- Application for planning permission (including householder application but excluding application to work minerals).
- Application for planning permission in principle.
- Further application.
- Application for approval of matters specified in conditions.

What does your review relate to? *

- Refusal Notice.
- Grant of permission with Conditions imposed.

Statement of reasons for seeking review

You must state in full, why you are seeking a review of the planning authority's decision (or failure to make a decision). You should not however raise any new matter which was not before the planning authority at the time it decided your application (or at the time expiry of the period of determination), unless you can demonstrate that the new matter could not have been raised before that time or that it not being raised before that time is a consequence of exceptional circumstances.

I consider that the ongoing use of the property as an STL will not impact adversely on housing supply or on local amenity and living conditions. It is a very small flat in a very central area. Anyone living in this area should be aware there are lots of tourists. The building is called 'Royal Mile Mansions' and was originally designed in part as commercial premises. Please refer to supporting statement for more details.

Have you raised any matters which were not before the appointed officer at the time the Determination on your application was made? *

Yes No

If yes, you should explain in the box below, why you are raising the new matter, why it was not raised with the appointed officer before your application was determined and why you consider it should be considered in your review: * (Max 500 characters)

Can the site be clearly seen from a road or public land? *

SHORT TERM HOLIDAY LET

Proposal

The application site is a Short Term Holiday Let within a block of flats located at 25 Royal Mile Mansions, 50 North Bridge Edinburgh which is being used without the benefit of Planning Permission.

The unit is addressed as flat 25 within this block of flats and is located on the third floor and accessed from the common stairwell.

There are a further 54 residential units within this block of flats making 55 residential units in total.

The property is listed as Category A, lies within the Old Town Conservation Area and within the World Heritage Site.

The property is currently being used as a short term holiday let.

This planning application is to formalise the property's use as a short term holiday let in retrospect only, there are no physical alterations being carried out.

The property is entered from North Bridge which is one of the busiest roads in Edinburgh. North Bridge connects the High Street / Royal Mile and Princess Street. This entire area is a thriving area for tourism, with hotels, restaurants, bars, nightclubs, shops, etc.

Although the property is entered from North Bridge the unit itself over looks Cockburn Street which again is a very busy street.

The North Bridge / Royal Mile / Princess Street area of Edinburgh, in short, is a hive of activity for tourism and this property is in an ideal location for visitors to Scotland and Edinburgh in particular to have a short term stay whilst they immerse themselves in the culture and history that Edinburgh has to offer.

The property itself is a relatively small unit which is perfect given its location and size for a short term holiday let. The unit has one bedroom, living room, kitchen and a bathroom. The property has a floor area of 54.80 sq.m.

As mentioned above this unit is located within a block of flats and is accessed from a common stairwell. At the ground floor access from North Bridge, there is located a concierge desk, which provides reception and security for the 55 units. The block is managed by a factor and access to the individual units can be either by way of 2 lifts or steps.

On a recent visit to the block it was established that there are a mix of flats and flats being used as short term holiday lets.

At present there are 2 elements of planning policy that planning applications for short term holiday lets should be considered against.

These policies are the existing Edinburgh Local Development Plan (LDP) and the new Revised Draft National Planning Framework 4 (NPF 4) in which Policy 30 (e) is pertinent.

Policy 30 (e) states :

e) Development proposals for the re-use of existing buildings for short term holiday letting will not be supported where the proposal will result in :

i. An unacceptable impact on local amenity or the character of a neighbourhood area ; or

ii. The loss of residential accommodation where such loss is not outweighed by demonstrable local economic benefits.

There are no physical external or internal alterations proposed. As such the proposal will not have an adverse impact on or cause harm to the listed building. The setting of the listed building and the setting of neighbouring listed buildings will be unaffected by the proposal.

There are no physical external or internal alterations proposed. The formalisation of this Unit into a short term let will have no material impact on the character of the conservation area.

In terms of the property being located within the World Heritage Area, the proposal for the change of use does not affect the reasons for the inscription of the World Heritage Site.

