-27. A full detailed analysis of these actions, including timescales for delivery, is provided in Appendix 1 to the plan.
- 4.8 In doing so, the plan is explicitly aligned to the Council Budget and Medium Term Financial Plan. Indeed, it is proposed that the strategic priorities in this plan are used to guide and inform resource allocation, including implementing service reductions in areas of lower impact and strategic priority, and exploring options to deliver all services differently.
- 4.9 Officers are of the view that the actions currently included in the draft plan are deliverable within the expected revenue and capital budget of the council, unless they are highlighted. The Council will continue to meet its statutory duties from within current resources. Any proposals for how the Council discharges these duties more efficiently will be brought to committee for consideration.
- 4.10 Further to this, it is recommended that any proposals or additions to this business plan identified by elected members should be made with a due consideration of their budget implications given the financial context of the Council. This should include consideration of officer capacity, wider resources, and any opportunity costs associated with new priorities.

4.11 Reflecting the overall pressure on resources and capacity, any further new initiatives proposed in the future, would need to be assessed for the specific impact they will have on the delivery of the outcomes detailed in the Business plan. If they are accepted by elected members as being both impactful and of greater relative importance than those actions/ initiatives already agreed in the plan, then the business plan deliverables would need to be reassessed and potentially rephased to accommodate the new workload and resourcing implications.

5. Next Steps

- 5.1 This draft Council Business Plan is presented for debate and consideration by the Policy and Sustainability Committee.
- 5.2 Officers will be available to all political groups to answer questions and provide briefings to support consideration of this Council Business Plan.
- 5.3 Subject to approval and any required amendments, it is proposed that a further draft of the plan is referred for consideration and approval by full council in December 2022, with a view to ensuring that the priorities, outcomes, and objectives included in the plan can inform development of the Council Budget process.
- 5.4 It is acknowledged that the plan may require further changes dependent on the outcome of the Council Budget process and UK and Scottish Government grant settlements.
- 5.5 Progress towards delivery of this Business Plan will be reported to Council on an annual basis. Progress will be measured across three perspectives:
  - 5.5.1 Progress towards long term overarching indicators aligned to three Council strategic priorities (end poverty in Edinburgh, become a net zero city by 2030, and create good places to living and work)
  - 5.5.2 Delivery of medium term key performance indicators which measure progress against the ten outcomes needed to meet these priorities, and
  - 5.5.3 Progress towards short term milestones needed to deliver objectives and actions described in this plan.
- 5.6 Performance monitoring of the Council Business Plan is intended to build on the current approach agreed with elected members. A separate report on an Updated Planning and Performance Framework which will include appropriate measures and targets, will be developed for Committee in February 2023 so that the full framework can be in place by the beginning of the new financial year. Appendix 2 provides an overview of the proposed approach to performance monitoring.
- 5.7 Any new initiatives proposed in the future, would need to be assessed for the specific impact they will have on the delivery of the outcomes detailed in the Business plan. If they are accepted by elected members as being both impactful and of greater relative importance than those actions/ initiatives already agreed in the plan, then the business plan deliverables would need to be reassessed and potentially rephased to accommodate the new workload and resourcing implications.

6. Financial impact

- 6.1 All actions included in this plan are deliverable within expected budgets, contingent on agreement during Council Budget processes. The plan highlights any actions which are dependent on external funding, or additional budget allocation decisions.
- 6.2 It is recommended that any proposals or additions to this business plan identified by elected members should be made with a due consideration of their budget implications given the financial context of the Council. This should include consideration of officer capacity, wider resources, and any opportunity costs associated with new priorities.
- 6.3 Reflecting the overall pressure on resources and capacity, any further new initiatives proposed in the future, would need to be assessed for the specific impact they will have on the delivery of the outcomes detailed in the Business plan. If they are accepted by elected members as being both impactful and of greater relative importance than those actions/ initiatives already agreed in the plan, then the business plan deliverables would need to be reassessed and potentially rephased to accommodate the new workload and resourcing implications.

7. Stakeholder/Community Impact

- 7.1 The actions in this business plan are designed to support Council commitments to end poverty, deliver a net zero city, and create better places to live and work. The plan outlines commitments to work with partners and communities in the development of initiatives and actions needed to deliver this plan.
- 7.2 In prioritising the most impactful areas of Council activity in relation to poverty the plan is expected to have a positive impact on those with protected characteristics and delivery of the Council's Fairer Scotland duties.
- 7.3 In prioritising the most impactful areas of activity in relation to net zero commitments, the plan is expected to have a positive impact on delivering a reduction in council carbon emissions. As a result, however, it is likely that less progress could be made on wider commitments included in the 2030 Climate Strategy, though these are not currently quantifiable.
- 7.4 The performance framework proposed provides for a quantified assessment of these areas of impact.

