You should not however raise any new matter which was not before the planning authority at the time it decided your application (or at the time expiry of the period of determination), unless you can demonstrate that the new matter could not have been raised before that time or that it not being raised before that time is a consequence of exceptional circumstances.
I should like to appeal the Refusal notice on following grounds (a) the Scottish Govt has extended the period for STL licencing to 1 Oct 2023 in order to help alleviate cost of living crisis on STL operators. (b) I understand that the Council has already allowed STL planning applications to be withdrawn, and then resubmitted in line with the new timetable (c) new post consultation guidance on STLs is due end Feb/March so the application should be resubmitted and tested against that
Have you raised any matters which were not before the appointed officer at the time the Determination on your application was made? *
If yes, you should explain in the box below, why you are raising the new matter, why it was a your application was determined and why you consider it should be considered in your review.