The property is situated within a mixed use area with existing hotels, restaurants, bars, nightclubs, shops, and within easy walking distance of tourist attractions such as Edinburgh Castle, Holyrood Palace, St. Giles Cathedral, Camera Obscura, Scottish National Portrait Gallery, The National Museum of Scotland, Dynamic Earth, The Scottish Parliament, The Edinburgh Dungeons to name but a few.

In terms of transport North Bridge is within easy walking distance of Waverley Train Station, Trams on Princess Street, local buses on North Bridge, and the Edinburgh Bus Station.

Edinburgh is a city which welcomes tourists and visitors.

Tourists visit the city all year round to see the attractions such as mentioned above and immerse themselves in the history, sometimes gruesome, that Edinburgh has to offer. In the month of August there is a massive influx of visitors coming here to take part in or witness the world renowned Edinburgh Festival and Fringe. At the end of the year Edinburgh puts on a massive Hogmanay Celebration, with ice rink, big wheel, street traders etc.

The visitors and revellers require accommodation. Without accommodation there would be significantly less visitors, which would result in less revenue being generated for the local economy.

It has been estimated that there are circa 12,000 short term holiday let properties currently in use in Edinburgh. These properties are an integral and important part of servicing the tourist sector. The more expansive the festivals become the more accommodation is required.

It should be understood that these short term holiday lets make a significant contribution to the economy of Edinburgh by virtue of the fact that people staying in these holiday lets spend a significant amount of money, much more than local residents, in Restaurants, Bars, Shops, Clubs, Tourist Attractions not to mention Sporting events etc.

Edinburgh to stay vibrant and busy requires short term holiday lets, however they have to be located in suitable areas. It is understood that properties within predominantly residential areas out-with the hubbub and vibrancy of the city centre are not suitable for short term holiday lets, however it is vitally important that the council grant permission for short term holiday lets within the hubbub and vibrancy of the city centre close to major tourist attractions.

This flat is located within the city centre and is located very close to major tourist attractions and is in an area that has a general noise level well above what would be expected in a predominantly residential area. It should also be remembered that pipers, with a licence from the council, play lung bursting tunes on the corner of Cockburn Street and The High Street / Royal Mile, opposite the Tron Kirk which is virtually outside the windows of this particular flat. Residents of this area are well used to noise well above what would be expected in a predominantly residential zone. People actually want to stay in areas where there is noise, vibrancy, exuberance, it's the holiday feeling.

Without flats like this one, which is well kept and managed, and can be used as a short term holiday let without compromising the amenity of local residents, Edinburgh cannot fulfil its potential as a City of Tourism and Culture.

Given the property is situated within a mixed use area with existing hotels, restaurants, bars, nightclubs, shops, and within easy walking distance of tourist attractions such as Edinburgh Castle, Holyrood Palace, St. Giles Cathedral, Camera Obscura, Scottish National Portrait Gallery, The National Museum of Scotland, Dynamic Earth, The Scottish Parliament, The Edinburgh Dungeons to name but a few. The fact that there is lift access to the flats, the fact that there is a full time concierge, the fact that there are a significant number of units within the building being used as short term holiday lets, the fact that the property can easily access transport hubs such as the main bus station and railway station, this demonstrates that a use such as short term holiday let is eminently suitable for the area and that there would be no unacceptable impact on local amenity or the character of the neighbourhood area. If Edinburgh Council wants to have short term holiday lets as part of the mix of accommodation for visitors to the City then this is an area where they should be welcome.

Furthermore, the unit's size dictates that it is only suitable for a single person or a couple, in no shape or form can this unit be described as a "party flat" which would create excessive noise and disturbance. If this were the case the Council would have taken enforcement action, therefore there is no unacceptable impact on local amenity or the character of the neighbourhood area.

Given that this particular flat is a small flat, in amongst 54 other flats of which a substantial proportion are being used as short term holiday lets the loss of this flat as a residential property is by far outweighed by the demonstrable local economic benefits and not only that, by allowing short term holiday lets in areas that are perceived to be noisier than other areas, vibrant and exuberant and where people actually want to stay for short visits it takes the pressure off predominantly residential areas where frankly short term holiday lets would not be welcome.