1. Introduction

The past two years have been a turbulent time for the people of Edinburgh and its institutions. From the Covid pandemic onwards, every family in our city has felt the effects of the economic, health and social challenges we have all had to face.

What Edinburgh needs now is a Council that can adapt quickly and securely while continuing to deliver the services our people need within the resources we have available.

As leader of the Council, I have never been prouder of the resilience and dedication demonstrated by colleagues right across our services as they have responded to the major challenges of our time.

We have led Scotland in our humanitarian response to the crisis caused by Russia's war in Ukraine, welcoming almost 10,000 people to safety and refuge through our Welcome Hub.

We have also supported people through the cost-of-living crisis with an £8m investment in additional support to help those families most in need during.

We have done this at the same time as continuing our city's recovery from the Covid pandemic, making sure our ongoing public health measures are focused on keeping people safe and protected and responding with the outstanding professionalism to the sad passing of Her Majesty The Queen.

During the COVID 19 Crisis we proved that by working together as a collective with our partners across the third sector, we can create a strong and positive culture in which we and our communities are empowered to shape the city we live and work in.

Over the next few years, we can be sure that the global outlook will remain volatile and that new international and local challenges will arise. We know that Council finances will come under increasing pressure, and that an ambitious nationwide programme of Scottish Government legislation will bring profound potential changes to the way we work.

Even as we respond to meet these challenges, our focus will be to work with the people of Edinburgh to deliver on our shared priorities.

We must keep our essential public services running at the standard people expect, deliver support for those who need it most, and protect the environment that sustains us all.

This Council Business Plan sets out three priorities:

- We will concentrate our efforts on creating good places to live and work across Edinburgh,
- We will take the local actions needed to end poverty in this city,
- We will work to deliver a net zero city by 2030

Within these priorities, our absolute commitment will always be to make sure that those in our care are safe, protected and supported to achieve their goals.

Over the next five years this Council will continue to promote fairness and reduce inequality, while supporting Edinburgh's economy to be thriving and resilient.

We will fulfil our commitment to providing our children and young people with every opportunity to succeed by investing in new, modern inclusive schools and early years facilities.

We will build affordable and sustainable homes in safe and social 20-minute neighbourhoods where streets are designed for people, essential services are easily accessible, and public transport and active travel are the best options for moving around.

We will improve the way we empower and engage with our local communities as well as maintaining Edinburgh's iconic cultural reputation across the globe.

With our funding falling in real terms, costs rising, and increasing demand for our services, we know that difficult choices have to be made as to how we prioritise our delivery and reform our organisation.

That is why we are also developing a new Medium-Term Financial Plan alongside this Business Plan, making sure that the commitments we make are affordable and deliverable.

These are ambitious goals, but they are grounded in the important task of getting the basics right for the people of Edinburgh. This Business Plan sets out what we will deliver over the next few years and how we will manage the ongoing and significant financial challenges we are facing.

It is also built from the knowledge that we can give ourselves the best chance of achieving these shared goals through close, cross-party cooperation in our day-today work.

We have shown that we can rise to major challenges, and I have no doubt that we will continue to do so. We can face the future with real confidence and, through our commitment to working with partners, citizens, and communities across Edinburgh, we can deliver a fairer, greener, and stronger city of which we can all be proud.

Council Leader

Edinburgh in profile

As we enter 2023, Edinburgh is a city with huge strengths, but real and vital challenges.

A city of contradictions

We have one of the highest skilled, highest paid populations of any city in the UK, but even here 19% of children grow up in poverty, and inequalities in health are vivid – boys born in the poorest parts of the city can expect to live a life around 12 years shorter than those in the most affluent.

This year we have seen a cost of living crisis forcing even more families into impossible daily choices as they struggle to get by. This challenge is only likely to grow harder in the near future. The next two years expected to show the biggest drop in UK living standards since 1961.

A growing city

Edinburgh is the fastest growing city in Scotland, with more than 50,000 new residents expected over the next 20 years. This is a true sign of the city's success, but it does bring real pressure on city communities, and the city infrastructure on which we all rely.

Managing the growth of the city also means managing a just transition to net zero. To meet our climate targets, Edinburgh needs to move at least twice as fast as we did in the past decade on reducing emissions every year to 2030

An economic capital

Edinburgh is Scotland's economic capital and, outside London, the strongest major city economy in the UK. But business conditions throughout the UK will be challenging for the next few years, with the economy as whole expected to be in recession or growing slowly until 2026 at earliest.

Businesses across Edinburgh are already struggling with increased costs of trading – with inflation and interest rate increases hitting the cost of supplies, wages, energy, and borrowing. All these pressures are particularly challenging for sectors of the economy, like tourism and hospitality, which are still recovering from the impacts of the Covid pandemic.

2. Our future council

The Council needs to work differently if we are to deliver our priorities in a way that is financially sustainable.

We also need to change as an organisation to reflect the changes in working practice brought about by the pandemic.

The financial challenges we face are growing fast

The Council has big ambitions for Edinburgh, but every year we have less money available to deliver them with. In fact, over the next four years we think we need to reduce our running costs by over £160m per annum just to break even.

Almost three quarters of the money the Council uses to fund day to day services comes from Government grant funding that has been cut by 15% in real terms since 2015 and is expected to continue fall in value every year.

At the same time, the population of Edinburgh is growing and changing. That means more children in schools, more people with complex support needs, and more demand for our services in general.

And the cost providing those services is increasing too. Inflation means the cost of goods and services we need to purchase is rising. Increasing energy costs mean Council buildings, like schools, libraries, and offices, are more expensive to heat and light. The cost of wages for our staff is increasing too, and higher interest rates mean we need to pay more to fund the capital investments we have planned.

To help us live within our means, we will continue to make the case to the Scottish and UK Governments for our fair share of funding. We will also maximise the opportunities we have to raise more local income in ways that are fair and appropriate for Edinburgh – including introducing a Tourism Visitor Levy as quickly as legislation will allow.

Even with these commitments, however, we will need to reduce our costs, and make sure that all our resources are focused on delivering the things that matter most to the people of Edinburgh.

At the same time, we need to reflect that the world around us is changing. Citizens and employees delivering services are used to working in more agile ways and we need to change and modernise our systems and service models to better respond to that.

This all means that the future council will need to work from fewer, but better local buildings. And it means continuing to improve our digital infrastructure, improving access to online services where that is the best way to improve outcomes for people, and improving the security and resilience of our council wide management systems.

We will also need to be more empowering of others and more connected to our citizens lives and communities, working with partners to ensure there is no wrong door for people to get support, where we tailor services around people who need help and where those in our care are safe and protected.

Covid 19 showed us what an empowered and trusted workforce can achieve, and we need to do more of this so that the whole organisation can create and deliver our future council.

This also requires a culture that is more inclusive, where people feel safe and able to raise concerns and potential risks knowing that they will be responded to fairly and effectively.

This Business Plan marks an exciting new opportunity for us show how we are responding positively to these opportunities and challenges.

Our Future Council will be:

- Clear about its priorities and focused on delivery
- More empowering of local communities, citizens, colleagues, and partners
- Determined there will be no 'wrong door' to find support
- Digitally enabled, inclusive, and accessible
- A smaller, leaner organisation with fewer, better buildings meeting service needs
- Financially sustainable, delivering a balanced budget
- Open and transparent in its decision making

Changing the shape of local government in Scotland

Over the next five years the Scottish Government are expected to bring in 13 new Bills that will transform the way local government works in Scotland.

These include new legislative duties that will change the way we deliver services for people, with new human rights bills extending rights thresholds and entitlements.

They include new requirements and increased expectations for councils relating to local heat and energy planning, community wealth building, childcare, housing, transport, and a range of other services.

As these requirements are implemented, the Council will advocate for the interests of Edinburgh and use our influence to ensure they are appropriately funded by the Scottish Government and do not create additional pressures on our budget. The Council Business Plan will be updated to reflect these national policy decisions as needed.

Proposed new legislation also includes major reforms to the structure and make up local government, through plans for a new National Care Service, a new Local Democracy Bill, as well as potential reforms to education in Scotland.

The creation of a new National Care Service alone, for instance, could represent a restructuring, and centralisation away from local government, of services which account for up to 40% of the Council's budget and 22% of its workforce.

Taken together, these plans mean that the functions and the budgets of the Council will face a challenging transformation during the next five years, impacting directly on our structures, our workforce, and the people who depend on our services.