In short this property passes the test of policy 30 (e) and planning permission should be granted.

TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (SCOTLAND) ACTS DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT PROCEDURE (SCOTLAND) REGULATIONS 2013

Formalise the use as a short-term holiday let.
At Flat 25 50 North Bridge Edinburgh EH1 1QN

Application No: 23/05036/FULSTL

DECISION NOTICE

With reference to your application for Planning Permission STL registered on 20 November 2023, this has been decided by Local Delegated Decision. The Council in exercise of its powers under the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Acts and regulations, now determines the application as Refused in accordance with the particulars given in the application.

Any condition(s) attached to this consent, with reasons for imposing them, or reasons for refusal, are shown below;

Reason for Refusal:-

1. The proposal is contrary to Local Development Plan Policy Hou 7 in respect of Inappropriate Uses in Residential Areas, as the use of this property as a short term let will have a materially detrimental effect on the living conditions and amenity of nearby residents.
2. The proposal is contrary to National Planning Framework Policy 30(e) in respect of Local Amenity and Loss of Residential Accommodation, as the use of this property as a short term let will result in an adverse impact on local amenity and the loss of a residential property that has not been justified.

Please see the guidance notes on our decision page for further information, including how to appeal or review your decision.

Drawings 01-02, represent the determined scheme. Full details of the application can be found on the Planning and Building Standards Online Services

The reason why the Council made this decision is as follows:

The proposal complies with Sections 59 and 64 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) (Scotland) Act 1997 as it will not harm the listed building or its setting and it will preserve or enhance the character or appearance of the conservation area.

The change of use of this property to a short term let (STL) will have an unacceptable impact on neighbouring amenity. The loss of the residential accommodation has not been justified. Whilst it is recognised that there is an economic benefit to the City as a whole from the provision of visitor accommodation in this case it does not outweigh the loss of residential accommodation or the adverse impact on residential amenity. The proposal does not comply with the Development Plan policy NPF 4 policy 30(e) and LDP policy Hou 7. There are no material considerations that outweigh this conclusion. The proposal is unacceptable.

This determination does not carry with it any necessary consent or approval for the proposed development under other statutory enactments.

Should you have a specific enquiry regarding this decision please contact Lizzi Smyth directly at lizzi.smyth@edinburgh.gov.uk.

NOTES

1. If the applicant is aggrieved by the decision to refuse permission for or approval required by a condition in respect of the proposed development, or to grant permission or approval subject to conditions, the applicant may require the planning authority to review the case under section 43A of the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1997 within three months beginning with the date of this notice. The Notice of Review can be made online at www.eplanning.scot or forms can be downloaded from that website. Paper forms should be addressed to the City of Edinburgh Planning Local Review Body, G.2, Waverley Court, 4 East Market Street, Edinburgh, EH8 8BG. For enquiries about the Local Review Body, please email localreviewbody@edinburgh.gov.uk.

2. If permission to develop land is refused or granted subject to conditions and the owner of the land claims that the land has become incapable of reasonably beneficial use in its existing state and cannot be rendered capable of reasonably beneficial use by carrying out of any development which has been or would be permitted, the owner of the land may serve on the planning authority a purchase notice requiring the purchase of the owner of the land's interest in the land accordance with Part 5 of the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1997.

Report of Handling

Application for Planning Permission STL
Flat 25 50 North Bridge, Edinburgh, EH1 1QN

Proposal: Formalise the use as a short-term holiday let.

Item – Local Delegated Decision
Application Number – 23/05036/FULSTL
Ward – B11 - City Centre

Recommendation

It is recommended that this application be Refused subject to the details below.

Summary

The proposal complies with Sections 59 and 64 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) (Scotland) Act 1997 as it will not harm the listed building or its setting and it will preserve or enhance the character or appearance of the conservation area.