3. How we work with partners

Shared outcomes and joint working

The ambitions we have for Edinburgh cannot be met by the Council, or any other organisation, working on its own. The ambitions set out in this plan will contribute directly to the overall Edinburgh Partnership vision for the city – a thriving, connected, inspired and fair city, where all forms of poverty and inequality are reduced.

Through the Edinburgh Partnership we are committed to working with our community planning partners – including community groups, public, private, and third sector organisations – across the city to deliver the outcomes and goals we all share, and which can only be achieved when we work together.

The Edinburgh Partnership Community Plan 2018- 2028 describes the framework for that joint working where there is a focus on action to end poverty and three specific outcomes to which all partners are committed. We want to make sure that residents across all parts of Edinburgh have enough money to live on, access to work, training and learning opportunities, and a good place to live.

- Enough money to live on. All partners are committed to working together to deliver a more coordinated approach to income maximisation, support, and advice services. The plan aims to make sure all residents have access to income maximisation support where and when they need it and receive the same high-quality support wherever they are in the city.
- Access to work, training and learning opportunities. Partners are committed to working together to provide new and additional targeted support to help people into work, training, or learning. This includes planning of intensive integrated family support programmes, support for people on release from prison, support for care experienced young people, and improved support for people from the BAME community.
- A good place to live. The places people live and work, their connections with others and the extent to which they can influence the decisions that affect them, all have a significant impact on their quality of life and wellbeing. Towards this, all partners are committed to working together to create good places to live in Edinburgh and accessible and open places, with good links to health, childcare, and other services.

4. Listening to citizens and empowering communities

To meet the priorities set out in this plan, we need a real increase in the say people and communities have over services and how they are provided by the Council and other partners. This will build more empowered and resilient communities across the city, drive accountability within services and encourage democratic participation and engagement by citizens.

Over recent years we have taken significant steps as a Council to improve the way we consult and engage with citizens, and to ensure that consultations have a real impact on the way changes in this city are being delivered. During the past five years the Council held almost 300 public consultations, receiving more than 140,000 responses.

We have seen throughout the challenges of the past few years that communities and citizens can achieve great progress together. We will seek to increase the control local communities have over the design of services and local resources.

We recognise that our communities engage with many different public and wider service providers and so we will work through our community planning partnership to increase the visibility and impact of joined up decision making and service delivery.

Over the next few years, we know that human rights legislation will extend rights thresholds and entitlements in Scotland, and we are embracing the changes that those new rights will demand as we ensure Edinburgh is a city that is fair for all.

Working with our local partners - public, private and third sectors, we will...

- a. work with our community planning partners (the Edinburgh Partnership) to deliver the 2050 City Vision, eliminating poverty from the city by 2030 and responding to the threat posed by Climate Change to meet our 2030 emissions target
- b. work with the Edinburgh Partnership on a new operating model for Council services that is focused on preventing poverty, and is built around '20-minute neighbourhoods' in all parts of the city
- c. work with other public bodies and the third sector to move away from a procured services model and into a relationship-based approach to commissioned services as advocated by the Edinburgh Poverty Commission.

Working to empower our communities and listen to citizens, we will...

d. recognise that many of our communities are developing their own local networks and using their assets and resources to improve the lives of their residents. The Council will seek to support these networks across our service areas through an enabling and transparent, rather than a contractual or transactional, approach. The Edinburgh Partnership community empowerment strategy should promote this overall approach across all partner agencies while noting there will be local differences across the city.

- e. in tandem with the above, work with the community to evolve Neighbourhood Networks to ensure they provide communities with direct input to community planning at a local and strategic level in the city
- f. maintain new relationships and groups built up in recent years and support communities with Community Asset Transfers and using Participatory Budgeting where resources allow
- g. make sure that the diverse people and communities of Edinburgh, including those protected by current and future legislation, feel their voice is effectively heard and listened to in decision making processes and ensure that action for equalities is mainstreamed throughout Council decision making
- h. continue to deliver a best practice consultation and engagement guide to support officers to deliver high quality consultation and report on how citizens' views have shaped the policies and services we deliver
- i. continue to benchmark our progress with an annual Edinburgh Survey developed with the Edinburgh Partnership.

5. Our priorities for 2023 to 2027

This Business Plan sets out three priorities for the next phase of the city's development and for the way we will reform our services. We will use this plan to guide our budget and investment decisions, ensuring that spending is focused on those activities with the biggest impact.