The change of use of this property to a short term let (STL) will have an unacceptable impact on neighbouring amenity. The loss of the residential accommodation has not been justified. Whilst it is recognised that there is an economic benefit to the City as a whole from the provision of visitor accommodation in this case it does not outweigh the loss of residential accommodation or the adverse impact on residential amenity. The proposal does not comply with the Development Plan policy NPF 4 policy 30(e) and LDP policy Hou 7. There are no material considerations that outweigh this conclusion. The proposal is unacceptable.

SECTION A – Application Background

Site Description

The application property comprises a one-bedroom, third floor flat located on the western side of North Bridge. The flat is accessed via a shared entrance and communal lobby with stairwell and lift. The access door is located between two commercial properties, currently a retail store and restaurant.

The immediate area is mixed use in nature with commercial use occupying the ground floor with residential properties above. There is a high volume of pedestrian and vehicular movements in the area due to its relationship with tourist activity.

The property is located within the Old Town Conservation Area and the Old and New Towns of Edinburgh World Heritage Site. It forms part of a Category A listed building, 20-52 (Even Nos) North Bridge Including Scotsman Hotel, Scotsman Steps, Arcade, Royal Mile Mansions, 175 And 177 High Street And 65-71 (Odd Nos) Cockburn Street, LB30143, 12/12/1974.

Description Of The Proposal

The application is for the retrospective change of use from residential to short term let (STL).

No date has been given of when the retrospective change of use commenced. Details were requested from the applicant but no response was received.

Section B - Assessment

Determining Issues

Due to the proposals relating to a listed building(s) and being within a conservation area, this report will first consider the proposals in terms of Sections 59 and 64 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) (Scotland) Act 1997 (the "1997 Heritage Act"):

- a) Is there a strong presumption against granting planning permission due to the proposals:
- (i) harming the listed building or its setting? or
 - (ii) conflicting with the objective of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of the conservation area?
- b) If the strong presumption against granting planning permission is engaged, are there any significant public interest advantages of the development which can only be delivered at the scheme's proposed location that are sufficient to outweigh it?

This report will then consider the proposed development under Sections 24, 25 and 37 of the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1997 (the 1997 Act):

Having regard to the legal requirement of Section 24(3), in the event of any policy incompatibility between National Planning Framework 4 (NPF4) & Edinburgh Local Development Plan 2016 (LDP) the newer policy shall prevail.

Do the proposals comply with the development plan?

If the proposals do comply with the development plan, are there any compelling material considerations for not approving them?

If the proposals do not comply with the development plan, are there any compelling material considerations for approving them?

In the assessment of material considerations this report will consider:

- equalities and human rights;
- public representations; and
- any other identified material considerations.

Assessment

The property is located in the Edinburgh Short-Term Let Control Area which came into force on 05 September 2022. Under Section 26B of the 1997 Act, where a property is located within a short term let control area and falls within the definition of STL under The Town and Country Planning (Short-term Let Control Areas) (Scotland) Regulations 2021, its use for the purpose of providing STLs is deemed to involve a material change of use of the dwellinghouse. However, if the STL use commenced prior to the control area taking effect, Section 26 B is not applied retrospectively.

Nevertheless, under Section 26 of the 1997 Act, the making of any material change in use of any buildings is development. Granting planning permission would change the use from a residential flat dwelling to STL. The full-time use of the property as an STL, as a result of the granting of planning permission, would constitute a material change in the use of the property under section 26 of the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1997, given the associated characteristics of STL use in a location with a shared residential stair, such as this.

Accordingly, the STL use is deemed a material change of use irrespective of whether it commenced before or after Edinburgh's Short-Term Let Control Area came into force.

a) The proposals harm the listed building and its setting?

The following HES guidance is relevant in the determination of this application:

- Managing Change in the Historic Environment: Guidance on the principles of listed buildings

- Managing Change in the Historic Environment: Setting

Managing Change in the Historic Environment: Interim Guidance on the principles of listed building consent sets out the principles for assessing the impact of a development on a listed building.

Managing Change in the Historic Environment: Setting sets out the principles that apply to developments affecting the setting of historic assets or places including listed buildings and conservation areas. It includes factors to be considered in assessing the impact of a change on the setting.