Our three core priorities are to:

- Create good places to live and work
- End poverty in Edinburgh
- Become a net zero city

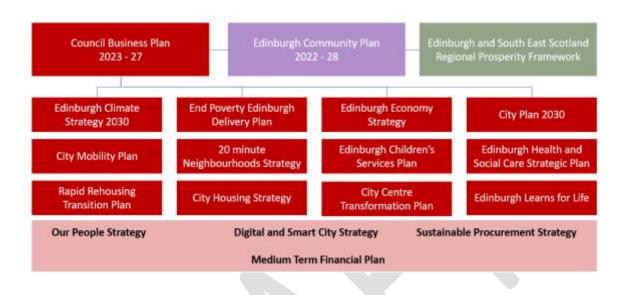

These three priorities are interlinked and interdependent. They will drive the 10 outcomes (set out below) our services will aim to deliver over the next five years. This plan stands as one part of a golden thread linking and guiding our operations.

It connects the major strategies and Council policies agreed in the past few years, through the shared goals and commitments of the Edinburgh Partnership and towards our long term ambitions for Edinburgh to be a fair, welcoming, pioneering, and thriving city, as expressed by the 2050 Edinburgh City Vision.

Alongside these wider strategic objectives, there are a wide range of statutory duties that the Council is required to deliver. This statutory landscape includes significant duties relating to, for instance, education and caring for vulnerable citizens, but it extends well beyond these into almost every area of Council operations. Throughout the delivery of this business plan, we must continue to meet all our statutory duties, but the way these are met will continue to evolve in line with our financial framework and the budget and service challenges the Council faces. Any actions relating to the discharge of statutory duties not covered in this plan will be considered and approved by relevant Council committees.

A delivery plan to meet our priorities

To meet our three core priorities, this business plan identifies the outcomes, objectives, and actions that Council services will deliver during 2023-27. A full detailed analysis of these actions, including timescales for delivery, is provided in Appendix 1.

a. Modernise and streamline the Council's core business processes to deliver better outcomes for citizens, and a more secure and efficient organisation

b. Support and equip the Council workforce with the skills and enabling culture needed to deliver safely these Council Business Plan priorities and our wider statutory duties

c. Ensure that the priorities committed to in this Business Plan are affordable and achievable within the resources we have available

6. Our finances

We spend over £1 billion in revenue and around £400 million of capital each year. While we have a strong track record of balancing the budget, the funding and income we receive is increasingly insufficient to meet the rising cost and demand for services, such as homelessness and social care costs.

In the last decade this Council has removed almost £400m from its annual running costs. Over the next 4 years we will have to find a further £160 million in cost reductions to reflect our reducing Council Budget. Taken alongside rising service demands and the ongoing impact of the pandemic, this presents a serious and testing financial challenge.

The nature of this financial pressure is even greater than previous crises and complicated by the volatile economic and public finance context within which all organisations and businesses are now operating.

We can expect, for instance, the cost of living crisis to continue to increase the need for Council services, while high inflation adds to the cost of delivery of those services, through increased supply chain and workforce costs. At the same time, pressures on public finances across the UK are likely to increase pressure on core Council budgets, while higher interest rates impacts on the cost of Council borrowing and its ability to invest in capital projects.

We are required by law to set a balanced budget every year and doing so will mean making increasingly difficult choices, including consideration of service reductions, staffing reductions and asset reductions across the work of the Council.

To help us live within our means, we will continue to make the case to the Scottish and UK Governments for our fair share of funding. We will also maximise the opportunities we have to raise more local income in ways that are fair and appropriate for Edinburgh – including introducing a Tourism Visitor Levy as quickly as legislation will allow.

The Medium Term Financial Plan

Although we are required to set a balanced budget every year, we also want to ensure we have a longer term approach to our financial planning for the Council. As such, we are delivering a four-year Medium Term Financial Plan (MTFP) alongside this Business Plan which will ensure that our policy priorities, including the need for significant organisational reform, are deliverable and affordable. It will be delivered through a Change Programme across four principal themes of work:

Organisational Efficiency - Improving our use of technology will be a key enabler to drive organisational efficiency, while refresh of our core business systems is also critical to making sure we can meet our responsibilities in key services such as social care and our wider workforce. This workstream will ensure we use technology more effectively, moving more services on-line, simplifying and automating business processes, embedding new, post-covid ways of working and delivering the Organisational Reform priorities set out in this Business Plan

Service Design and External Spend - This workstream will focus on improving contract management, seeking efficiencies across a range of spend categories and identifying different ways of designing and delivering Council services

Delivery Optimisation - Making services more accessible to residents, but delivered through fewer, better buildings is a key priority of this Business Plan. This workstream will seek to rationalise the Council's property holdings, alongside creating opportunities to ensure citizens can access a wider range of services from within high quality multi-purpose settings.

Prevention and Partnership Working - This workstream will focus on designing and rolling out new ways of working that help prevent and mitigate the harm and costs associated with poverty, homelessness, and family crisis through more efficient partnership working across Council services, other public bodies, and community organisations.

This work will help us take the difficult decisions necessary to make sure our resources are targeted on actions that have the highest impact for the residents of Edinburgh.

This Plan will also be supported by our ten-year sustainable capital budget strategy.. As with the revenue budget, the content and affordability of the capital programme will need to be reconsidered in light of significant expenditure pressures and the Council's priority outcomes.

Balance of controls and risk management

Through the continued support from our Governance and Internal Audit and Risk teams we will apply proportionate and balanced controls, effective risk management and assurance processes across the Council to support the management of our finances, delivery of services and the implementation of change. You can read more in our Annual Governance Statement and Internal Audit Annual Opinion.

Delivering Best Value

In November 2020, Audit Scotland published our most recent Best Value report. It concluded that over recent years many of our services have improved and our finances have been well-managed with ambitious strategies in place to improve the lives of local people and the economy. In some areas, the report felt that there was more we could do to fulfil our potential and further improve the lives of citizens.

In response to this audit, the Council agreed a programme of improvements to performance, and governance, delivery of which are embedded within this refreshed Council Business Plan.

Throughout the delivery of this plan, the Council will report to relevant committees on the implantation of best value improvements. And the Council will continue to collaborate with Audit Scotland and all its external inspection bodies to improve the culture of the organisation, and the quality, condition, coverage, and transparency of our services.

7. Our People

We know that successful organisations have a clear purpose and a strong, positive culture. We aspire to be a progressive organisation that works flexibly and seeks to always do the right thing for our colleagues and the residents we serve. Responding to Covid-19 was a lesson in how we can work differently, and, over the next few years, we want to continue to build on this to become a fairer and more inclusive place to work. There have been positives and challenges from the way we have had to work in recent years. We will listen to the voices of colleagues on these experiences, which will help us adapt our future working practices.

Removing organisational and cultural barriers will enable our colleagues to feel a greater sense of trust, empowerment, and ownership of their roles. We want to build a culture across all services that focuses on the importance of strong relationships between colleagues, residents, businesses, and communities – helping us to be more resilient against any future public health, environmental or economic shocks.

The changes we are making are set out in our People Strategy, and the underpinning Workforce Plan. These include more detail on:

- our organisational purpose, expected behaviours that we have of our colleagues, and the expectations they should have of the Council as their employer
- physical, financial, mental, and emotional wellbeing
- our approach to organisational change so everyone feels engaged and listened to
- our Diversity and Inclusion Strategy and Action Plan, which promotes a more positive culture where we can all be authentic and true to ourselves
- investment in the learning, development, and capability of our colleagues
- continuing to work with the Trade Unions to ensure our pay and benefits offering for colleagues is simpler, fairer, and more sustainable.

8. Managing Performance

Progress towards delivery of this Business Plan will be reported to Council on an annual basis continuous improvement model. Progress will be measured across three perspectives:

- Progress towards long term overarching indicators aligned to the three strategic Council priorities outlined in this plan
- Delivery of medium term key performance indicators which measure progress against the ten outcomes needed to meet these priorities, and
- Progress towards short term milestones needed to deliver objectives and actions described in this plan.

We will align our existing Planning and Performance framework to this Council Business Plan, setting out how we manage performance across the Council. This framework provides a clear link between our business plan, key strategies, annual service plans and includes how we use benchmarking. The framework is underpinned by a cycle of 'plan, do, check and review and act' at all levels of service and will drive a culture of continuous improvement.

The business plan outcomes will be aligned to SMART performance indicators and milestones, allowing for open discussion and scrutiny of performance at organisational and service team levels, as well as with Elected Members, on a regular basis. These performance indicators and milestones are reviewed on an annual basis to ensure they remain the most appropriate for monitoring performance.

We will also publish performance reports on our website to make sure they are easy to access for residents.