There are no external or internal alterations proposed. As such, the proposal will not have an adverse impact on or cause harm to the listed building. The setting of the listed building and the setting of neighbouring listed buildings will be unaffected by the proposal.

Conclusion in relation to the listed building

The proposal does not harm the character of the listed building, or its setting. It is therefore acceptable with regard to Section 59 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) (Scotland) Act 1997.

b) The proposals harm the character or appearance of the conservation area?

Section 64(1) of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) (Scotland) Act 1997 states:

"In exercise, with respect to any buildings or other land in a conservation area, of any powers under any of the provisions in subsection (2), special attention shall be paid to the desirability of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of that area."

The Old Town Conservation Area Character Appraisal states: "emphasises the survival of the original medieval street pattern; the wealth of important landmark buildings; the survival of an outstanding collection of archaeological remains, medieval buildings, and 17th-century town houses; the consistent and harmonious height and mass of buildings; the importance of stone as a construction material for both buildings and the public realm; the vitality and variety of different uses; and the continuing presence of a residential community."

As stated previously, there are no external changes proposed. The change of use will not impact on the character or appearance of the conservation area. Therefore, the proposal does not conflict with the objective of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of the conservation area.

Conclusion in relation to the conservation area

The proposals comply with Section 64 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) (Scotland) Act 1997.

c) The proposals comply with the development plan?

National Planning Framework 4 (NPF4) was adopted by the Scottish Ministers on 13 February 2023 and forms part of the Council's Development Plan. NPF4 policies supports the planning and delivery of Sustainable Places, Liveable Places and Productive Places and are the key policies against which proposals for development are assessed. Several policies in the Edinburgh Local Development Plan (LDP) are superseded by equivalent and alternative policies within NPF4.

The relevant NPF4 and LDP 2016 policies to be considered are:

- NPF4 Sustainable Places Tackling the climate and nature crises Policy 1.
- NPF4 Productive Places Tourism Policy 30.
- NPF4 Historic Assets and Places Policy 7.
- Local Development Plan Housing Policy, Hou 7.
- Local Development Plan Transport Policies, Tra 2 and Tra 3

The non-statutory Listed Building and Conservation Area Guidance is a material consideration when considering NPF 4 Policy 7.

The non-statutory Guidance for Business (January 2024) is a material consideration that is relevant when considering LDP Policy Hou 7 and NPF4 policy 30.

The Edinburgh Design Guidance is a material consideration when considering LDP Policies Tra 2 and Tra 3.

Listed Buildings and Conservation Area

The impact on the listed building, its setting and the setting of the neighbouring listed building has been assessed in section a). There are no external or internal works proposed and as such there will not be a significant impact on historic assets and places.

The proposal complies with NPF 4 Policy 7.

World Heritage Site

LDP policy Env 1- World Heritage Sites states that development which would harm the qualities which justified the inscription of the Old and New Towns of Edinburgh as World Heritage Sites or would have a detrimental impact on the site's setting will not be permitted.

The application proposes no external alterations to the building. The proposed change of use to a short term let does not affect the reasons for the inscription of the World Heritage Site.

The proposal complies with LDP policy Env 1.

Proposed Use

With regards to NPF 4 Policy 1, the proposed change of use does not involve operational development resulting in physical changes to the property. The proposals will have a negligible impact on the global climate and nature crisis.

NPF 4 Policy 30 seeks to encourage, promote and facilitate sustainable tourism development which benefits local people, is consistent with our net zero and nature commitments, and inspires people to visit Scotland. Criterion 30 (e) specifically relate to STL proposals.

LDP Policy Hou 7 (Inappropriate Uses in Residential Areas), seeks to protect residential amenity.

Amenity

The applicant's planning statement states that the occupancy of the flat as an STL would be for either one or two people and that the building has carpeted corridors, lifts and a concierge service. It is also stated that there are other STLs in the building and that the applicant is not aware of complaints regarding the use as an STL. They also highlight that no enforcement action has been taken against the property.

The use of this property as an STL would introduce an increased frequency of movement to the property through the shared stair, enabling visitors to arrive and stay at the premises for a short period of time on a regular basis throughout the year in a manner dissimilar to that of permanent residents. There is no guarantee that guests would not come and go frequently throughout the day and night, and transient visitors may have less regard for neighbours' amenity than individuals using the property as a principal home.

The location of the property, near a busy road with a variety of commercial uses, means the area experiences high levels of ambient noise. The STL use would therefore have a limited impact on the amenity of the surrounding area. However, the STL use would result in an unacceptable impact on the residents whose properties are accessed off the shared stair. The noise generated would be significantly different to the ambient background noise that neighbouring residents living within the building might reasonably expect, and consequently will have a detrimental effect on their living conditions and amenity. There could also be a negative impact on community cohesion and residents' safety.

The application has received objections which highlight the detrimental impact the STL use has already had on amenity in regards to both noise disturbance and residents' sense of security.

The additional servicing that operating a property as an STL requires compared to that of a residential use is also likely to result in an increase in disturbance, further impacting on neighbouring amenity. However, this would be of lesser impact as it is likely that servicing would be conducted during the daytime.

On balance, the noise generated by the proposed use would be significantly different from the ambient background noise that neighbouring residents within the building might reasonably expect, and consequently will have a significantly detrimental effect on their living conditions and amenity. There could also be a negative impact on community cohesion and residents' safety.

The proposal does not comply with NPF 4 policy 30(e) part (i) and LDP policy Hou 7.

Loss of residential accommodation

NPF 4 policy 30 (e) part (ii) requires that where there is a loss of residential accommodation, this will only be supported where the loss is outweighed by demonstrable local economic benefits.

Paragraph 220 of the LDP acknowledges that tourism is the biggest source of employment in Edinburgh, providing jobs for over 31,000 people. The use of the property by guests and the required maintenance and upkeep of STL properties are likely to result in a level of job creation and spend within the economy which can be classed as having an economic benefit.

The applicant's planning statement notes that the use as an STL allows for guest expenditure that increases the turnover of tourism related businesses and contributes to the local economy.

The established planning status of the property is for residential accommodation. Consequently, the use of the property as an STL would result the loss of this residential accommodation, which given the recognised need and demand for housing in Edinburgh it is important to retain, where appropriate.

Further, it is important to recognise that residential occupation of the property contributes to the economy, in terms of providing a home and the spend in relation to the use of the property as a home, including the use of local services and resultant employment, as well as by making contributions to the local community.

In this instance, it has not been sufficiently demonstrated that the loss of the residential accommodation is outweighed by demonstrable local economic benefits. As such, the proposal does not comply with NPF 4 30(e) part (ii).

Parking

No parking spaces are proposed. This is acceptable as there are no parking requirements for STLs.

The proposals comply with LDP Policies Tra 2 and Tra 3.

d) Are there any other material considerations which must be addressed?

The following material planning considerations have been identified:

Emerging policy context

On 5 April 2024 the Planning and Environmental Appeals Division published its report into the examination of the Proposed City Plan 2030 and supporting documents in terms of Section 19 of the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1997. On 27 June 2024 the Council accepted the recommendations and modifications required to the Proposed City Plan 2030.

On 10 September 2024 Scottish Ministers issued a Direction under section 20 (5) of the Town and Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1997 that City of Edinburgh Council consider modifying the proposed City of Edinburgh Local Development Plan 2, City Plan 2030 as detailed within the annexe to the direction. The required modifications are being reviewed and will be considered at a further meeting of the Planning Committee and then further Full Council.

At this time, in the context of the consideration of this particular application, limited weight can be given to the relevant policies of City Plan 2030 until the adoption of the plan.

Independent economic impact assessment

An independent economic impact assessment was commissioned by the Planning Service, and this resulted in a report on the Economic Impact of Residential and Short-Term Let Properties in Edinburgh (the Economic Report). This was reported to Planning Committee on 14 June 2023. The Committee noted that the findings of the report are one source of information that can be considered when assessing the economic impacts of short-term let planning applications and that given the report is considering generalities rather than the specifics of an individual case, it is likely that only limited weight can be attached to it as a material consideration when making planning application decisions. The study considered the economic impact of various types of properties in Edinburgh if used as a residential property as opposed to being used for short-term holiday lettings.

The Economic Report shows that there are positive economic impacts from the use of properties for both residential use and short-term let use. The Report found that in general the gross value added (GVA) effects are greater for residential uses than short-term lets across all property types and all areas. However, given it is considering generalities rather than the specifics of this individual case, only limited weight can be attached to it as a material consideration in the determination of this application.

Equalities and human rights

Due regard has been given to section 149 of the Equalities Act 2010. No impacts have been identified.

Consideration has been given to human rights. No impacts have been identified through the assessment and no comments have been received in relation to human rights.

Public representations

The application attracted three representations, including one from the Edinburgh Old Town Association, objecting to the proposals. A summary is provided below:

material considerations

- The proposals result in a loss of residential accommodation. Addressed in section c).
- The proposals have had a detrimental impact on neighbouring amenity due to noise. Addressed in section c).
- The proposals have had a detrimental impact on neighbouring amenity due to loss of safety and security. Addressed in section c).
- The proposals have changed the nature of a category A listed building. Addressed in section a).

non-material considerations

- The proposals could lead to guests misusing domestic appliances and causing flooding or other nuisance.
- The proposals could lead to guests misusing common appliances such as lifts, causing breakdowns.
- The proposals could lead to guests incorrectly using refuse and recycling facilities.

Conclusion in relation to identified material considerations

Identified material considerations have been assessed above and do not raise issues which outweigh the conclusion in relation to the development plan.

Overall conclusion

The proposal complies with Sections 59 and 64 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) (Scotland) Act 1997 as it will not harm the listed building or its setting and it will preserve or enhance the character or appearance of the conservation area.

The change of use of this property to an STL will have an unacceptable impact on neighbouring amenity. The loss of the residential accommodation has not been justified. Whilst it is recognised that there is an economic benefit to the City as a whole from the provision of visitor accommodation in this case it does not outweigh the loss of residential accommodation or the adverse impact on residential amenity. The proposal does not comply with the Development Plan policy NPF 4 policy 30(e) and LDP policy Hou 7. There are no material considerations that outweigh this conclusion. The proposal is unacceptable.

Section C - Conditions/Reasons/Informatives

The recommendation is subject to the following;

Reason for Refusal

1. The proposal is contrary to Local Development Plan Policy Hou 7 in respect of Inappropriate Uses in Residential Areas, as the use of this property as a short term let will have a materially detrimental effect on the living conditions and amenity of nearby residents.

2. The proposal is contrary to National Planning Framework Policy 30(e) in respect of Local Amenity and Loss of Residential Accommodation, as the use of this property as a short term let will result in an adverse impact on local amenity and the loss of a residential property that has not been justified.

Comment: Use as a short-term let will remove this property from the housing stock and deny potential residents a home.

The property shares access with other residential property.

Use of a flat as a short-term let leads to a sense of insecurity as residents do not know who they will encounter on their common stair.

Users of short-term lets are often noisy and active at anti-social hours, including arriving and leaving with luggage at all hours.

Use as a short-term let leads to a lack of security as guests often leave access doors open.

Users of short-term lets are often careless about the use of common appliances such as lifts and access systems, leading to expensive breakdowns.

Users of short-term lets are often careless about the use of household appliances, leading to flooding and other nuisances.

Users of short-term lets are unaware of local regulations and often leave rubbish on the stair and misuse recycling bins.

Comment Reasons:

Comment: There are too many short term holiday lets in the centre of Edinburgh and this is a serious constraint on those who need housing because they are living and working long term in the city. North Bridge has too many short term lets. The third floor has been somewhat of a sanctuary from the noise but still has an increasing number of short term lets, some airbnb, others with very poor agent management. It is important that the block does not just become a holiday block when it is so centrally placed for so much essential work.
